Karl Barth: Centenary Essays

Edited by S. W. SYKES

Two decades after his death, Karl Barth continues to fascinate those who study theology and Barth's own thought in the magisterial unfinished Church Dogmatics. Writing from a variety of ecclesiastical persuasions, the authors seek to demonstrate the continuing importance of some of Barth's major concerns.

Music in Early Christian Literature

Edited by JAMES W. MCKINNON

'This is a book to be grateful for, since the extracts are intelligently selected and helpfully commented on, while the new translations are as lucid as may be expected with such opaque writings.' The Times Literary Supplement

Christ, Ethics and Tragedy: Essays in Honour of Donald MacKinnon

Edited by KENNETH SURIN

Donald MacKinnon, Emeritus Professor of Divinity at Cambridge, has been the most influential philosopher of religion in Britain this century. These essays take as their starting point the writings of Professor MacKinnon and are presented to him by colleagues, students and friends on his seventy-fifth birthday.

The World of Ancient Israel

Sociological, Anthropological and Political Perspectives

Edited by RONALD E. CLEMENTS

This important new work is especially concerned to explore, in greater depth than comparable studies, the areas of overlap between approaches to the subject of Old Testament research adopted by scholars and students of theology and the social sciences.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the Editor, Professor S. R. Sutherland, King's College, Strand, London, WC2R 2LS.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly; in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributors of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage, but it would normally be simpler just to retain a copy.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
