THE SCHOOL OF CRITICISM & THEORY at Cornell University

An international program of study with leading figures in critical theory

invites you to apply for its 2014 Summer Session,
June 15 - July 25

IN NEW YORK STATE'S FINGER LAKES REGION

"One of the most enriching intellectual experiences of my academic life."

Karine Côté-Boucher, York University

"This summer odyssey transformed not only many ideas I previously had about theory and criticism, but also the very experience of being an academic."

Katarzyna Bojarska, Polish Academy of Sciences

"In this community of critics, away from the familiar ecology of one's home institution, one is offered new ways of seeing, new questions, new connections."

David Russell, Princeton University

"At SCT the exposure to learning is absolutely open and continuous."

Stefano Selenu, Brown University

"At SCT there is a spirit of lively, respectful exchange, serious commitment to critical dialogue, and actual interest in listening to others."

Lynda Paul, Yale University

"Our classroom was a rich mosaic of heterogeneous disciplinary backgrounds and interests."

Alicia Garcia, Johns Hopkins University

The Program

In an intensive six-week course of study, participants from around the world, across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, explore recent developments in critical theory.

Tuition

The fee for the session is $2700. Applicants are eligible to compete for partial tuition scholarships and are urged to seek funding from their home institutions.

Admission

We welcome applications from faculty members and advanced graduate students at universities worldwide. Applications must be submitted online by February 1, and admissions decisions are announced in March.

The Naisadhiyacarita and Literary Community in South Asia

DEVEN M. PATEL

"Deven M. Patel builds a nuanced, complex, and compelling picture of the cultural roles the Naisadhiyacarita fulfilled over a period of some 700 years. The result is a fascinating case study of the ways the Sanskrit tradition sought to come to grips with a major work."—David Shulman, Hebrew University of Jerusalem

The Rhetorical Imagination of Hindi Dalit Literature

LAURA R. BRUECK

"Writing Resistance is an original and timely contribution to scholarship on Hindi literature, modern Indian literature and Dalit studies. The work is well researched, using a judicious combination of Hindi and English sources and provides, an overview of the central concerns of Hindi Dalit literature as both a political and aesthetic movement."—Allison Busch, Columbia University

Philology

The Forgotten Origins of the Modern Humanities

James Turner

“This fascinating book makes a powerful argument: that the modern humanities derived in large part from the broad tradition of philology. This genealogy, Turner shows, clarifies the origins of both the modern research university and its disciplines, and explains similarities between such apparently diverse fields as history and comparative religion. This is a gripping intellectual detective story.”

Simon Gikandi

“This is an absorbing and . . . well-executed study. It is nuanced, erudite and wide-ranging, shedding much valuable new light on the vexed relationships between eighteenth-century aesthetic culture and the outrageous history that shadows it.”

Faust I & II

Goethe’s Collected Works, Volume 2

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Edited and translated by Stuart Atkins

With a new introduction by David E. Wellbery

One of the great classics of European literature, Faust is Goethe’s most complex and profound work. To tell the dramatic and tragic story of one man’s pact with the Devil in exchange for knowledge and power, Goethe drew from an immense variety of cultural and historical material, and a wealth of poetic and theatrical traditions.

An Essay on the Original of Literature

Daniel Defoe

The young Daniel Defoe thought he was destined to become a Presbyterian minister. Instead, he became a man of letters: poet, political journalist, economic essayist, novelist. His Essay on the Original of Literature is a writer's glorification of the invention and craft of literature, radically understood.

PREACHING THE GOSPEL OF BLACK REVOLT

Appropriating Milton in Early African American Literature

Reginald A. Wilburn

"Wilburn illuminates early African American writers' bold and ingenious interpretations of one of Western literature's epic poets, John Milton. In doing so, Wilburn, like the authors he has so lucidly researched, renders 'darkness visible' for a new generation of literary scholars."

— Henry Louis Gates Jr., Alphonse Fletcher University Professor, Harvard University

MILTON AND THE POETICS OF FREEDOM

Susanne Woods

"Freedom" is a powerful term with elastic meanings and contradictory uses; it has both driven rebellion and justified empire. Woods reveals John Milton's central place in the evolution both of ideas of freedom in English-speaking culture and in creating a poetics that actually invites readers to enact the freedom Milton defines.

Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture

SCHOLARS IN RESIDENCE

Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture,

a unit of The New York Public Library's Research Libraries, announces its Scholars-in-Residence Program for the academic year of 2015-2016.

The Fellowship Program encompasses projects in African, Afro-American, and Afro-Caribbean history and culture, with an emphasis on African Diasporan Studies and Biography, Social History and African American Culture. (Please see our website for information on the Center's holdings at www.schomburgcenter.org.)

Requirements Fellows are required to be in full-time residence at the Center during the award period. They are expected to utilize the Center's resources extensively, participate in scheduled seminars, colloquia and luncheons, review and critique papers presented at these forums, and prepare a report on work accomplished at the end of their residency. Persons seeking support for research leading to degrees are not eligible under this program. Candidates for advanced degrees must have received the degree or completed all requirements for it by the application deadline. Foreign nationals are not eligible unless they will have resided in the United States for three years immediately preceding the award date.

Award Fellowships funded by the Program will allow recipients to spend six months in residence with access to resources at both the Schomburg Center and The New York Public Library. The fellowship stipend is $30,000 for six months. This program is made possible in part through grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Ford Foundation, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, and the Samuel I. Newhouse Foundation.

Literary Lives

“[Byrne] breathes yet more life into Austen and her works by considering the objects that populated her days.... [The] thematic approach offers a revealing picture of Austen and a lively social history....paints a fresh and vivid picture of an inimitable woman.”

— The Economist

Available in Paperback

“Winder has painstakingly sketched a fully fleshed out portrait of Plath’s life during that hot, seminal summer, offering a glimpse into the raison d’être behind Plath’s revered 1963 roman a clef, The Bell Jar. . . . Winder goes into the dizzying, delightful detail.”

— USA Today

Available in Paperback

“Adam Begley’s Updike is a model of what a literary biography should be: rich with penetrating insights not only about the life but also about the work. It will enthrall long-time Updike fans and help create generations of new ones.”

— Francine Prose

2015/2016 Fellowships

The Society for the Humanities at Cornell University seeks interdisciplinary research projects that investigate the cultural, social, artistic, philosophical, and political implications of TIME as a concept and experience that lies at the heart of the humanities and the arts. Cornell's David R. Atkinson Center for a Sustainable Future co-sponsors one fellowship to support scholarly work addressing the theme as it relates to energy, the environment or economic development.

Six to eight Fellows will be appointed. Each Society Fellow will receive $45,000. Application materials, including letters of recommendation, must be submitted on or before October 1, 2014. Applicants must have received the Ph.D. degree before January 1, 2014.

Approaches to Teaching Chaucer's Canterbury Tales

SECOND EDITION

Peter W. Travis and Frank Grady, eds.

"A worthy and needed successor to the 1980 edition, this volume charts in comprehensive fashion the goals that Chaucerians now have when they teach The Canterbury Tales and the methods they have devised to achieve them."

—Warren Ginsberg

Knight Professor of Humanities, University of Oregon

Approaches to Teaching Coetzee's Disgrace and Other Works

Laura Wright, Jane Poyner, and Elleke Boehmer, eds.

"The sheer range of critical and pedagogical approaches canvassed is little short of astonishing, and the ingenuity and effort that these teachers of Coetzee put into preparing their courses should be a source of real inspiration to their readers."

—Gareth Cornwell

Rhodes University, South Africa

xii & 248 pp.

Approaches to Teaching Petrarch's Canzoniere and the Petrarchan Tradition

Christopher Kleinhenz and Andrea Dini, eds.

"A solid and much-needed volume. There is a nice balance between established scholars and younger ones, as well as between essays that range over Petrarch's entire career and those that focus on individual themes or poems."
