Professor P. H. Winfield, K.C., LL.D., F.B.A., has retired from the editorship of this journal, which he has held for twenty years. The Cambridge University Law Society desire to record their gratitude for all that he has done for them, both as editor and otherwise. They are glad to know that the reason for his retirement is pressure of literary work, and not any abatement of his indefatigable energy. They sincerely hope that there are many years to come in which legal science in general, and this journal in particular, will be enriched by his learning.

Our readers will rejoice that our first editor, Professor A. L. Goodhart, has received the rare distinction of an Honorary Knighthood in the Order of the British Empire, in appreciation of his outstanding devotion to the common interests of Great Britain and the United States, both during and after the war. His services to legal science were recognised some years ago by his appointment as King's Counsel.
