

Tables

1.1	Typology of interactions between formal and informal institutions according to Helme and Levitsky (2004)	page 19
2.1	Synthetic summary of institutional weaknesses and strengths revealed by the CIS in the case studies	71
2.2	The diagnostic table of the Benin case study	82
A2.1	A Structure of the Bangladesh CIS questionnaire	85
3.1	Institutional diagnostic table for Bangladesh	104
4.1	A synthetic ordering of the institutional factors impeding Benin's long-term development	137
4.2	A synthetic ordering of the institutional factors impeding Mozambique's long-term development	150
5.1	South Korea: growth, employment, productivity, and structural transformation, 1955–1985	167
5.2	South Korea: expenditures out of GDP, foreign financing, composition of exports, 1955–1985 (current prices)	171
5.3	Institutional diagnostic table for the three periods of South Korean development until 1979	185
6.1	A synthetic ordering of the institutional factors behind Taiwan's development	218
7.1	Comparing the development and sectoral economic structures at equivalent levels of GDP per capita of the four IDP case studies and the Southeast Asian tigers	237
8.1	A summary table of potential political regimes as per their initial conditions and effectiveness of development policies	278

