

Notes on Contributors

Nurith Aviv the film-maker, was the first female chief camera operator in France. She has been responsible for the camerawork on a hundred or so films, both fiction and documentary, with among others Agnès Varda, Amos Gitai, René Allio and Jacques Doillon. She has directed eight documentaries. Address: 15 rue Frederic Sauton, 75005 Paris, France. [email: nurith.aviv@gmail.com]

Maria Letizia Cravetto is a writer and the author of novels and poems. She is programme director at the Collège International de Philosophie, lecturer at the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales, and since 2003 has been running a seminar at the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme in Paris devoted to 'L'anthropologie du sous-sol'. In 2000 she published Fidélité à l'après. À propos du suicide de Primo Levi et de l'intériorité du Mal (Paris). She has also published the essay 'L'émancipation de la pensée: à propos de l'œuvre de Michel de Certeau' in Diogenes 199 (2002). Address: 348 rue St Honoré, 75001 Paris, France. [email: evidenza@wanadoo.fr]

René Depestre poet, activist, friend of the surrealists and the intellectuals of the 'négritude' movement, travelled all over the world before settling in Cuba. Returning to Paris in 1978, he worked in the Unesco secretariat till 1986. He is the author of, in particular: Alléluia pour une femme-jardin (1981), Hadriana dans tous mes rêves (1990) and the collection of poems Non-assistance à poètes en danger (2005). Address: 31 bis route de Roubia, 11200 Lezignan, Corbières, France. [email contact via: f.albernaz@unesco.org]

Julia Kristeva is a linguist, semiologist, psychoanalyst, writer and professor at the University of Paris VII-Denis Diderot. She has written a large number of novels and critical essays, among them Meurtre à Byzance (Paris, 2004), La Haine et le pardon (Paris, 2005) and the trilogy Génie féminin dedicated to Hannah Arendt (Paris, 1999), Melanie Klein (Paris, 2000) and Colette (Paris, 2002). She received the Prix Holberg in 2004 and is a full member of the Société Psychanalytique de Paris. Address: 76 rue d'Assas, 75006 Paris, France. [email: julia.kristeva@univ-paris-diderot.fr]

François Noudelmann professor at the University of Paris-VIII and a producer for France-Culture, directed the Collège International de Philosophie from 2001 to 2004.

Copyright © UNESCO 2007

SAGE: Los Angeles, London, New Delhi and Singapore, <http://dio.sagepub.com>

DOI: 10.1177/0392192107086535

Among his recent publications are: Pour en finir avec la généalogie, Politique et Filiation, Jean-Paul Sartre, Dictionnaire Sartre (co-edited) and Sartre ou l'incarnation imaginaire. Address: 4 boulevard Arago, 75013 Paris, France.
[email: francois.noudelelmann@ci-philo.asso.fr]

Paolo Parrini a professor in philosophy at the University of Florence, is the author of many scholarly publications, among them: Knowledge and Reality: An Essay in Positive Philosophy (Dordrecht, 1998), Sapere e interpretare: Per una filosofia e un'oggettività senza fondamenti (Milan, 2002), L'empirismo logico: Aspetti storici e prospettive teoriche (Rome, 2002) and Filosofia e scienza nell'Italia del Novecento (Milan, 2004). He edited the collected works Kant and Contemporary Epistemology (Dordrecht, 1994) and, with Merrilee and Wesley Salmon, Logical Empiricism: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives (Pittsburgh, 2003). Address: Via del Castagno 4, 50132 Firenze, Italy.
[email: parrini@unifi.it]

Paule Pérez who is a philosopher and psychoanalyst, founded and directed a publishing house dedicated to the social sciences, as well as a management consultancy serving large companies and institutions. In this field she has published many articles in France and Europe and given lectures on emerging social and teaching practices. She has recently set up the electronic journal temps-marranes.info with Claude Corman, with whom she published 'Un rêve de paix', a work on the Israel–Palestine situation. She contributes actively to the seminar Streben, led by Maria Letizia Cravetto at the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme in Paris, where she practises psychoanalysis. Address: 54 rue de la Glacière, 75013 Paris, France.
[email: paule.perez@wanadoo.fr]

Alberto Peruzzi a former student of Giulio Preti's (1969–72), is professor of philosophy at the University of Florence. His classes are particularly concerned with epistemology and the philosophy of language. His research deals principally with the application of category theory to cognitive semantics. Among his books are: Definizioni: la cartografia dei concetti (1983), Noema (1988), Il significato inesistente (2004) and the essays 'Prolegomena to the Theory of Kinds' (1994), 'The Geometric Roots of Semantics' (2000) and 'Ilge-Interference Patterns in Semantics and Epistemology' (2002). Address: Via del Casone 22, 50124 Firenze, Italy.
[email: alberto.peruzzi@unifi.it]

Michèle Sinapi who studied at Sèvres ENS and was formerly programme director at the Collège International de Philosophie, has published articles on political philosophy, in particular on theologico-political problems of the division between truth and falsehood and contemporary thinking about law and psychoanalysis. Her latest published article is 'The punk cut', in Social Science Information, 45(3), 2006. Address: 18 Passage de la Bonne Graine, 75011 Paris, France.
[email: mg.sinapi@free.fr]

Imre Toth is a former professor at the universities of Bucharest, Frankfurt, Bochum and Ratisbon and has been an invited lecturer at the Paris ENS and the IAS in Princeton, among other institutions. He is considered one of the most eminent specialists in the history of non-Euclidean geometry. Among his latest published books are: Aristotele e i fondamenti assiomatici della geometria (Milan, 1997), Palimpseste. Propos avant un triangle (Paris, 2000) and Matematica ed emozioni (Rome, 2004). He has previously published in Diogenes the essays 'De Interpretatione: Biographie commentée d'Euclide' [De Interpretatione: Commented Biography of Euclid] (Diogenes 192) and "'car, comme le disait Philolaos le pythagoricien . . .": Philosophie, géométrie, liberté' [As Philolaos the Pythagorean Said': Philosophy, Geometry, Freedom] (Diogenes 182). Address: 41 rue du Docteur Heulin, 75017 Paris, France.