WHOLE-TIME COURSES FOR POSTGRADUATE STUDENTS

August 9th-November 12th, 1965.

Basic Sciences Class for Part I D.L.O. students.

This consists of approximately 50 lecture/demonstrations on the anatomy of the head, neck, thorax and brain; 20 lectures covering the physiological aspects; 6 on applied pharmacology; and 8 on histological and pathological and bacteriological subjects. Facilities are also available for dissection of the relevant parts, and this occupies about 120 hours.

November 10th-23rd, 1965.

Practical Revision Class for Part II D.L.O. students.

This is intended for those students who are well advanced in preparation for the examination and need only the opportunity for a final review. The class includes demonstrations of selected clinical cases and viva voce examinations.

October 11th-23rd, 1965.

Advanced Revision Course for students taking higher surgical examinations.

This is limited to senior students who are about to take the Final examination. In addition to a series of lecture/discussions at the appropriate level in the Specialty and in related branches of general surgery, there are a number of clinical and viva voce sessions and arrangements for the setting and correction of test papers.

General Notes

A copy of the syllabus giving full information about the teaching and research facilities provided by the Institute, and a detailed programme of any of the courses listed above and of the short courses on specific aspects which are arranged from time to time can be obtained from the Secretary-Administrator.

The clinical practice can be joined at any time by individual arrangement with the Dean. This includes daily practical teaching in the clinics and operating theatres and ward-rounds and special demonstrations weekly.

Demonstrations of clinical cases, open clinical lectures and clinical pathological conferences are held at regular intervals throughout the year, and are open without fee to all trainees in the Specialty. A list giving dates and times is obtainable in the Secretary-Administrator's office.

DISEASES OF THE EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Second Edition

*Edited by W. G. SCOTT-BROWN, C.V.O.,
M.D., B.Ch., F.R.C.S., JOHN BALLANTYNE,
F.R.C.S., D.L.O. and JOHN GROVES, M.B.B.S., F.R.C.S.*

Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat was compiled as a comprehensive textbook for advanced and postgraduate students, with sufficient detail for those taking advanced examinations. It is also a very suitable reference for use in general or specialist practice.

For the new edition, the Editor, W. G. Scott-Brown, has been joined by two colleagues, John Ballantyne and John Groves, the sections on physiology have been extended and improved, and the chapters on the ear have been considerably altered and enlarged to include fresh ideas and techniques associated with both infective and non-infective ear conditions. The chapters on endoscopy have been rearranged to make the subject more practical; neoplasms of the larynx and pharynx have been separated and new chapters on voice and speech have been introduced.

The index has also been completely revised and an additional feature is the inclusion of a symptom index, which will be particularly useful to candidates for higher examinations and to general practitioners.

The new edition of Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat—authoritative, comprehensive and up-to-date—will be welcomed by everyone with an interest in this field.
