

NEWS OF THE MEMBERS

The revised edition of A Near East Studies Handbook by Jere L. Bacharach is now available from the University of Washington Press, Seattle, Washington 98105.

Ann Schulz has just published International and Regional Politics in the Middle East and North Africa: A Guide to Information, Gale Research Company, Detroit, Michigan, 1977. 244 pp.

John Norton Moore has edited The Arab-Israeli Conflict: Readings and Documents, Princeton University Press, 1977. 1285 pp. The volume was sponsored by the American Society of International Law.

Middle East Institute Vice President John Campbell has resigned his vice presidency after ten years. He remains on the Board of Governors.

Georg Krotkoff has published an Arabic-German pocketbook dictionary entitled Langenscheidts Taschenwörterbuch der Arabischen und Deutschen Sprache, Langenscheidt, 1976.

A second edition of American Doctoral Dissertations on the Arab World, 1883-1974 compiled by George Dimitri Selim is available from the Library of Congress, Washington.

David W. Littlefield has published The Islamic Near East and North Africa: An Annotated Guide to Books in English for Non-Specialists, 1976. It is available from Libraries Unlimited, Inc., P.O. Box 263, Littleton, Colorado 80160.

Tareq Y. Ismael has just published The Arab Left, Syracuse University Press, Syracuse, New York 13210.

Mordechai Abir has published Persian Gulf Oil in Middle East and International Conflicts, 1976, Jerusalem Papers on Peace Problems Number 20, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

For the summer of 1977 Khalil Nakhleh was an N.E.H. Fellow and participated in a summer seminar on "Intellectuals and Twentieth Century Revolutions" held at Washington University, St. Louis.

Denise Schmandt-Besserat has edited The Legacy of Sumer, Undena Publications. The book is the compilation of a series of exhibit-related lectures presented at the University of Texas in 1975.

Emile A. Nakhleh was elected on April 26, 1977 Town Commissioner by the people of Emmitsburg, Maryland. He will serve a two-year term.

George J. Koury has just published An Arabic Reader for Beginners designed to expose the beginning student to selections from both classical and modern Arabic. It is available from Smyrna Press, Box 841-Stuyvesant Station, New York, NY 10009.

Metin Heper will be a research associate at the Center for Middle Eastern Studies of Harvard University for 1977-78. While at the Center he will work primarily on the relations of the squatter dwellers of Turkey with the secondary organizations in the cities. Professor Heper has recently published Modernity and Traditionalism in the Turkish Public Bureaucracy, Istanbul, 1977 (in Turkish).

John P. Entelis, Associate Professor of Political Science at Fordham University, has been appointed Senior Fulbright Professor to the University of Algiers, Algeria, for the 1977-78 academic year.