

OES LISTS POSITIONS AVAILABLE IN AFRICA

Overseas Educational Service of Education and World Affairs, a non-profit, private agency supported by the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation, assists colleges in developing nations in their effort to recruit well-qualified American faculty. Positions are usually two-year teaching assignments with English as the language of instruction. The minimum requirement to register with OES-EWA is an MA with college teaching experience.

OES-EWA attempts to obtain funds from foundations for on-going U.S. expenses to supplement the basic salary offered by the colleges. Individuals who wish further information on OES-EWA and details on registering for any of the positions should write to:
