

THE American
POLITICAL SCIENCE
Review

Vol. LVII

December, 1963

No. 4

Rights, Liberties, Freedoms: A Reappraisal	Carl J. Friedrich	841
Approaches to Staffing the Presidency: Notes on FDR and JFK	Richard E. Neustadt	855
A Letter from Louis Brownlow		863
Constitutional Separation of Church and State: the Quest for a Coherent Position	William W. Van Alstyne	865
Direct Democracy in France	Henry W. Ehrmann	883
The Analysis of Bloc Voting in the General Assembly	Arend Lijphart	902
Calhoun's New Science of Politics	Ralph Lerner	918
Trends in American Political Science	Albert Somit and Joseph Tanenhaus	933
Communications to the Editor		948
Book Reviews, Notes and Bibliography	Austin Ranney (ed.)	955
News and Notes	Ralph A. Straetz (ed.)	1046
Index to Volume LVII	Corinne Silverman	1073

(For list of book reviews, see page 955)

Published quarterly by

THE AMERICAN POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION

HARPER & ROW, PUBLISHERS

announces

THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC:

ITS GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

by PETER H. ODEGARD and HANS BAERWALD. This important new text—coming in February—is a comprehensive analysis of the spirit and structure of the American Republic. The book is primarily concerned with political power, with the ideas, values, and theories which have served to give direction and purpose to government in the United States. Emphasis is on process and policy, rather than on description of form and structure. After an introduction, major sections of the book cover politics and parties, the Constitution, the basic structure of government, the Bill of Rights, the federal system, state and local government, and domestic and foreign policies. The book is highly readable; the illustrations well integrated with the text. There will be a Teacher's Manual.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT:

READINGS AND DOCUMENTS

by PETER H. ODEGARD. A collection of some 150 readings and documents in American government, edited to accompany any standard text in American government. In selecting the readings the editor has ranged widely and resourcefully through the literature. Nearly half of the selections are documents, the vast majority of which are not otherwise conveniently available. Headnotes are short and unobtrusive.

HARPER & ROW, PUBLISHERS

49 E. 33d St., N. Y. 10016

Please mention THE AMERICAN POLITICAL SCIENCE REVIEW when writing to advertisers