

OUR LATEST RELEASES

David Lloyd George A Political Life

By Bentley B. Gilbert

Volume One: The Architect of Change, 1863-1912

"The breadth of Professor Gilbert's research, his ability to pull together new information from an enormous range of minor as well as major sources, is phenomenal... With all this, Gilbert's is quite simply the fullest account of Lloyd George's early career that we have had or are ever likely to have."

—The London Times

"David Lloyd George: A Political Life comes from an eminent American historian whose earlier work on the making of social policy showed a mastery of administrative detail. The first volume takes Lloyd George from Llanystumdwy to No. 11 Downing Street and sees him inaugurating important welfare legislation, culminating in the National Insurance Act of 1911."

—The Times Literary Supplement

544 pages. $40.00

The Conscription Controversy in Great Britain, 1900-18

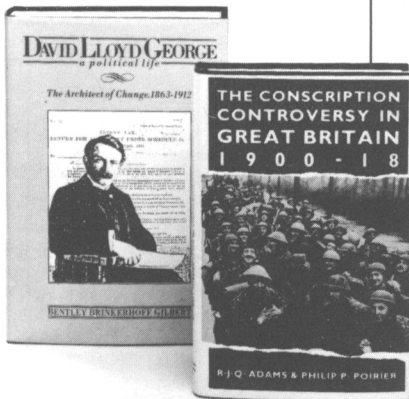

By R.J.Q. Adams and
Philip P. Poirier

"An important and original contribution... this is narrative history at its best."

—Peter Stansky, Stanford University

In the anxious decade preceding the Great War, a small but determined band of self-proclaimed patriots sought to make mandatory military service the law of the land in Britain. The Conscription Controversy in Great Britain sheds new light on this hitherto little-known chapter in the Great War, examining the men and ideas which gave this struggle its remarkable cast. Adams and Poirier demonstrate the conscription movement's full significance in British politics by showing that it was an early example of the growth of State interventionism in modern liberal democracies.

288 pages. $30.00

Available from your local bookseller, or

OHIO
STATE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

1050 Carmack Road
Columbus, Ohio 43210
614-292-6930

When ordering, please add $2.00
for postage and handling.

FALL 1987

WAR, ARMED FORCES AND SOCIETY

A new series, international in scope, which focusses on the modern era. Although primarily historical, the series will draw upon and be of interest to the range of disciplines concerned with the expanding field of war studies.

The army, politics and society in Germany 1933-1946 Studies in the army's relationship to Nazism

KLAUS - JÜRGEN MÜLLER

Introduction by William Carr

The development and main features of the German army's relationship to Nazism are examined in a larger historical perspective of social and political development in Germany since 1871
£19.50 hardback

Troubled days of peace

Mountbatten and South East Asia Command, 1945-46

PETER DENNIS

Concentrates on the two areas where Mountbatten faced the most difficult challenges in the post-surrender period and describes his attempts to come to terms with the new political conditions there

General Editor Ian F. W. Beckett, Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst
Editorial Board Dr. John Childs, University of Leeds
Dr. John Gooch, University of Lancaster
Professor Douglas Porch, The Citadel Military College of South Carolina
Dr. Geoffrey Till, Royal Naval College, Greenwich

while trying to wind up the war against Japan.
£27.50 hardback

The politics of manpower 1914-1918

KEITH GRIEVES

Examines how the success of the British government's conduct of the First World War depended ultimately on the effective management of the labour supply for the range of diverse war work.

£25.00 (approx) hardback

Published December 1987

FORTHCOMING

The Commonwealth armies Manpower and organisation in two world wars F. W. Perry
The Commonwealth armies and the Korean war J. C. Grey
The Kitchener armies Peter Simkins

manchester
UNIVERSITY PRESS Oxford Road, Manchester M13 9PL

All titles are available in North America from
St. Martin's Press, 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY10010

This publication is available in microform.

University Microfilms International reproduces this publication in microform: microfiche and 16mm or 35mm film. For information about this publication or any of the more than 13,000 titles we offer, complete and mail the coupon to: University Microfilms International, 300 N. Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor, MI 48106. Call us toll-free for an immediate response: 800-521-3044. Or call collect in Michigan, Alaska and Hawaii: 313-761-4700.

University Microfilms International

Please send information about these titles:

Name _____
Company/Institution _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Phone (____) _____

Oxford

Victoria's Year

English Literature and Culture, 1837-1838

RICHARD L. STEIN, University of Oregon

Focusing on the first twelve months of Victoria's reign, Stein examines a wide variety of cultural products—visual art and architecture, statistics and maps, scientific writing, journalism and literature—to reconstruct the thoughts and experiences of early Victorians.

1987 352 pp.; halftones $29.95

The Precariously Privileged

A Professional Family in Victorian London

ZUZANNA SHONFIELD

"Thorough, well-researched and written with a crisp professionalism."—New Society. "Inside [Shonfield's] record is a classic 19th-century novel trying to get out.... She writes with style, verve and humanity."—The Listener. Based on the vividly descriptive diaries of Jeannette Marshall, daughter of an eminent Victorian anatomist, this book reconstructs the Marshall family's meteoric rise from provincial obscurity to the summit of late Victorian society.

1987 288 pp.; plates $34.00

Britain and the World, 1815-1986

A Dictionary of International Relations

DAVID WEIGALL, Cambridgeshire College of Arts and Technology

Arranged alphabetically and containing over 600 entries, this comprehensive reference work provides easy access to the realm of British foreign policy and international relations from the end of the Napoleonic Wars to the present.

1987 272 pp.; maps $29.95

Medical Care and the General Practitioner 1750-1850

IRVINE LOUDON, University of Oxford

"A formidably well marshalled array of fact. Painstakingly researched and pleasantly written, the book traces with impressive erudition the evolution of general practice."—British Medical Journal. "Fascinating.... A work of very considerable scholarship."—The Lancet. Drawing from an array of manuscript sources, this book examines the large group of rank and file medical practitioners in England during the late 18th and early 19th centuries—their background, training, social and economic status, scientific methods, and medical challenges.

1987 420 pp. $54.00

Now available in paperback

Revel, Riot and Rebellion

Popular Politics and Culture in England 1603-1660

DAVID UNDERDOWN, Yale University

"Superb... trailblazing."—Christopher Hill. "Eminently readable, [Underdown's] study should serve as a model for future inquiries into popular history."—Choice. David Underdown shows that the English Revolution was, above all, the result of profound disagreements among people of all social levels about the moral basis of their communities.

1986 (paper 1987) 336 pp.; plates paper $9.95 cloth $39.95

Prices and publication dates are subject to change.

To order, send check or money order to:

Humanities and Social Sciences Marketing Department

Oxford University Press

200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016

Notice

The Department of History of Appalachian State University offers to a qualified graduate student an excellent opportunity to study for a Master of Arts degree in History and learn about scholarly publishing by working as an editorial assistant for Albion, a quarterly journal of British studies. The assistant works with the editor in managing the production and editorial operations of the journal. This internship will prepare a student for career opportunities in publishing and/or to continue advanced study in history.

The successful candidate must demonstrate conscientious and accurate work habits, have good language skills, be proficient in typing, and capable of working with word processing and data base applications at least at an elementary level. He or she must have a knowledge and appreciation of the humanities and the discipline of history. He or she must commit to hold this internship for two years, including summer terms, to begin by August 1, 1988. The candidate may enroll for the M.A. in any field of history.

The internship carries a stipend of $4,000 per year with an additional waiver for out-of-state tuition. Additional financial support may be provided to the successful candidate. All candidates must make an application for graduate study in History to the Cratis D. Williams Graduate School, Appalachian State University, Boone, NC 28608. In addition, all candidates must submit separately a letter explaining why the internship is desired. This letter and two supporting letters of recommendation must be received by May 1, 1988. Send the letter and recommendations only to: Dr. Michael J. Moore, Department of History, Appalachian State University, Boone, NC 28608.

the edwin mellen press

The Edwin Mellen Press, founded in 1974, is a specialized publisher of scholarly and scientific books. It fills the niche created as traditional university presses seek increasingly to publish books of general interest, thereby leaving the publishing of monographs, bibliographies, and translations to the new STM ("scholarly, technical, medical") publishers like The Edwin Mellen Press.

The publishing program of The Edwin Mellen Press consciously imitates certain programs of European, especially German, scholarly publishers. For example, it establishes continuing monograph series in specific areas of scholarship and solicits library subscriptions for them. At present, The Edwin Mellen Press sustains over forty such series in history and all areas of the humanities and social sciences, plus business, archaeology, and health and human services.

Mellen's main offices, where over twenty staff are located, is in Lewiston, New York (an important center of American history and art). In addition to its Lewiston office, The Edwin Mellen Press also has a Canadian division, established three years ago. In 1987, The Edwin Mellen Press opened a European office in Great Britain and, in 1988, will open a West-African division, based in Nigeria.

The sole purpose of The Edwin Mellen Press is to promote and publish scholarship—and "contribution to scholarship" is its sole criterion for accepting a manuscript for publication. The press does not support any ideology or scholarly "school." We invite your inquiries and hope for the opportunity to become your publisher.

british history

manuscript proposal form / the edwin mellen press

The Edwin Mellen Press invites manuscript proposals for scholarly works in British History. We will answer within two weeks if you provide us with the following information:

1. General topic or title of proposed work.
2. Specific contribution of this work to the field of scholarship.
3. Describe contents of work by noting major parts or chapters.
4. Explain your competence to write this work (education, publications).
5. Present state of manuscript and projected completion date.
6. Your name, address, phone number (day and evenings).
7. If you have questions, please note them.

Send to Paul Saito, editor, The Edwin Mellen Press, 240 Portage Road, Lewiston, NY 14092. Or, call (716) 754 8566.