

Latin American Research Review

Studies, as of September 1968, is Stanley Ross, formerly chairman of the history department and acting dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, State University of New York at Stony Brook. Three Latin American scholars are currently holding visiting appointments: Restituto Ferrer, of the Universidad de Zulia, Venezuela, is conducting courses in business administration during the academic year 1968-69; Juan Friede, of the Universidad Nacional de Colombia, is directing graduate seminars in the history department during the fall 1968; and Risieri Frondizi, ex-Rector of the Universidad de Buenos Aires, returns to the Texas campus after a visiting professorship at UCLA, to teach in the departments of Spanish and history and philosophy of education during the academic year 1968-69. Extending his stay from that reported in LARR III:2, p. 198, Alberta de Lacerda continues to conduct Portuguese classes through May 1969. British scholar Bryan R. Roberts, who has been attached to the Seminario de Integración Social Guatemalteca, is a visiting lecturer in the department of anthropology during the fall 1968.

Almir de Campos Bruneti, of the Universidade de Brasília, will be extending his stay as visiting professor of Romance languages at Yale University from that reported in LARR III:1, p. 169; he will remain until June 1969.
