6th INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON PREVENTION AND
DETECTION OF CANCER
NOVEMBER 26-29 1984

VIENNA, AUSTRIA

Sponsored by the International Society for Preventive Oncology, World Health Organization, Austrian Cancer Society-Austrian Cancer League, and Association of Clinical Scientists-USA.

THE program includes overview lectures, panels, poster sessions, scientific exhibits and special workshops designed for critical appraisal of current data. Discussions are to concentrate on actions to be taken and on the implementation of existing knowledge for effective cancer control by primary and secondary prevention. Reports are to present progress in multifactorial etiology of oncogenesis, molecular biology, identification of high risk groups, tumor susceptibility, and clinical and laboratory manifestations of cancer including tumor markers. Participants include the clinician, epidemiologist, pathologist, experimental oncologist, immunologist, socioeconomist, educator and members of the health care team.

Abstracts of presentations are invited by 15 June 1984.

Abstracts and program appear in Cancer Detection and Prevention 1984; 7(6).

Award(s) for outstanding investigation(s) presented by ISPO.

Accredited for 32 CME credit hours.

REHABILITATION OF HEARING IMPAIRED ADULTS

(including a visit to The State Hearing Clinic at Odense)

Suitable for medical practitioners, hearing therapists, audiological scientists, and those in related fields

14–18 MAY 1984

THE course this year will take place on a large, comfortable ferry travelling from Harwich to Esbjerg (Denmark) and back and will include a visit to the clinic of Dr. Björn Blevad at the State Hearing Clinic, Odense.

The lectures and demonstrations will be given by the staff of the Department of Auditory Rehabilitation of the Royal National Throat, Nose and Ear Hospital and Professor David Goldstein of Purdue University, U.S.A.

The course will apply the comprehensive model developed by Goldstein and Stephens to the practice of Audiological Rehabilitation. In this year's course the emphasis will be on developments in rehabilitative instrumentation and the assessment of rehabilitative effectiveness.

These different aspects will be integrated into the context of the comprehensive model, and the details and value of the approach will be illustrated by case studies and video-recorded presentations. The aim of the course is to teach the use of the model with resulting improvement in daily practice.

The fee of £150 includes course fees, meals on the ferry and accommodation in four-berth cabins (single and double berth cabins are available on payment of a supplement). Reservations can be made if required for accompanying friends or relatives. The fee for the trip (in a four-berth cabin), with meals on the ferry but without attendance on the course, will be £85. Participants will be free to make their own arrangements for meals on the day spent in Odense.

To ensure a place, provisional reservation should be made as soon as possible. The final date for firm reservations is 1 March 1984. Applications should be sent to the Dean's Secretary, 330/332 Gray's Inn Road, London WC1X 8EE.
