Documentary Studies in History

The University of Utah has begun publication of a new series, Documentary Studies in History. The series is edited by Jacob Geerlings and Roger M. Haigh. The first volume in this series, The Formation of the Chilean Oligarchy, 1810–1821 by Roger M. Haigh, appeared in 1972. See p. 187 for details of this title.

Volumes in progress include: The American Revolution: A Documentary History by Larry R. Gerlach; History of Monasteries on Lesbos by Jacob Geerlings; and Studies in the Byzantine Text of the Gospels by Jacob Gerlings. For additional information write: Roger M. Haigh, Department of History, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah 84112.

Family Planning Programs in Central America

The Instituto Centroamericano de Administración de Empresas (INCAE) is publishing a series of studies on the management of family planning programs in Costa Rica, Nicaragua, and El Salvador, as part of the project supported by the Ford Foundation. The Centro de Asesoramiento, located in INCAE, advises the government of Nicaragua on the reconstruction taking place since the earthquake of December 23, 1972, which destroyed the city of Managua. The studies published by the Center, as well as those on the management of family planning programs, are available on an exchange basis from: Biblioteca, Instituto Centroamericano de Administración de Empresas (INCAE), Apartado Postal 2485, Managua, Nicaragua.

Brookings Publications

Upon payment of $100.00 annually an individual, library, or organization may receive all of the Brookings publications issued during any 12-month period. Annual subscribers are also entitled to a 25% discount on all orders placed for other Brookings books. They typically receive as part of their subscription: 15–25 new books, 3 issues of Brookings Papers on Economic Activity, 15–20 research report booklets, 20–25 reprints of timely articles, and the Bulletin, a quarterly newsletter.

A current catalogue describing more than 150 publications is available on request. Teachers receive an academic discount of 10% and may request 90-day examination copies. For additional information write: Publications Sales, The Brookings Institution, 1775 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Latin American International Affairs

The Center for Inter-American Relations has announced the publication of a biennial series devoted exclusively to Latin American international relations. The new series will be co-edited by Ronald G. Hellman, the Center's Director of Public Affairs, and H. Jon Rosenbaum, City College, CUNY. Each volume of this series will be published and distributed by Sage Publications, Beverly Hills.

The first volume, to appear in early 1975, will emphasize the nexus between foreign policy and domestic politics in Latin America. Also included will be articles dealing with the foreign policies of the major Latin American nations, inter-American foreign policy disputes, and the relations of the Latin American nations with the countries outside the Hemisphere.

Each volume of the series will contain commissioned articles by leading authorities and by promising young writers. Unsolicited manuscripts will also be considered and should be submitted to: The Editors, Latin American International Affairs, Center for Inter-American Relations, 680 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10021.

Latin America: Sights and Sounds

The National Consortium of Latin American Studies (CLASP) has recently published Latin America: Sights and Sounds, A Guide to Motion Pictures and Music for College Courses. This volume analyzes and provides information about classroom movies which deal with Latin America. The book was prepared by Jane M. Loy, University of Massachusetts, and was written primarily with the historian in mind, although it would be useful to instructors in other disciplines. Copies are available from the LASA Secretariat at a cost of $1.50 to LASA members and $2.50 to non-members. Write: LASA, University of Florida, Box 13362, University Station, Gainesville, Florida 32601.

Mesoamerican Community Studies

Late in 1973 the Princeton University Library issued, in mimeograph form, "Mesoamerica Community Studies, 1930-1970: A Bibliography," compiled by K. B. Warren. The bibliography is 32 pages long and may be obtained from the Princeton University Library, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Mexican Law and Legal Literature

The Library of Congress has recently published A Revised Guide to the Law and Legal Literature of Mexico, superseding a 1945 work originally published as one of a series of 10 guides to Latin American law. Helen L. Clagett and David M. Valderrama, Hispanic Law Division of the Law Library, have co-authored the new 463-page book. Lewis C. Coffin, former Law Librarian, instituted and authorized the revision of the guides, starting with the one for Mexico. Work is now in progress on the revision by David M. Valderrama of the guide for Peru.

The new Mexican guide combines legislative history and commentaries on the codified and statutory fields of law with exhaustive bibliographical footnotes to the texts and other forms of literature. The work is divided into 10 major fields of Mexican law, which are further broken down into a number of subdivisions, topics, and subtopics. The revised guide (ISBN 0-8444-0047-5) is available by mail for $6.95 from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 (Stock Number 3001-0049; Catalog No. LC 1.16:38). Foreign orders should include 25% additional for mailing.

Symposium on the Scientific and Technological Gap in Latin America

The Institute for International Studies of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has published the Proceedings of its Symposium on the Scientific and Technological Gap in Latin America. The Symposium was conducted at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, April 17-19, 1972, and reported in LARR VII:3. Copies of the Proceedings are available at $5.00 per copy from the Institute for International Studies, 1034 Old Father Hall, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508.

NEW AND SUSPENDED PERIODICALS

Volume IX of the Boletín Estadístico de América Latina/ Statistical Bulletin for Latin America appeared in 1973. The United Nations has published the Bulletin twice yearly since 1964. Each issue of the Bulletin sold for $5.50. From 1973 onwards it will be replaced by the Statistical Yearbook for Latin America. The first volume of the new Statistical Yearbook will contain statistical series for the period 1960–1972.

The Caribbean and Central American Letter collects news on tourism, construction, business, and industry from this whole area and publishes the information in monthly reports. William H. Allen, Jr., is the publisher. The subscription rate is $48.00 annually. For more information write: William H. Allen, Jr., Caribbean and Central American Letter, 1101 Rudd Avenue, Auburn, Alabama 36830.

The Institute of Caribbean Studies of the University of Puerto Rico has decided to renew publication of the Caribbean Monthly Bulletin which was discontinued in 1969. The Bulletin includes contributions in Spanish, French, and English and presents systematic news coverage in the areas of economic, social, cultural, and political aspects of life in the Caribbean region. Short topical news analyses by Caribbean scholars are also published. Humberto García edits the Bulletin. The main purpose of the Caribbean Monthly Bulletin is to present an objective and impartial report of Caribbean affairs and in this way endeavor to bridge the traditional isolation existing among the Caribbean communities and to foster the growing feeling of a new Caribbean consciousness. For additional information contact: Caribbean Monthly Bulletin, Institute of Caribbean Studies, University of Puerto Rico, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico 00931.

The Journal of Spanish Studies: Twentieth Century is published by a non-profit corporation with the support of Colorado State University and Kansas State University. The journal publishes scholarly articles in English and Spanish dealing with the literatures of Spain and Spanish America in this century, with emphasis on the esthetic characteristics of literary works. The periodical will appear three times annually (Spring, Fall, and Winter) beginning in 1973. Manuscripts are welcome. Subscription is $6 per year ($11 for 2 years, $15 for 3 years). The editors are Vicente Cabrera, Colorado State, and Luis González-Del-Valle, Kansas State. Direct all communications to the Journal of Spanish Studies: Twentieth Century, Department of Modern Languages, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas 66506.

The World Affairs Council of Northern California sponsors a new publication entitled, Latin American Report. A special grant has made it possible to initiate the project in 1973. However, subscription support will be needed to sustain the publication. The cost of a yearly subscription is $12.00 ($18.00 for copies sent air mail outside the U.S.). The Report provides a monthly, country-by-country review, drawn from Latin American sources. Carole Merten is editor, and Alan N. Livingston is publication manager of the periodical. For more information write: World Affairs Council of Northern California, (A non-profit organization), 406 Sutter Street, San Francisco, CA 94108.

The Union of Radical Latin Americanists (URLA) Newsletter resumed publication in October with a new and expanded format. This Newsletter serves as an informational network between Latin Americanists and provides a forum for political discussion on the strategies and priorities of the "anti-imperialist" movement, especially as it relates to Latin America. The Newsletter is published a minimum of three times a year. Annual subscription rates are $2.50 for low income, $5.00 for high income, and $12.00 for institutions. Write to URLA, c/o LAPAG, 2205 San Antonio Street, Austin, Texas 78705.
