

THE MAKING OF A CHRISTIAN

Charles Davis

8/6 net.

'Once again he has placed Catholics in his debt'.

Catholic Herald

'... as easy to read as it is provocative in its attack on our sluggish acceptance of what is involved in Baptism, Confirmation and Communion'.

Irish Independent

NEW HORIZONS IN CATHOLIC THOUGHT

Philip Scharper and others

9/- net.

We hear a lot about renewal in the Church, but what does it amount to? What is new in scripture, theology, liturgy, and Christian sociology? Here is a concise survey of the modern Christian revolution.

A HISTORY OF ISRAEL

Leonard Johnston

12/6 net.

'The book is a work of scholarship of especial value to other scholars devoted to Bible knowledge'.

Irish News

PAUL ON PREACHING

Jerome Murphy-O'Connor, O.P.

15/- net.

Preaching is a central activity in the Liturgy of the Word. Both clergy and laity must begin to take it seriously. Here is a study of the roots of much intelligent Christian thinking.

KIERKEGAARD AS THEOLOGIAN

Louis Dupré

12/6 net.

'... it is a remarkable achievement to have given so clear, and almost systematic, an outline of so diffuse, not to say, at first sight chaotic a thinker; and it will help those who are anxious to study one whose seminal influence in the development of existentialism cannot be exaggerated'.

UNDERSTANDING THE LORD'S PRAYER

H. van den Bussche

8/6 net.

This, our common prayer, must be seen in the context of the Incarnation. Father van den Bussche is concerned with the openness of the Son to the Father and our understanding of sonship and fatherhood. The simplicity and clarity of this book is a rare achievement by a scripture scholar.

THE NEW CREATION

Herbert McCabe, O.P.

'It is the kind of book for which there is an immense need, as remarkable for the vigour of its Christian thinking and its Scriptural liveliness as for its easy freedom from technical language'. Catholic Herald

A THEOLOGY OF HISTORY

Hans Urs von Balthasar

10/6 net.

Most of us have heard of Saving-History, but what is it? This famous theologian is concerned with the historical location, now and then, of the Incarnation.

SENSE, NONSENSE AND CHRISTIANITY

Hugo A. Meynell

'The idea that Christian teaching is nonsense has caught on amongst all kinds of people and as long as it persists we cannot expect those influenced by it to examine the credentials we offer for its truth. Mr. Meynell has written a book that is very important, genuinely helpful, and, let us hope, a portent of more to come'. Edward Sillem in the Tablet

MAN, INDUSTRY AND SOCIETY

R. F. Charles

15/- net.

How can men in all variety and equality best co-operate in industrial society for the common and individual good? For all its professional competence, this book is not a book of a computer-brained technocrat; it is an expression of intense human concern for persons.
