Medical Law Review

now with full-text online

The Medical Law Review is an authoritative source of reference for academics, lawyers, legal and medical practitioners, law students, and anyone interested in health care and the law. The Review presents articles of international interest which provide thorough analysis and comment on the wide range of topical issues that are fundamental to this expanding area of law.

The journal carries two commentary sections. The first concentrates on UK law and includes case reports and legislation summaries followed by analytical interpretation. The second section concentrates on recent developments in the USA, the Commonwealth, and Europe – keeping you in touch with worldwide legislation. The Review also features book reviews of relevant publications.

Recent Articles include: Informed consent and other fairy stories * Regulating the reproduction business? * Physician involvement in a patient's death: a continental European perspective * Does surrogacy have a future after Brazil? * Feeding anorexic patients who refuse food

The Review now offers full text online at no extra charge! Visit the web site for more information on how subscribers may access this very useful resource that allows you to keep current with a simple click!

OPEN SOCIETY INSTITUTE

Project on Death in America Faculty Scholars Program Request for Applications

The Project on Death in America, funded by the Open Society Institute, a non-profit foundation that supports the development of open societies worldwide, invites health care professionals to submit applications to its Faculty Scholars Program. The Faculty Scholars Program will support scholars who are committed to improving the care of the dying through initiatives in research, scholarship, education, and policy. Fellowship funds may be used to support 60% of the Scholar's salary and benefits for two years, up to a maximum of $65,000 per year and to provide up to $5,000 per year in travel funds for national meetings, research assistance, summer stipends, and other costs. Applications are requested from all relevant U.S. health care professionals (physicians, nurses, social workers, lawyers, pastoral care or ethicists) who are doctorate-level faculty members from accredited health professional educational institutions in the United States and hold a rank of Instructor, Assistant or Associate Professor. (Application deadline: January 6, 2000)

BIOETHICS FELLOWSHIP AT THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH

The Department of Bioethics invites individuals with MD, Ph.D., JD, or other relevant graduate training, to apply for its two-year post-doctoral fellowship program beginning in September of each year. Fellows will study and participate in research related to the ethics of clinical medicine, health policy, human subjects research, or other bioethical fields of interest. They will participate in bioethics seminars, case conferences, ethics consultation, IRB deliberations, a clinical research training course and multiple educational opportunities at the NIH. Application deadline is January 15. For information: Becky Chen, Department of Clinical Bioethics, Building 10 Rm. 1C118, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, MD 20892-1156; (301) 496-2429; bchen@cc.nih.gov.

MASTER OF ARTS IN BIOETHICS

University of Pittsburgh

Designed for clinicians, lawyers, and students of the humanities and social sciences, this interdisciplinary program emphasizes the philosophical foundation of bioethics and offers opportunities for clinical experience and in-depth research. This program of the Center for Bioethics and Health Law and Faculty of Arts and Sciences allows students to combine study in ethical theory, philosophy and history of medicine, cultural studies, health law, public health, and social sciences. Students may complete coursework, including clinical practica, in one calendar year. A thesis is required. Joint JD/MA and MD/MA programs are available. Applications are considered on a rolling basis, beginning February 1, until August 1 or until the class is filled.

For information and application materials, contact: Director of Admissions, Center for Bioethics and Health Law, Suite 300 Medical Arts Building, 3708 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15213; bioethic+@pitt.edu; 412-647-5700.

American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics

Where Multidisciplinary Education Improves Practice

THE SOCIETY

The mission of the American Society of Law, Medicine & Ethics (ASLME) is to provide quality scholarship, debate, and critical thought to the community of professionals at the nexus of law, medicine, health policy, and ethics.

For more than twenty-five years, ASLME has fulfilled its mission by providing extensive opportunities for interdisciplinary education to its membership of attorneys, physicians, nurses, ethicists, educators, hospital and public administrators, risk managers, pharmacists, social workers, and students.

Our multidisciplinary approach to education and problem solving is unique.

PUBLICATIONS

The Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics is a peer reviewed quarterly read by more than 4,500 health care professionals. It provides articles on such timely topics as health care quality and access, managed care, pain management, genetics, informed consent, end-of-life care, assisted dying, ethics committees, child/maternal health, reproductive health, HIV/AIDS, and public health. Issues include reviews of significant health policy developments, medicolegal case law, and books.

The Spring 1999 issue contains articles on various clinical and legal issues arising between providers and proxies in the care of incapacitated patients. The Fall 1999 issue contains articles on end-of-life care in correctional facilities.

The American Journal of Law & Medicine is a law review fulfilling the need to improve communication between legal and medical professionals. Issues contain articles and notes—on themes in health law and policy, and on the legal, ethical, and economic aspects of medical practice, research, and education—and reviews of significant medicolegal case law.

The Spring 1999 issue contains articles on state medical peer review and peer review protection statutes and Medicare+Choice appeal procedures. The Summer & Fall 1999 symposium focuses on electronic medicine. Its articles examine liability and privacy issues in telemedicine and electronic information sources.

ASLME Briefings, the Society's newsletter, presents on a quarterly basis, updates on recent medicolegal developments that affect health care professionals. The updates are provided by attorneys practicing at the nation's largest health law firms.

CONFERENCES

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF LAW & MEDICINE SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

EDITORIAL SCOPE: The editors of the AMERICAN JOURNAL OF LAW & MEDICINE (AJLM) encourage the submission of manuscripts on a wide range of medicolegal topics. Acceptable subjects include health law and health policy; legal, ethical, social, and economic aspects of medical practice, education, and research; health-related insurance; and other issues involving the relationship of the life sciences to the social sciences and humanities. AJLM is interdisciplinary. Submissions from specialists in all health care-related disciplines are welcomed.

EDITORIAL ADDRESS: Send all materials to the Editor-in-Chief, AMERICAN JOURNAL OF LAW & MEDICINE, 765 Commonwealth Avenue, Suite 1672, Boston, Massachusetts, 02215.

GENERAL SUBMISSION FORMAT: Manuscripts must be typed and single-sided. They must be double-spaced, with liberal margins. Manuscripts should be submitted in triplicate, i.e., an original and two photocopies. The title of the paper and the author's name and address should be given only on the covering sheet. Papers should be a minimum of forty pages in length. If a paper is accepted, the author will be expected to provide a disk copy either in MS Word 6.0, 7.0, or in WordPerfect 5.1, 6.0.

ABSTRACTS: An abstract (of no more than 200 words), succinctly summarizing the content of the manuscript, should accompany the manuscript on a separate page.

REFERENCES: Footnotes must be numbered consecutively and double-spaced. All footnotes should conform to A Uniform System of Citation (16th ed.), which is published and distributed by the Harvard Law Review Association, Gannett House, Cambridge, MA 02138. Nonlawyers unfamiliar with this system should follow the citation form accepted in their discipline. When a paper is accepted, the editors will work by arrangement with the author to convert the footnotes into the proper form.

ILLUSTRATIONS: All illustrations, tables, graphs and charts must be numbered and given suitable legends. Authors must indicate in the manuscript the appropriate positions of such graphics. Authors will be expected to provide either suitable disk graphics files or camera-ready copy.

SELECTION & EDITING TIMETABLE: On receipt of a manuscript, the editors will send a letter of acknowledgment. Authors will be notified of manuscript decisions within one to three months of receipt, depending on the length of the manuscript. Accepted manuscripts are usually published within three months of acceptance.

PROOF PAGES & AUTHOR REPRINTS: Authors will be given one set of proof pages prior to publication. Proof pages will incorporate textual revisions discussed between the editor and the author. Reprint order forms for perfect-bound reprints will accompany the proof pages. All orders must be prepaid.

RETURN OF MANUSCRIPTS: AJLM retains one copy of all manuscripts submitted for consideration. Copies are not returned unless the author so requests in writing and supplies AJLM with a return self-addressed envelope and adequate postage.

PUBLICATION TIME TABLE: AJLM is published quarterly: Spring; Summer & Fall; and Winter. It goes to press in February; June; and November, respectively.
