

Newcomen Awards in Business History

For the best article published in the Business History Review during the previous year the Society will award a prize of $300 and a scroll. For the best article published in the Business History Review during the previous year by a graduate student or a recent Ph.D. who has not published a book in business history, the Society will award a special prize of $150 and a scroll. Criteria for selection include originality, value, breadth and interest of contribution, quality of research materials and methods, and quality of presentation.

Winners will be selected by a panel of judges consisting of the editors and the members of the editorial board of the Business History Review, none of whom shall be eligible to receive a prize. The awards are administered by the editorial office of the Review. No special prize will be awarded in years when, in the opinion of the judges, no eligible article suitable for the prize was published, and no person may be awarded both prizes in any one year.

Thomas Newcomen Book Award in Business History

The Newcomen Society of the United States, in cooperation with the Business History Review, will award in 1988 the ninth in a series of triennial prizes consisting of $1,000 and a scroll for the best book on the history of business published in the United States between 1985 and 1987. "Business history" is defined in its broadest sense to include not only the history of firms or industries, but books tracing interactions of business leaders, analyses of business philosophy or behavior, and studies of the adjustment of businesses and businesspeople to their economic, political, and social environments. Criteria for selection will include contribution to knowledge, depth of analysis, soundness of reasoning, clarity of style and organization, and general readability and format.

Judges for the 1988 award will be announced at an appropriate time by the Harvard Business School and the Newcomen Society of the United States.

"An important collaboration by two of America's leading business historians."—PAUL TIFFANY, The Wharton School

THE RISE OF THE CORPORATE COMMONWEALTH

Louis Galambos and Joseph Pratt

A panoramic survey of the dynamic interactions between American business and public policy, from J.P. Morgan to Lee Iacocca. "Not only students of business and history will benefit from this informative, insightful, and well-written book. So will all the readers who wish to enhance their understanding of 20th century capitalism."—PAUL McNULTY, Dean, School of Business, Columbia University "Offers the clearest and most convincing explanation I've seen of how 'The American Century' was launched and why it only lasted 25 years."—RICHARD ROSENBLUM, Harvard Business School. $19.95
