INTRODUCING INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP

Learn more at <http://bit.ly/AASinstitutional>

WHAT IS INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP?

AAS Institutional Memberships are available to universities and colleges, foundations, institutes, nonprofit and for-profit organizations, and research organizations that contribute to the advancement of the field of Asian Studies. This membership category is open to all research institutions and centers, as well as professional membership associations and other learned societies.

Additionally, Institutional Memberships allow foundations, libraries, museums, think tanks, and other organizations to join AAS as an organization and receive a list of AAS benefits.

WHY INSTITUTIONAL MEMBERSHIP?

Through the Institutional Memberships, organizations, departments, and Asian Studies programs may enjoy many of the same benefits offered to individual members, as well as a variety of discounts and services specifically designed with organizations in mind. Additionally, Institutional Members will be listed on the AAS website with a hyper-link directly to organization's website, placing your information at the fingertips of the full membership.

Institutional Members benefit from participation and networking at the Annual Conference, in addition to receiving many discounts related to the annual conference, student membership, and other AAS offerings.

All memberships are twelve months, beginning on the date of activation.

TANG CENTER FOR EARLY CHINA

唐氏早期中國研究中心

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

The Tang Center for Early China at Columbia University was founded in 2015 through a generous endowment gift from Oscar Tang and Agnes Hsu-Tang. The Tang Center is dedicated to the advancement of the understanding of the richness and importance of early Chinese civilization as a part of a broader common human heritage. It is committed to doing so through both solid scholarship and broad public outreach. The Tang Center sponsors a variety of conferences, workshops as well as public lectures each year including the Columbia Early China Seminar. The Tang Center is especially interested in supporting research initiatives that aim to examine newly discovered paleographic and textual material as well as artifacts, and in promoting the role of archaeology as a path to understand the past.

Call for Applications

The Tang Post-Doctoral Research Award in Early China Studies

The Tang Center for Early China offers one Post-Doctoral Research Award in the amount of $15,000 each year in recognition of outstanding research projects in early Chinese civilization or in archaeology.

The Tang Visiting Scholar's Fellowship

The Tang Center offers Visiting Scholar's Fellowship each year to one scholar for an in-residence research period of 10 months at Columbia University, or to two scholars for a period of 5 months each, depending on the need of the proposed projects. The applicant must be non-US based.

Workshop and Conference Grants

The Tang Center offers grants in the amount of $13,000 each to up to two workshop and/or conference proposals each academic year, depending on the scale. Each workshop or conference should have an identified central problem or theme on which the papers will focus. Alternatively, the workshop/conference can be centered on a newly discovered corpus of materials or manuscripts, or on an important archaeological site, or a region.

Application deadline, November 30, for all programs.

For more information, please visit our website www.tangcenter-columbia.org.

THE JOURNAL OF ASIAN STUDIES

The Journal of Asian Studies (JAS) has played a defining role in the field of Asian studies for over 75 years. JAS publishes the very best empirical and multidisciplinary work on Asia, spanning the arts, history, literature, the social sciences, and cultural studies. Experts around the world turn to this quarterly journal for the latest in-depth scholarship on Asia's past and present, for its extensive book reviews, and for its state-of-the-field essays on established and emerging topics. With coverage reaching from South and Southeast Asia to China, Inner Asia, and Northeast Asia, JAS welcomes broad comparative and transnational studies as well as essays emanating from fine-grained historical, cultural, political, and literary research. The journal also publishes clusters of papers that present new and vibrant discussions on specific themes and issues.
