Patterns of Discovery

N. R. HANSON

An enquiry into the conceptual foundations of science. Using historical examples, Professor Hanson investigates the logical pattern behind the finding of theories in science. 'This is a rich and exciting book, an object lesson in the fruitfulness of the marriage of the history with the philosophy of science.' Philosophical Quarterly.

Kepler's Dream

JOHN LEAR

The full text and notes of Johannes Kepler's Somnium, Sive Astronomia Lunaris, translated into English for the first time. It describes a voyage to the moon in allegorical terms, because Kepler wished to interest fellow scientists without offending the Church. Mr Lear, who is science editor of the Saturday Review, interprets the Dream and assesses its scientific content.

THE BRITISH SOCIETY FOR THE HISTORY OF SCIENCE

THE objects of the Society are to further the study of the history of science, by holding meetings for the reading and discussion of papers, and by facilitating the publication of relevant material.

The British Journal for the History of Science is the official organ of the Society.

Meetings are held in the Science Museum, Exhibition Road, South Kensington, London, S.W.7, usually in January, February, March, May, June, October and November.

Membership is open to all persons approved by the Council of the Society, and elected at an Ordinary Meeting. The annual subscription is at present £2 10s. and includes a free issue of the Society's Journal, which appears in June and December each year.

Those who wish to join the Society should write to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. A. Chaldecott, Science Museum, South Kensington, London, S.W.7.

Papers for inclusion in the Journal should be submitted to the Hon. Editor, Dr. M. P. Crosland, Department of Philosophy, The University, Leeds 2, from whom instructions may be obtained concerning the presentation and documentation of papers. All communications on editorial matters, and books for review, should be addressed to the Hon. Editor.

Particulars regarding advertising in the Journal may be obtained from the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. D. Chilton, Science Museum, South Kensington, London, S.W.7.

The British Journal for the History of Science is published by the Society. Four parts constitute one Volume; each part contains approximately 96 pages. The cover of each issue has a consecutive number for ease of collation in subsequent binding, e.g. No. 16 will be numbered: Vol. iv Part iv No. 16, and No. 17 will be: Vol. v Part i No. 17.

Order Forms, with lists of contents of Parts already published, are obtainable from the Hon. Publications Secretary, Mr. F. H. C. Butler, Ravensmead, Keston, Kent, to whom Orders for the Journal should be sent.

Whole Cloth Binding Cases lettered in Gold on spine and particulars of binding costs may be obtained from HEADLEY BROTHERS LTD., INVICTA PRESS, ASHFORD, KENT.
