Russia's Far East: New Dynamics in Asia Pacific & Beyond

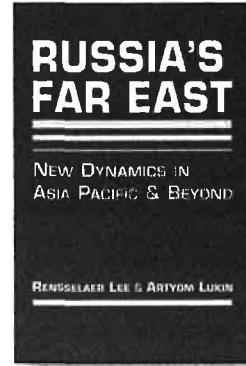

RENSSELAER LEE AND ARTYOM LUKIN

“A reminder that Russia's future may indeed lie to the East.... A valuable contribution.” —Choice

“Excellent.... A clear, compact and comprehensive introduction to the Russian Far East and its position in the international system.” —Nigel Gould-Davies, International Affairs

“Solidly researched, well written ... and makes a real contribution to our understanding of this remote yet important region.”

—Charles E. Ziegler, University of Louisville

The strategically pivotal Russian Far East—a vast expanse stretching from Lake Baikal to the Pacific Ocean—is notable not only for its rich natural resources, but also for the economic challenges, internal dissent, and risks of foreign encroachment that it faces. Rensselaer Lee and Artyom Lukin explore the history, economics, and politics of the RFE in the context of its geopolitical significance both regionally and internationally.

New & Forthcoming in Slavic Studies from Academic Studies Press

Dostoevsky beyond Dostoevsky

Science, Religion, Philosophy

EDITED BY VLADIMIR GOLSTEIN & SVETLANA EVDOKIMOVA

Series: Ars Rossica

August 2016 | 9781618115263 | $79.00 | Cloth

This volume deals with Dostoevsky's wide-ranging interests and engagement with philosophical, religious, political, economic, and scientific discourses of his time. It includes contributions by prominent Dostoevsky scholars, social scientists, and scholars of religion and philosophy who place Dostoevsky's oeuvre in their historical context.

The Creation of National Spaces in a Pluricultural Region

The Case of Prussian Lithuania

VASILIJUS SAFRONOVAS

Series: Lithuanian Studies

September 2016 | 9781618115249 | $99.00 | Cloth

This volume deals with the spatial concepts that two erstwhile neighboring cultures, Lithuanian and German, associated with one physical space—a Lithuanian region in Prussia. Covering the period of five centuries, it explores how, when, and why these concepts have developed and transformed, regulating spatial imagination of several generations.

Spatial Concepts of Lithuania in the Long Nineteenth Century

EDITED BY DARIUS STALIŪNAS

Series: Lithuanian Studies

October 2016 | 9781618115324 | $119.00 | Cloth

This book deals with the spatial concepts of Lithuania and other geo-images that either "competed" in the nineteenth century with the term "Lithuania" or were of a different taxonomic level (Samogitia, Prussia's Lithuania, Lithuania Minor, Poland, the Western region, the Northwest Region, Lita/Lite, Belarus, East Prussia, etc.).

Complicating the Female Subject

Gender, National Myths, and Genre in Polish Women's Inter-War Drama

JOANNA KOT

Series: Polish Studies

November 2016 | 9781618115423 | $89.00 | Cloth

In the 1930s, seven plays by Polish women writers created a flurry of excitement and condemnation as these women dared to question national myths, reinterpret the definition of subject, and subvert genre expectations. This study interrogates the feminism of these shocking dramas.

Fifty-Five Years with Russia

MAGNUS LJUNGGREN

Series: Studies in Russian and Slavic Literatures, Cultures, and History

October 2016 | 9781618115386 | $25.00 | Paperback

Professor Magnus Ljunggren looks back over his meetings with leading members of the Russian intelligentsia and their struggle with the totalitarian structures of Soviet and post-Soviet society. His memoirs reflect on how his study of Silver Age culture and his commitment to the Soviet civil rights movement have stimulated each other and contributed to a deeper understanding of Russia's distinctive character.
