Lord Kilmuir

A Vignette

Neil Duxbury

This book examines the career and achievements of Lord Kilmuir (David Maxwell Fyfe), a British politician and former Lord Chancellor who is mainly remembered for some poor and unpopular decisions but who nevertheless made a considerable mark on twentieth-century legal development. Drawing on archival and other primary sources, this book considers Kilmuir's initiatives both at home and in Europe, and concludes by marking out his achievements as a pro-European Conservative who not only favoured the right of individual petition to a supranational, Convention-enforcing court but who also favoured Parliament legislating to replicate Convention norms in domestic law.

Neil Duxbury is Professor of English Law at the LSE.

Making Sense of Charity Law?

The 'New' Public Benefit Requirement

Mary Syngé

This book examines the 'public benefit requirement', which provides that a charity's purposes must be for the public benefit. This requirement was given statutory force by the Charities Act 2006, which also provided that 'public benefit' is to be construed in accordance with existing case law and not presumed. The author examines guidance published by the Charity Commission in 2008 and 2013 and measures its accuracy against principles extrapolated from case law, with a focus on fee-charging charities, and independent schools in particular. She also considers the implementation of the Charity Commission's public benefit assessments of independent schools during 2008-10.

Mary Syngé is a Lecturer in Law at Cardiff University.

The Jurisprudence

of Lord Hoffmann

A Festschrift in Honour of

Lord Leonard Hoffmann

Edited by Paul S Davies and Justine Pila

In this volume, current and past colleagues of Lord Hoffmann from the University of Oxford examine different aspects of his jurisprudence in diverse areas of private and public law. The contributions are testament to the clarity and creativity of his judicial and extra-judicial writings, to his enduring influence and extraordinary intellectual breadth, and to the respect and affection in which he is held.

Paul S Davies is an Associate Professor in Law and Justine Pila is University Lecturer in Intellectual Property Law, both at the University of Oxford.

Marriage Rites and Rights

Edited by Joanna Miles,

Perveez Mody and Rebecca Probert

Recent years have seen extensive discussion about the continuing retreat from marriage, the increasing demand for the right to marry from previously excluded groups, and the need to protect those who do not wish to marry from being forced to do so. At the same time, weddings are big business, and marriage ceremonies are increasingly elaborate. This interdisciplinary collection brings together scholars from numerous fields, including law, sociology, anthropology, psychology, demography, theology and art and design. Focusing on England and Wales, it explores in depth the specific issues arising from this jurisdiction's Anglican heritage, demographic development, current laws and social practices.

Joanna Miles is a Senior Lecturer and Perveez Mody is a Lecturer in Social Anthropology, both at the University of Cambridge. Rebecca Probert is a Professor at the University of Warwick.
