

at last: THE ARAB BLACKLIST UNVEILED

A must reference for libraries, colleges, businesses, international organizations.

Check your library files: until now, no valid reference has been available on the Arab Boycott, despite its significant political, economic and social implications.

Now, at last: The Arab Blacklist Unveiled, a research report on the Arab Boycott's history, operation and effects on individual companies, plus an analysis of the U.S. anti-Boycott movement and the position of the Carter Administration.

By Edward Hotelling, Former CBS News Bureau Chief in the Middle East

The work includes the 25-page research report and a 250-page appendix of some 5,000 international companies on the hitherto secret blacklists. Ships and firms are included as are the names of firms liberated from the blacklist.

The appended international blacklists, covering 1971 through December 31, 1976, include the privately published Arab Boycott Office master list and government listings of Kuwait, Bahrain and Lebanon.

Turkish Folk Music from Asia Minor

BÉLA BARTÓK

Edited by Benjamin Suchoff

This book is the most substantial and thorough musicological analysis of Turkish folk music ever to be published and the first such study in English. It reproduces in facsimile Bartók's autograph record of 87 vocal and instrumental peasant melodies of the Yürük tribes, a nomadic people in southern Anatolia. Bartók's introduction includes his annotations of the melodies, texts, and translations and establishes a connection between Old Hungarian and Old Turkish folk music. New York Bartók Archive Studies in Musicology, 7 • $17.50
