
A Capital Approach to American Business History

Business Enterprise in American History

Mansel G. Blackford and
K. Austin Kerr

Both of The Ohio State University
456 pages • paper • 1986

The Blackford/Kerr survey develops two clear themes: the history of the firm and government-business relations. The authors cover all periods from the colonial era to the present, with an emphasis on the twentieth century and unparalleled coverage of the post-1945 years.

Assuming no background in history, Blackford and Kerr define terms when introduced and follow a straightforward chronological arrangement. The unusually engaging narrative incorporates many examples plus more detailed studies of well-known firms such as ITT, DuPont, General Motors, and Wang Laboratories.

For adoption consideration, request an examination copy from your regional Houghton Mifflin office.

Houghton Mifflin

13400 Midway Road, Dallas, Texas 75244-5165
1900 South Batavia Avenue, Geneva, Illinois 60134
925 East Meadow Drive, Palo Alto, California 94303
University Square, 101 Campus Drive, Princeton, New Jersey 08540

New from Cambridge University Press

The Fall of the Bell System

A Study in Prices and Politics

Peter Temin

"A full and fascinating account of the largest industry upheaval in our history: It makes clear the steps and missteps that led to the breakup of the Bell System."

—Henry Geller, Director,
Washington Center for Public Policy Research

$27.95

RCA and the VideoDisc

The Business of Research

Margaret B. W. Graham

"...a richly-detailed account of a major science-based systems innovation that failed, set in the context of a perceptive analysis of the corporate forces that initiated, sustained, and ultimately doomed this ambitious undertaking."

—Richard S. Rosenbloom, Harvard University

$19.95

The Making of American Industrial Research

Science and Business at GE and Bell, 1876-1926

Leonard S. Reich

"An interesting and very readable analysis of how and why industrial research was established by GE and AT&T. The author points out parallels between the two firms' reasons for developing science-based research as well as how industrial research affected the way business was conducted and how research affected the advance and control of science and technology."

—Communication Booknotes

$24.95

Sheffield Steel and America

A Century of Commercial and Technological Interdependence, 1830-1930

Geoffrey Tweedale

A systematic investigation of the Sheffield steel industry, its allied trades and their commercial and technological relationship with the United States.

$49.50

Industry and Ideology

IG Farben in the Nazi Era

Peter Hayes

"Professor Hayes has produced a pioneering study. Lucidly argued, well-written, he has written an admirable re-assessment of the role of German capitalism under Hitler. He has brought this important historical debate back to life again."

—R.J. Overy, King's College London

$39.50

At bookstores or order from:

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022.

Cambridge toll-free numbers for orders only:

800-872-7423, outside NY State. 800-227-0247, NY State only.

MasterCard and VISA accepted.

THE RISE OF
MODERN BUSINESS
IN GREAT BRITAIN,
THE UNITED STATES,
AND JAPAN

BY MANSEL G. BLACKFORD

MANSEL G. BLACKFORD

THE RISE OF MODERN
BUSINESS

IN GREAT BRITAIN, THE UNITED STATES, AND JAPAN

"This book will fill a significant gap in the literature of business history."—Harold C. Livesay, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

"As business education includes more and more abstract quantitative course work, students need to be reminded that political, social, and legal institutions profoundly affect the way in which a business system functions. Blackford succeeds well in showing the importance of culture to the development of business institutions."

—William H. Becker, George Washington University

189 pp., 15 illus.
$19.95 cloth, $8.95 paper

THE UNIVERSITY OF
NORTH CAROLINA PRESS

Post Office Box 2288
Chapel Hill, NC 27515-2288

Newcomen Awards in Business History

For the best article published in the Business History Review during the previous year the Society will award a prize of $300 and a scroll. For the best article published in the Business History Review during the previous year by a graduate student or a recent Ph. D. who has not published a book in business history, the Society will award a special prize of $150 and a scroll. Criteria for selection include originality, value, breadth and interest of contribution, quality of research materials and methods, and quality of presentation.

Winners will be selected by a panel of judges consisting of the editors and the members of the editorial board of the Business History Review, none of whom shall be eligible to receive a prize. The awards are administered by the editorial office of the Review. No special prize will be awarded in years when, in the opinion of the judges, no eligible article suitable for the prize was published, and no person may be awarded both prizes in any one year.

ANNOUNCING THREE AWARDS
IN BUSINESS HISTORY

PRESENTED BY THE NEWCOMEN
SOCIETY
OF THE
UNITED STATES

Thomas Newcomen Book Award in Business History

The Newcomen Society of the United States, in cooperation with the Business History Review, will award in 1988 the ninth in a series of triennial prizes consisting of $1,000 and a scroll for the best book on the history of business published in the United States between 1985 and 1987. "Business history" is defined in its broadest sense to include not only the history of firms or industries, but books tracing interactions of business leaders, analyses of business philosophy or behavior, and studies of the adjustment of businesses and businesspeople to their economic, political, and social environments. Criteria for selection will include contribution to knowledge, depth of analysis, soundness of reasoning, clarity of style and organization, and general readability and format.

Judges for the 1988 award will be announced at an appropriate time by the Harvard Business School and the Newcomen Society of the United States.

New from Harvard
Business
School
Press

A unique look at the man who has redefined business history

The Essential Alfred Chandler
Essays Toward a Historical Theory of Big Business
Edited and with an Introduction by Thomas K. McCraw

In four decades of scholarship, Alfred Chandler has established himself as the acknowledged dean of business historians throughout the world. This collection of nineteen of Chandler's essays stretching from 1950 to 1988 shows the evolution of his research and conceptualization of the rise of big business, first in the United States, and then throughout the world.

Thomas K. McCraw's introduction and notes to each selection cogently trace the development of Chandler's theory and reveal the enormous contribution Chandler has made to the field of business history.

The Essential Alfred Chandler is an intriguing combination of intellectual biography (written by one Pulitzer Prize winner about another) and source material, as well as a celebration of the man and his career.

544 pp. #84-30928 ISBN 0-87584-176-7 $35.00

Harvard Business School Press

Write for a complete catalog of Harvard Business School Press books.

To order now, call toll free 1-800-638-3030 or mail payment plus $2.75 for postage and handling to: Harvard Business School Press, P.O. Box 1542, Hagerstown, MD 21741. (MD residents, please add 5% sales tax.)