

Canadian Public POLICY
Analyse de
POLITIQUES

Canadian Public Policy is Canada's foremost journal examining economic and social policy. The aim of the journal is to stimulate research and discussion of public policy problems in Canada. It is directed at a wide readership including decision makers and advisers in business organizations and governments, and policy researchers in private institutions and universities. Because of the interdisciplinary nature of many public policy issues, the contents of each volume aim to be representative of various disciplines involved in public policy issues. This quarterly journal publishes interdisciplinary articles in English or French. Abstracts are provided in both languages.

SOCIETY AND AGING SERIES

Jon Hendricks, Series Editor

AGING PUBLIC POLICY

Bonding the Generations (2nd Ed.)

Theodore H. Koff and Richard W. Park

Aging Public Policy: Bonding the Generations (2nd Ed.) is presented in three parts. Part one describes the policy process as a response to human needs through the laws of our country. The second part explores the national policy development on behalf of older persons. Part three describes the major public policies on behalf of the elderly that include Social Security, Medicare, The Older Americans Act, institutional care, employment and retirement policies. The final chapter discusses the advocacy process in the field of aging.

This volume is about public policies that have the greatest influence on the lives of older persons and those that have been promulgated especially because of concern for older persons. Whether a policy is written on behalf of the entire population or specifically in response to the needs of a particular segment of the population (i.e., the elderly), public policies affect us all. Public policies are in a sense the way we share our concern for the welfare of the entire society. Providing societal assistance to any one segment of society sets the stage for everyone to work together to correct problems.

In addition to describing those policies that have the greatest impact on the older population for a broad audience, the book specifically addresses the evolution of policies as an outgrowth of developments in our society. The processes by which policies are introduced, debated and established, and the details of specific policies are all discussed.

It is important that public policies represent standards for our lives as individuals, and as a society, that are based on ethical precepts and regard for the importance of every human being.

AIMS & SCOPE

Under what conditions does “development” end? Under what conditions does “aging” begin? Can these conditions themselves be modified by intervention at the psychological, social, or biological levels? To what extent are patterns of development and aging attributable to biological factors? To psychological factors? How can the social and behavioral sciences contribute to the actualization of human potential throughout the entire life span? What are the implications of gerontological research for our understanding of the total development of human organism?

These are some of the broad questions with which The International Journal of Aging & Human Development is concerned. Emphasis is upon psychological and social studies of aging and the aged. However, this peer-refereed Journal also publishes research that introduces observations from other fields that illuminate the “human” side of gerontology, or utilizes gerontological observations to illuminate problems in other fields.

Hallym International Journal of Aging

Gerontological Research, Policies and Programs in the New Millennium

Editors: Hyunsook Yoon ♦ Jon Hendricks

Hallym International Journal of Aging is intended to focus international expertise on topics that embrace a broad spectrum of gerontological issues. The editorial board has been selected to assemble world-wide gerontologists to promote submissions from a diverse array of countries. Topics and agenda address questions and issues of particular concern to Asia and the Pacific Rim countries. Through a rigorous review process, manuscripts appearing in HIIA represent the best intercontinental analysis on the subject of gerontology.

CANADIAN JOURNAL ON AGING
General Information and Instructions to Authors

The Canadian Journal on Aging is a refereed, quarterly publication of the Canadian Association on Gerontology. It publishes manuscripts on aging concerned with biology, health sciences, psychology, social sciences, and social policy and practice. The Journal welcomes articles reporting original research, as well as conceptual and theoretical papers which significantly advance knowledge or understanding in gerontology. Although focused on Canadian research, manuscripts from authors outside Canada are welcome. Authors are asked to bear in mind the multi-disciplinary nature of the readership when writing their manuscripts. In particular, care should be taken to draw out the implications of the analysis for readers in other fields and other disciplines.

1. Submission and acceptance of manuscripts

All manuscripts should be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief:

Carolyn J. Rosenthal
Canadian Journal on Aging
McMaster Centre for Gerontological Studies
McMaster University KTH 226
1280 Main St. West, Hamilton, ON L8S 4M4

Submission of a paper to the CJA implies that it has not been published, nor is it under consideration by another journal; and if accepted by the CJA it is not to be published elsewhere (except as a conference proceedings) without permission.

2. Manuscript preparation

a. Preparing the manuscript. It is recommended that IBM-compatible software be used; authors must supply their final version in Word Perfect. Articles should be printed double spaced. Articles should generally contain between 3,000 and 10,000 words. Number pages consecutively, beginning with the title page and including all pages. Five (5) copies must be submitted. A condensed title for a running head, not to exceed 40 letters and spaces should be supplied, and up to six (6) key words for abstracting purposes.

b. Title page. Two of the copies must include a title page containing name of author, highest degree awarded, name and address of institutional affiliation, e-mail, FAX and telephone numbers.

c. Author anonymity. Three of the submitted copies must include a blinded title page, with title only.

d. Abstract. Each author is required to furnish, on a separate sheet, an abstract of not more than 100-150 words. A French translation of the abstract is necessary. The author may provide this or accept the expense of the translation of the abstract.

e. Acknowledgements. These should be added on a separate page and will be incorporated in a preliminary note on the first printed page of the article.

f. Notes. All notes should be entered as endnotes and should appear immediately before the References. Footnotes are not acceptable.

g. References. The articles submitted should be written in either the American Psychological Association (1984) style or the Vancouver style of referencing. More information regarding this may be obtained by writing to the Editorial office.

h. Tables. Tables should be typed on separate sheets.

i. Figures. Camera ready figures should be submitted with the final version of the paper in the following size: 28 picas/4 5/8 in. wide max. 43 picas/7 1/4 in. depth.

3. Diskettes

Once a paper is accepted the author must supply a copy of the paper on diskette in Word Perfect (IBM) format.

4. Author's alterations

Alterations to page proofs which are not required to correct material will be charged to the author.

5. Copyright

Authors of articles or reviews accepted for publication will be asked to assign copyright, on certain conditions, to the Canadian Association on Gerontology.

6. Sexist language

Authors should avoid using sexist language in their manuscripts. For further clarification, please refer to the APA guidelines.

LA REVUE CANADIENNE DU VIEILLISSEMENT
Renseignements généraux et protocole de présentation

La Revue canadienne du vieillissement est une publication trimestrielle de l'Association canadienne de gérontologie, dotée d'un comité de lecture. Elle publie des articles qui portent sur le vieillissement dans les disciplines suivantes: biologie, politique et pratique sociales, psychologie, sciences de la santé et sciences sociales. La Revue accepte les comptes rendus de recherches originales ainsi que les textes conceptuels ou théoriques qui font avancer de façon appréciable les connaissances ou la vision de la gérontologie. Bien qu'elle soit une revue canadienne, les auteurs d'autres pays sont encouragés à y soumettre leur travaux de recherche. On demande aux auteurs de tenir compte de la multidisciplinarité du lectorat. Il peut s'avérer particulièrement approprié de relier certains aspects de l'analyse à d'autres domaines de savoir.

1. Présentation et acceptation des manuscrits

Les manuscrits doivent être adressés à la Rédactrice en chef:

Carolyn J. Rosenthal
Canadian Journal on Aging
McMaster Centre for Gerontological Studies
McMaster University KTH 226
1280 Main St. West, Hamilton, ON L8S 4M4

La revue n'accepte que des manuscrits inédits qui n'ont pas été soumis à une autre revue. Les manuscrits acceptés par la RCV ne peuvent être publiés ailleurs sans autorisation (exception faites des actes de congrès).

2. Préparation des manuscrits

a. Préparation des manuscrits. On recommande l'utilisation de logiciels compatibles avec IBM. Les versions finales doivent nous parvenir en Word Perfect, à double interligne (12 pt. font). Les articles qui ne doivent pas compter plus de 24 pages (ci-inclus les Références et les Appendices) et doivent être soumis en cinq (5) exemplaires. Les auteurs sont priés de numéroter toutes les pages consécutivement, y compris la page de titre. Les manuscrits doivent être accompagnés d'un titre résumé qui servira dans l'en-tête contenant un maximum de 40 lettres et espaces, et six (6) mots clés pour le classement analytique.

c. Anonymat de l'auteur. La page de titre de trois des exemplaires soumis doit porter seulement le titre du manuscrit et être dépouillée de tous les autres éléments exigés.

d. Résumé. Les manuscrits doivent être accompagnés, sur une feuille séparée, d'un résumé de 100 à 150 mots. Il devra être accompagné d'une traduction anglaise, sinon les frais de traduction seront assumés par l'auteur (35 $).

e. Remerciements. Les remerciements doivent figurer sur une feuille séparée. Ils seront insérés en guise de préliminaire à la première page du texte imprimé.

f. Notes. Les notes doivent figurer à la fin du texte, immédiatement avant la bibliographie. Nous ne pouvons accepter les notes en bas de page.

g. Références. (maximum 40) Les références doivent être conforme au protocole de l'American Psychological Association ou au protocole de Vancouver. Pour obtenir de plus amples renseignements sur ce point consulter la rédaction.

h. Tableaux. Les tableaux doivent être présentés sur des feuilles séparés.

i. Figures. Les illustrations doivent être prêtes à photographier et soumises en même temps que la version finale du texte. Format max.: 28 picas/ 4 po 5/8 lar. sur 43 picas/ 7 po 1/4 haut.

3. Disquette

Une fois le texte accepté, l'auteur doit en fournir un exemplaire sur disquette de format IBM en Word Perfect.

4. Modifications de l'auteur

Les corrections effectuées par l'auteur à la lecture d'épreuve seront portées à son compte.

5. Droits d'auteur

Les auteurs dont les articles ou les résumés sont publiés doivent céder, à certaines conditions, leurs droits d'auteur à La Revue canadienne du vieillissement.

6. Formulation sexiste ou discriminatoire

Les auteurs doivent éviter l'emploi de tournures sexistes ou discriminatoires. Pour plus de renseignements, prière de consulter les directives de l'APA.
