Cambridge Journals in the Social Sciences

Ageing and Society

A new international journal devoted to publishing contributions to the understanding of human ageing, particularly from the social sciences and humanities. Its interpretation of ageing as a subject is wide and includes all aspects of the human condition whether they relate to individuals, groups, institutions or societies. £24.00 for institutions £17.00 for individuals

Archives européennes de sociologie European Journal of Sociology

The aims of this journal are firstly to reaffirm and continue the European tradition of historical and comparative sociology, and to incorporate in it the more important contributions made by empirical studies. Secondly, they are to encourage comparative studies of the institutions of European societies, and of European institutions in other parts of the world. £22.00 for institutions £12.50 for individuals

Comparative Studies in Society and History

This is a truly international forum of social analysis which publishes the work of authors from throughout the world in many disciplines – including history, sociology, anthropology, political science, as well as law, economics and the humanities. £23.00 for institutions £12.50 for individuals

Journal of Public Policy

This new journal will publish articles that use concepts derived from any of the social sciences to illuminate a significant problem facing contemporary government. Articles which cross the conventional boundaries between the social sciences will be particularly welcome. £30.00 for institutions £15.00 for individuals

Journal of Social Policy

This journal is concerned with the historical and theoretical analysis of social policy and with processes and problems in the implementation of social policy at both national and local levels. It explores the relationship of social administration to all the social sciences as well as to social work and social action. £29.00 for institutions £17.50 for members of BSA

The Voice and the Eye

An Analysis of Social Movements

ALAIN TOURAINE

Professor Touraine states both his analysis of the distinguishing features of modern Western Society and the distinctive methodology—sociological intervention—by which he thinks its basic social conflicts can best be studied.

Organizing Interests in Western Europe

Pluralism, Corporatism and the Transformation of Politics

Edited by SUZANNE BERGER

The contributors to this volume examine questions about political economies which centre on 'corporatism'—the tendency to create a concert of interests among the broad array of organized groups in modern industrial societies. £25.00 net

Cambridge Studies in Modern Political Economies

Contemporary Italian Sociology

A Reader

Edited by DIANA PINTO

This anthology shows how Italian sociology applies highly original economic and sociological analyses to Italy's principal social problems and explains how its themes and methods could profitably be integrated into other sociological traditions.
