

Mountain Gorilla Fund

By October 31 the Mountain Gorilla Fund had received over £8000 from more than 932 donors. See page 315.

Oryx 100% Fund

The following grants have been made from the FPS Oryx 100% Fund:

- £500 to Dr Dian Fossey for her mountain gorilla project.
- £400 to Espedito Cordeiro da Silva Jr for a study of white-nosed saki in Brazil.
- £300 to J. Lewis for a study of five endangered species in Corcovado National Park, Costa Rica.
- £250 to Aberdeen University Seychelles expedition to study phelsuma geckos.
- £250 to J.A.H. Benzie for an Aberdeen University expedition to Yala National Park in Sri Lanka.
- £250 to Simon Stuart for a Cambridge University ecological expedition to Tanzania to study rare bird species.
- £250 to the Charles Darwin Foundation for seabird studies in Galapagos.
- £250 to Peter J. Garson for the Himachal Wildlife Project (paid from FPS funds held by the Bombay Natural History Society).
- £250 to A.J.T. Johnsingh for a study of the Indian wild dog (paid from FPS funds held by the Bombay Natural History Society).
- £250 to Dr Keith Laidler for a Durham University Expedition to Guayana.
- £250 to B.P. O'Regan for his study of Jebeer gazelle and wild ass in the Turan Biosphere Reserve, Iran.
- £250 to J.I. Pollock for a study on indri and other lemurs in Madagascar.
- £200 to P. Davis and Dr C. Sheppard for a joint Chagos Archipelago research expedition.
- £100 to Cecilia Torres de Assumpção for a study of Cebidae in Brazil.
- £100 to J.M. Craig for assistance at the Madras Crocodile Bank.
- £100 to P. Greig-Smith for his study of endemic bird communities in the Seychelles.
- £100 to Jean Ngognje for an ecological study of giraffe in Waza National Park, Cameroon.
- £100 to R.J. Wolton for an Oxford University expedition to Mount Nimba, Liberia, to study fruit bats.
- £100 to H. Whitehead for a study of humpback whales on Silver Bank, north of Dominica.
- £50 to A. Anderson for an Aberdeen University Expedition to Mole National Park, Ghana.
- £50 to Dr D.R. Ascroft for an Aberdeen University Expedition to study two endemic parrots, Amazona imperialis and A. arausiaca, in Dominica.
- £60 to L. McLeod for his study on the population ecology of Iolana iolas, one of Europe's rarest butterflies.