

Complete Writings of Major Anabaptist Theologian Translated

Balthasar Hubmaier: Theologian of Anabaptism

translated and edited by H. Wayne Pipkin and John H. Yoder

Volume 5 in the Classics of the Radical Reformation Series

“Hubmaier was, perhaps, the foremost theologian of 16th-century Anabaptism. He was more educated than most and less pastoral than Menno Simons would later be, but amazingly clear in his teaching. He wrote by far the most helpful treatise on baptism as is also true of his treatises on the role of government, on free will, heresy, and the nature of the Christian life. We are much in his debt for the careful explanation he gives us of the meaning of the Lord’s Supper and the order of service he provided for it. As we struggle with the meaning of church membership, his clear answer to ‘how much must I know to be baptized?’ is alone enough to thank God for his life and witness.”—C. J. Dyck, Institute of Mennonite Studies

This is the critical English-language edition of the complete writings of Balthasar Hubmaier. It includes introductory prefaces, extensive indices, a bibliography, illustrations, and a large foldout map.

The Transformation of Theology, 1830–1890 Positivism and Protestant Thought in Britain and America

Charles D. Cashdollar

Charles Cashdollar reinterprets nineteenth-century British and American Protestant thought by identifying positivism as the central intellectual issue of the era. Positivism meant, at first, the ideas of the French thinker Auguste Comte; later in the century, the term indicated a more general opposition to supernatural religion. Cashdollar shows that contemporary thinkers recognized positivism, at each of these stages, as the most fundamental of the proliferating challenges to religious belief. He further reveals how the encounter with positivism altered Protestant orthodoxy—in both subtle and radical ways.

THE ALBERT C. OUTLER PRIZE IN ECUMENICAL CHURCH HISTORY

The Outler Prize was established to encourage the critical study of ecumenical church history, broadly conceived, and to facilitate the publication of such studies. "Ecumenical" is to be construed as chiefly concerned with the problems of Christian unity-and-disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) in any period of church history; or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements. Works of a partisan nature are excluded. The following categories are eligible:

- a. Studies, chiefly narrative and critical, of ecumenical church history dealing with historical controversies and divisions, or with notable instances of reconciliation and consensus.
- b. Analyses of church councils, dialogues, and debates, or interactions between Christianity and other religious traditions.
- c. Biographical studies of significant leaders, or of persons whose involvement in ecumenical dialogue and action was noteworthy.
- d. Critical editions (preferably annotated) of significant ecumenical documents.
- e. Bibliographical reviews and evaluations in major areas of ecumenical church history.
- f. Pioneering studies that advance scholarly knowledge and ecumenical understanding.

The prize consists of an award of $1000 to the author and a grant of up to $3000 in subvention of publication (or in exceptional cases, for necessary expenses in the preparation of a book-length manuscript accepted for publication). The prize will be awarded annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 305 East Country Club Lane, Wallingford, PA 19086, by 1 June. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December.
