The Making of Environmental Law

RICHARD J. LAZARUS

"A wonderful book. Not only does Lazarus elegantly and comprehensively recount the history of the law's development over the past three decades, but he brings to the story a remarkably well-informed and sophisticated appreciation of how the political/legal system works. Having been in some of the trenches that he surveys, I can attest that he has got it just right."—Joseph L. Sax

Cloth $35.00

For the Many or the Few

The Initiative, Public Policy, and American Democracy

JOHN G. MATSUSAKA

"A remarkable achievement. This is the first comprehensive scientific examination of how voter initiatives affect public policy in the United States. This extremely well-written book deserves attention not only from academics but also from anyone who cares about direct democracy's impact on public policy."
—Arthur Lupia, author of Stealing the Initiative

Cloth $29.00

The Two Reconstructions

The Struggle for Black Enfranchisement

RICHARD M. VALELLY

"Blends sophisticated theory, nuanced history, creative analysis, and smooth writing. . . . The argument is powerful and original, and the scholarship is nothing short of dazzling."
—James A. Morone, author of Hellfire Nation

Paper $22.50

The Most Activist Supreme Court in History

The Road to Modern Judicial Conservatism

THOMAS M. KECK

"Superb. A thoughtful, comprehensive, and balanced account of the rise of modern conservative activism in the United States Supreme Court. Keck's The Most Activist Supreme Court in History is both an indispensable history of post–New Deal constitutional theory and an impressive 'new institutionalist' analysis of recent constitutional change. It should be essential reading for anyone interested in American constitutionalism or Supreme Court politics."—Howard Gillman, author of The Votes That Counted

SEXUALITY RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

Postdoctoral Fellowships on Sexuality & Policy

In recognition of its 10th and final year of providing fellowship support, the SRFP will be awarding postdoctoral fellowships to outstanding scholars and other professionals working in a variety of settings, whose research in sexuality focuses on policy analysis, policy development and/or implementation that is relevant to local, state, or national concerns. No dissertation fellowships will be awarded.

The 2005-2006 competition will target more advanced sexuality scholars and practitioners as demonstrated by academic/administrative position, publication record and research experience. More junior scholars demonstrating sufficient research experience are eligible to apply. Prior direct policy experience is not required.

Fellows should submit applications in partnership with another scholar/professional who will function in the advisory capacity of Research Consultant. The Research Consultant will provide substantive expertise to the Fellow in specific areas of research methodology/design and/or policy, and provide overall assistance and advice.

ELIGIBILITY

The competition is open to scholars who already hold the Ph.D. or its equivalent from an accredited United States or foreign university at the time of the application deadline. In order to ensure a diverse pool, applicants must have received the Ph.D. degree no more than 10 years prior to the date of the deadline submission and cannot hold a tenured faculty position.

Policy makers, advocates, service providers, and program administrators who conduct research in various settings—such as business, federal/state government, and community settings—are also invited to apply.

STIPEND

Fellowship awards will be given to six Postdoctoral Fellows for a one-year period and will include stipends based on the awardee's previous year's salary and professional standing, for a minimum of $50,000 and up to $60,000 to cover research costs and living expenses. For each fellowship awarded, an additional $5,000 will be awarded to the Fellow's Research Consultant, in compensation for his/her contribution to the research partnership.

Applications must be received on or before December 15, 2004. Applications will be available online at www.ssrc.org/fellowships/sexuality.

Racial Culture

A Critique

Richard T. Ford

What is black culture? Does it have an essence? What do we lose and gain by assuming that it does, and by building our laws accordingly? In this bold and provocative book, Richard Ford argues against law reform proposals that would attempt to apply civil rights protections to "cultural difference." With specific examples, he addresses the adverse effects of multicultural rhetoric and multicultural rights on their supposed beneficiaries.

"Racial Culture is a brave, disturbing, and important book by a first-class legal scholar. Richard Ford challenges every left and liberal shibboleth about racial justice in contemporary multicultural societies, while arguing relentlessly for racial justice."—Wendy Brown, University of California, Berkeley

Law, Hierarchy, and Offensive Public Speech

Laura Beth Nielsen

Offensive street speech—racist and sexist remarks that can make targets feel both psychologically and physically threatened—is surprisingly common in our society. Is this kind of talk so detestable that it should be banned under law? Or should it be protected by the First Amendment right to free speech?

In this elegantly written book, Laura Beth Nielsen pursues answers by probing the legal consciousness of ordinary citizens. Using a combination of field observations and in-depth interviews, she surveys 100 men and women, some of whom are routine targets of offensive speech, about how such speech affects their lives. Her findings lead to some surprising conclusions.

Adolescent Development and Legal Policy

Double Jeopardy

Adolescent Offenders with Mental Disorders

Thomas Grisso

With a Foreword by Franklin E. Zimring

“Thomas Grisso has the authority of a scholar working at the height of his powers. With penetrating insights expressed in uncluttered prose, Double Jeopardy illuminates the way forward for both clinicians and lawyers when they confront offenders who are not just very young, but also very disordered. A tour de force if I’ve ever read one.”

—John Monahan, University of Virginia

Cloth $29.00

An American Travesty

Legal Responses to Adolescent Sexual Offending

Franklin E. Zimring

With a Foreword by Francis A. Allen

“An American Travesty is an entirely original work. Until this book, there had been no systematic treatment in the literature of adolescent sexual offenders or the appropriate legal and policy responses. Clear, readable, succinct, and provocative, An American Travesty will fill a gaping void in juvenile justice and criminal policy.”—Barry C. Feld, School of Law, University of Minnesota

Skepticism and Freedom

A Modern Case for Classical Liberalism

RICHARD A. EPSTEIN

"A provocative book that promotes classical liberalism and that will delight and fortify its adherents, while troubling and disappointing its detractors."

—Ronald J. Terchek, Law and Politics Book Review

Paper $20.00

Lincoln's Constitution

Daniel Farber

"Farber does not limit his defense of Lincoln to technicalities. He stresses also Lincoln's character; his unique ability to combine a 'ruthless pragmatism and a fidelity to principle;' his moral judgment, courage, and humanity; his 'unshakeable determination combined with a shrewd sense of reality.'"

Beyond Therapy

Biotechnology and the Pursuit of Happiness

THE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON BIOETHICS

This clear, concise, and groundbreaking report examines the reach—and potential—of biotechnology in every aspect of our daily lives. Accompanied by a foreword by Leon R. Kass, an introduction by William Safire, and additional comments from member scientists on the President's Council on Bioethics, this report considers those possibilities in all their breadth and complexity.

Neuroethics

Mapping the Field

Edited by STEVEN J. MARCUS

This volume contains the proceedings of a two-day multidisciplinary conference on the ethical implications of brain research organized by Stanford University and the University of California, San Francisco. Leaders in neuroscience, journalism, law, and philosophy, among other fields, engaged in a freewheeling debate on the social and individual effects of the research.
