
Organized Section Update

The organized sections unite APSA members who share common interests, providing networks to organize meetings and coordinate communications under Association auspices. Also, sections offer outlets for research and opportunities for scholarship. They have become a vital part of the Association by sponsoring panels at the Annual Meeting, producing informative newsletters, and recognizing the scholarly achievements of their members. Listed in the following pages is the update for the Organized Sections 2015–2016. For recent changes or corrections to this update and for contact information, visit www.apsanet.org.

Best Conference Paper Award

This award is given annually for the best paper on law and courts presented at the previous year's Annual Meetings of the American, International, or regional political science associations. Single- and co-authored papers, written by political scientists, are eligible. Papers may be nominated by any member of the section.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

Best Graduate Student Paper Award

This award is given annually for the best paper in the field of law and courts written by a graduate student. To be eligible, the nominated paper must have been written by a full-time graduate student. Both single- and co-authored papers are eligible. In the case of coauthored papers, each author must have been a full-time graduate student at the time the paper was written. Submitted papers may have been written for any purpose (including papers written for seminar, scholarly meetings, and for potential publication in academic journals). This is not, however, a dissertation or thesis prize. Papers may be nominated by faculty members or by the students themselves. The papers must have been written during the twelve months previous to the nomination deadline.

Nominations due: February 15, 2016

Best Journal Article Award

Given annually to the best journal article in the field of law and courts written by a political scientist and published during the previous calendar year (2015). Articles published in all refereed journals and in law reviews are eligible, but book reviews, review essays, and chapters published in edited volumes are not eligible. Journal editors and members of the section may nominate articles. Nominations should be submitted before February 15, 2016. Papers should be sent (as a PDF, electronically) to the chair and member of the selection committee.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

C. Herman Pritchett Award for Best Book

Given annually for the best book on law and courts published in the previous year (2015). Previous award recipients can be found here: <http://www.apsanet.org/section-2-C-Herman-Pritchett-Award>. Please note that case books and edited books are not eligible for consideration. Books may be nominated by publishers or by members of the section. To be considered for this year's competition a nomination letter and copy of the book must be submitted prior to February 15, 2016, to the chair and to each member of the selection committee.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

Lifetime Achievement Award

Given for a lifetime of significant scholarship, teaching, and service to the law and courts field. Nominees must be political scientists who are at least 65 years of age or who have been active in the field for at least 25 years. Nominations from previous competitions will be carried forward to the current year's competition. The committee will retain nominations for 3 years, but you are invited to re-nominate an individual and renew the materials in the file during each cycle. Nominations may be made by any member of the Section and should consist of a statement outlining the contributions of the nominee and, if possible, a copy of the nominee's vitae. Nominations should be submitted to the chair of the selection committee.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

Lasting Contribution Award

Awarded annually to a book or journal article, 10 years old or older, that has made a lasting impression on the field of law and courts. Only books and articles written by political scientists are eligible: single authored works produced by winners of the Lifetime Achievement Award are not eligible. Any member of the section may submit a nomination. The nomination should include a statement outlining the nature of the contribution of the nominated work. To be considered for this year's competition, a nomination letter and copy of the book or article must be submitted prior to February 15, 2016, to the chair and members of the selection committee.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

Law and Courts Service Award

Given annually to recognize service to the Law and Courts Section in the literal sense, as in service on committees and in leadership positions, as well as service within the Section, as in the service to the profession within the field of law and courts in the form of archiving data, promoting infrastructure, representing the profession in the media, etc.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

Teaching and Mentoring Award

Given annually to recognize innovative teaching and instructional methods and materials in law and courts. Examples of innovations that might be recognized by this award include (but are not limited to) outstanding textbooks, websites, classroom exercises, syllabi, or other devices designed to enhance the transmission of knowledge about law and courts to undergraduate or graduate students. Any member of the section may make a nomination for the Teaching and Mentoring Award by submitting a statement identifying the nominee and outlining the nature of their innovation and the contribution it makes to achieving the purposes of the award (e-mail attachments, in the form of .pdf files, are acceptable). The Teaching and Mentoring Award is supported by the generous contribution from the Division for Public Education of the American Bar Association.

Nominations due: before February 15, 2016

SECTION 3: LEGISLATIVE STUDIES

SECTION 5: POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS AND PARTIES

Formed: 1983 / Dues: $24 for students $29 for all other members

The organized section on Political Organizations and Parties works to further scholarship on American political parties, comparative political parties, and interest groups. We do this in a number of different ways. Through our meetings, workshops, newsletter, and website, we provide a means of interaction and communication for like-minded scholars. At our annual workshop at the American Political Science Association conference we work to train scholars in the use of various methods or databases, or to promote new research in a particular area. Our participation through the sections mechanism of the American Political Science Association allows us to be a voice for our member's interests within APSA. We also organize the panels in our sub-fields for the annual APSA conference. Finally we recognize excellence in scholarship with our awards for best book, best article, best APSA paper, career achievement, and emerging scholar. We are governed by the volunteer efforts of our officers and board. Were eager to reach out in new directions so let us hear your ideas!

SECTION 9: PRESIDENTS AND EXECUTIVE POLITICS

Formed: 1985 / Dues: $10 for students and professional members.

Presidents and Executive Politics (PEP) of APSA is the premier association of scholars devoted to the study of the presidency and executives (formerly known as the Presidency Research Group). To that end, it welcomes diverse theoretical perspectives, analytical techniques, and data sources as they contribute to the advancement of scholarship and teaching. It also invites the contributions and perspectives of other disciplines. PEP values the establishment and enhancement of non-partisan links between scholarship, the real world of presidential and executive politics, and public policy.

SECTION 17: FOUNDATIONS OF POLITICAL THEORY

Formed: 1987 / Dues: $10 for students and $10 for all other members.

The Foundations of Political Theory Section exists to advance the linkage of political theory and philosophy with political science as a discipline. Foundations recognize and encourage research and teaching that crosses intellectual and disciplinary boundaries. It stands at and seeks to support the intersection where philosophical, psychological, normative, and empirical approaches and problems meet. Foundations, as the name suggests, aims to study the more permanent dimensions of political life ranging from the design of institutions and political practices to the terms and concepts used to interpret the former. At the Foundations website, you will find information about the section, including its officers, its newsletter, and a "bookstore" where you can browse past and new titles in political theory. One new feature is a listing of job opportunities for political theorists and recent placements. If you are not already a member of the section, we hope that you will join us.

Peter Mair Memorial Award

Awards two travel funds annually to enable young scholars to attend the APSA Annual Meeting. This award is meant explicitly to enable young scholars of European politics without alternative funding to present a paper in one of the panels organized by the EPS section. First-time APSA attendants who are graduate students or junior professors from underfunded European universities (notably in the East and South) are prioritized, but senior scholars from such institutions as well as junior scholars from underfunded non-European universities (including the US) are also considered. Applicants are expected to also apply to all other travel funds they are eligible for, including their department/university, national science foundations, and the APSA Travel Fund. The Awards are set at a maximum of $1,000 each, but partial/matching funding is possible too (and could lead to a larger number of grants). Applications for the Peter Mair Memorial Award should include: Name, position, and academic affiliation; Title of proposed paper and EPS Panel it was submitted to; Letter from Head of Department confirming that there are no/not sufficient university funds; List of other funding agencies you have applied to; Indication whether this would be your first APSA attendance. Send your application materials directly to the 2016 award committee

Nominations due: March 1, 2016

Craig L. Brians Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Research and Mentorship

Established in 2014, this award will be awarded annually at the Teaching and Learning Conference, with recognition also given at the APSA annual PSE section reception. The award will be given to faculty members who demonstrate commitment to and excellence in encouraging and developing scholarship among undergraduate students, and in mentoring undergraduate students in preparation for graduate school or public affairs-related careers. Evidence for these commitments may include, but not limited to, formal and informal supervision of undergraduate student original research, collaborating with undergraduate students on original research projects, assisting undergraduate students with public presentations and/or publication of work, and accompanying students to academic conferences. In honor of the person for whom the award is named, preference will also be given to faculty members who engage in developing undergraduate scholarship through enhancing information literacy.

Nominations due: November 15, 2015

SECTION 30: POLITICS, LITERATURE, AND FILM

Formed: 1993 / Dues: $5 for students and professional members.

The study of literature and film offers political scientists a particularly stimulating mode of inquiry into political institutions and principles, and into the ways of life that sustain them and are, in turn, shaped by them. Indeed, the creation of this division is itself a sign of the complex and changing landscape of the study of politics. The Section explores the way in which literature—broadly understood to include film and other literary genres—provides unique insights into the nature of political life and the study of politics.

Alexander L. George Article Award

Honors Alexander George's contributions to the comparative case-study method, including his work linking that method to a systematic concern with research design, and his contribution of developing the idea and the practice of process tracing. This award may be granted to a journal article or to a chapter in an edited volume that stands on its own as an article. The award will be given to an article or book chapter published in the calendar year prior to the year of the APSA Annual Meeting at which the award is presented, with the date of publication being established by the journal issue for articles and the copyright date of the book for chapters. Articles or chapters published in 2015 will be eligible for the 2016 award.

Nominations due: January 31, 2016

Nomination Instructions: Nominations for the 2015 award should be submitted by January 31, 2016, via email to Colin Elman (celman@syr.edu) the Secretary-Treasurer of the APSA Organized Section for Qualitative and Multi-Method Research.

David Collier Mid-Career Achievement Award

Honors Collier's contributions—through his research, graduate teaching and institution-building—as a founder of the qualitative and multi-method research movement in contemporary political science. The award will be presented annually to a mid-career political scientist to recognize distinction in methodological publications, innovative application of qualitative and multi-method approaches in substantive research, and/or institutional contributions to this area of methodology.

Nomination Instructions: To be eligible for the mid-career award, nominees must have defended their dissertation within 15 years of the beginning of the year in which the award is presented. Each nomination must include a cover letter summarizing specific merits of the candidate (not merely generic praise), as well as an up-to-date curriculum vitae of the nominee, including the date of the doctoral degree. Self-nominations are welcome. For the 2016 award, nominees must have defended their dissertation in or later than 2001. Please send nominations by January 31, 2016, via email to Peter Hall (phall@fas.harvard.edu), the President of the APSA Organized Section for Qualitative and Multi-Method Research.

Nominations due: January 31, 2016

Giovanni Sartori Book Award

Honors Giovanni Sartori's work on qualitative methods and concept formation, and especially his contribution to helping scholars think about problems of context as they refine concepts and apply them to new spatial and temporal settings. The award is intended to encompass two types of contributions: new research on methodology per se, i.e., studies that introduce specific methodological innovations or that synthesize and integrate methodological ideas in a way that is in itself a methodological contribution; and substantive work that is an exemplar for the application of qualitative methods. This award may be granted to a single-authored or multi-authored book, or to an edited volume. The award will be given to works published in the calendar year prior to the year of the APSA meeting at which the award is presented. The copyright date of a book will establish the relevant year. Hence, books with a 2015 copyright date will be eligible for the award presented at the 2016 APSA meeting.

Nomination Instructions: To be considered for the awards, nominations must be received by January 31, 2016. Nominations for

SECTION 39: HEALTH POLITICS AND POLICY

Formed: 2008 / Dues: $8 for students and professional members.

The organized section on Health Politics and Policy provides the ideal infrastructure in which members can more thoroughly, efficiently arm themselves with the additional expertise we need to explore health politics and policy questions. The Section will define health politics and policy just as broadly as the phrase implies. Everything from the politics of Medicare Part D to the politics of women's health; everything from comparative politics of AIDS in Africa, Eastern Europe, and South Asia to the comparative state politics of Medicaid and SCHIP; everything from the ethics of end of life decisions to the regulation of stem cell research; everything from public budgeting and regulation to public health disaster preparedness all these and more fall within the scope of the Section.

Len Robins Best Paper on Health Politics and Policy Award

This award honors the late Leonard S. Robins, who through his presence and gentle questioning at virtually every health politics panel graciously nurtured the scholarship of both junior and senior scholars. This award recognizes the best paper on any subject that fits under the rubric of Health Politics and Policy presented at the previous APSA Annual Meeting. All papers presented at panels sponsored or co-sponsored by OSHPP are eligible for consideration, and may be nominated by panel chairs and discussants. All other substantively appropriate papers presented at panels organized by other sections, divisions, and related groups are also eligible if the authors made an electronic version of their paper available to view online.

Nominations due: March 1, 2016

Award Committee: Shanna Rose, Chair, Claremont McKenna College, srose@cmc.edu; James Brasfield, Webster University, jimbrasfield@mac.com; Miriam Laugesen, Columbia University, ml3111@cumc.columbia.edu

Award for Outstanding Public Engagement in Health Policy

SECTION 42: EXPERIMENTAL RESEARCH

Formed: 2010 / Dues: $18 for students and professional members (online only version of journal); $24 for students and professional members (print and online version of journal)

The Experimental Research Organized Section of the American Political Science Association advances pedagogy, research, and scholarly contributions based on randomized or natural experiments. Recent years have seen a dramatic increase in the number of published articles in political science that use experiments. Experimentalists are exploring topics that would have been unimaginable only a few years ago. The rapid growth, development, and celebration of experimental methods in political science presents the opportunity to share a specific vocabulary and toolkit with researchers interested in experimental methods of all kinds. The section is devoted to helping scholars develop and hone these skills and to providing a forum where research based on these techniques can be shared and discussed.

Chair: Lynn Vavreck, University of California, Los Angeles, lvavreck@ucla.edu

Chair-Elect: Macartan Humphreys, Columbia University, mh2245@columbia.edu

Secretary: Scott Clifford, University of Houston, sclifford@uh.edu

Treasurer: Peter Descioli, Stony Brook University, pdescioli@gmail.com

Editors: Journal of Experimental Political Science: Rebecca Morton, New York University, rebecca.morton@nyu.edu; Joshua Tucker, New York University, joshua.tucker@nyu.edu

Editor: The Experimental Political Scientist Newsletter: Reuben Kline, SUNY, Stonybrook, reuben.kline@stonybrook.edu

2016 Annual Meeting Program Chair: Mike Findley, University of Texas at Austin, mikefindley@utexas.edu

Executive Council: Kevin Esterling, University of California, Riverside; Alan Gerber, Yale University; Jake Bowers, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Best Book Award

Recognizes the best book published in 2015 that either uses or is about experimental research methods in the study of politics. A copy of the book should be sent to each member of the selection committee at the addresses provided below no later than April 1, 2016.

Nominations due: April 1, 2016

Award Committee: Chris Karpowitz, Chair, Brigham Young University, chris_karpowitz@byu.edu

Best Dissertation Award

Eligible nominees will have completed a dissertation in the 2015 calendar year that utilizes experimental methods on substantive political science research, or makes a fundamental contribution to experimental methods. Nominations should come from faculty members but they need not be on the students' dissertation committee.

Nominations due: April 1, 2016

Award Committee: Jonathan Ladd, Chair, Georgetown University, jonathan.ladd@georgetown.edu; Kathleen Searles, Louisiana State University, ksearles@lsu.edu; Antoine Banks, University of Maryland

Best Paper Award

Recognizes a paper that was scheduled to be presented at APSA and features experimental analysis. Chairs and discussants are especially encouraged to nominate papers, but nominations from anyone who is aware of an interesting paper prepared for presentation (as well as self-nominations) are welcome.

Nominations due: April 1, 2016

Award Committee: Guy Grossman, Chair, University of Pennsylvania, ggros@sas.upenn.edu; Jeff Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University, conroyk6@msu.edu; Josh Kertzer, Harvard University, jkertzer@gov.harvard.edu; Sean Westwood, Dartmouth College, sean.j.westwood@dartmouth.edu

Public Service Award

Many experiments only occur thanks to the assistance of non-researchers who provide access to resources and data. This award recognizes a special form of public service, the facilitation of randomized experiments in political science by those outside the academy. Considerations in the evaluation of nominees for this award include (1) their generosity with time, resources, and data and (2) their willingness to permit research transparency (e.g., allowing researchers to publish research without regard to how the results come out).

Nomination Instructions: Researchers should send a one paragraph description of the nominee to all committee members.

Nominations Due: April 1, 2016

Award Committee: Don Green, Chair, Columbia University, donald.p.green@gmail.com

SECTION 43: MIGRATION AND CITIZENSHIP

Formed: 2012 / Dues: $5 for students and $10 for all other members.

The purpose of this section is to bring together political scientists working on issues of migration and citizenship, promote teaching and research in the field, and encourage communication among political scientists and scholars of migration and citizenship in related disciplines, including policy and other professionals, domestically and internationally.

Awarded to the best paper presented on the topic of economic or social class inequality at the APSA Annual Meeting.

SECTION 46: IDEAS, KNOWLEDGE, AND POLITICS

Formed: 2014 / Dues $1 for students and $9 for professionals

To understand political decisions and actions, it is necessary to study the sources and content of our political beliefs. To assess these decisions and actions, we need to study whether our political beliefs are accurate. Why do different people interpret the political world in different ways? How do they interpret either their own interests or the public interest; from what sources are these interpretations drawn; and how do these interpretations motivate political action? Given political actors' imperfect knowledge, how do they try to approximate full knowledge of the likely consequences of their actions, and how successful are these attempts? Under what conditions do political beliefs tend to be true? These questions have tended to be neglected within political science, with the result that our understandings of political processes are often incomplete. By addressing itself to the sources and the accuracy of our political beliefs, political epistemology seeks to fill a significant lacuna in political science and political theory.
