Christianity Divided

KARL BARTH,
HANS KÜNG & OTHERS

12/6 net

This is the first time that a book has appeared in English made up of essays by leading Roman Catholic and Protestant thinkers who are concerned to examine seriously the issues that divide us. It is only with this kind of study that we can achieve the vital common understanding that will prepare the way for unity.

Augustine the Bishop

F. van der MEER

90/- net

Augustine the Bishop is a translation of what has long been accepted as the definitive history of Augustine of Hippo's bishopric and the world in which he exercised it. Van der Meer, whose scholarship is widely acclaimed, reveals an acquaintance with archeological and Patristic sources which is unusually fascinating.

The Conscience of Israel

BRUCE VAWTER, C.M.

A companion to the successful Path Through Genesis, the author here deals with the great prophets up until the exile.

The Layman and his Conscience

RONALD KNOX

16/- net

This is the last of the books prepared by Mgr Knox before he died. A companion to the famous Retreat for Lay People it is a development of many of the ideas found in the earlier book. This is a popular and easily read book of devotion by one of the best known preachers of this century.
