A Report on the Congressional Fellowship Program, 1988-89 and 1989-90

The Congressional Fellowship Program is a professional level internship that gives academics, journalists, federal executives, and other professionals an opportunity to work on the staffs of senators, representatives, and congressional committees. Its goals are:

- to improve the quality of scholarship and teaching on Congress and American national politics;
- to enhance public understanding of Congress and policymaking; and
- to provide professionals from several fields with practical experience in Congress and insight into the legislative process.

Since 1953, the first year of the Program, there have been a total of 1,352 Fellows, including 222 political scientists, 180 journalists, 654 federal executives, and 278 medical faculty and others.

Although the first class of Fellows had only six members, in recent years the Program has grown to include between 40 and 50 Fellows each year. The political science and journalism Fellows are selected in nationwide competitions. Political science applicants must have completed their doctorates within the last fifteen years or be near completion, and reporters must have a bachelor's degree and between two and ten years of professional experience in newspaper, magazine, television, or radio reporting. Criteria for selection are quality training, demonstrated competence, maturity and responsibility, relevance of fellowship experience to career goals, and potential for professional advancement.

While the political scientists and journalists remain the core of the program and are supported by the APSA through contributions from corporations and foundations, the majority of each year's class of Fellows participates in the program through affiliate arrangements, including:

- federal executives (Grades 13-16) supported by agency training funds;
- Asian Fellows supported by the Asia Foundation;
- Health Policy Fellows, including medical faculty, supported by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the W. K. Kellogg Foundation;
- anthropology faculty supported by the American Anthropological Association;
- West German Fellows supported by the German Marshall Fund;
- Carl Albert Fellows supported by the Carl Albert Center at the University of Oklahoma; and
- a French Fellow supported by the Fondation Franco-Americaine in Paris.

Those who have funded political scientists and journalists include the Knight Foundation, the Mary Norris Preyer Fund, the New York Times Foundation and the Poynter Fund.

The Walter and Phyllis Shorenstein Family has provided funding to endow a Fellowship in the name of their daughter, Joan Shorenstein Barone. Joan was a well-known and highly respected producer for CBS News who died in 1985 at a tragically early age. The Joan Shorenstein Barone Fellowship is awarded to a broadcast journalist of special merit, and was given for the first time to a 1986-87 Fellow, Jean Powell, news reporter for KEZI-TV in Eugene, Oregon. The 1987-88 recipient was Jay A. Kohn, Capitol Bureau Chief, Montana Television Network, Helena, Montana. William Lewis Graf, State Capitol Reporter, WISC-TV, Madison, Wisconsin, was the recipient for 1988-89, and Philip L. Ingrassia, Assistant News Director and Legislative Reporter for KDLT-TV in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, is the recipient for 1989-90.

The Poynter Fund contribution is designated to support a promising Fellow in print journalism. William D. Zaferos, political reporter for the Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wisconsin, was named the Poynter Fellow for 1987-88. The first Poynter Fellow was Celia Cohen (1985-86), staff reporter for the Wilmington, Delaware News-Journal. Andrew Pollack, City Hall reporter for The Democrat and Chronicle Newspapers, Rochester, New York, was the 1986-87 recipient. The 1988-89 Poynter Fellow was Kenton Bird, editorial page editor, Idahonian/Palouse Empire Daily News, Moscow, Idaho, and Pullman, Washington. Kristen Huckshorn, reporter for the San Jose Mercury News, California, has been selected to be the 1989-

90 Poynter Fellow.

The Fellowship Program commences in early November with an orientation period that includes meetings and seminars with members of Congress, congressional staffs, political scientists, journalists, lobbyists, government administrators, and others on a wide range of topics relating to Congress and national politics. During this time Fellows also begin exploring possibilities for assignments in congressional offices. These negotiations are conducted by the Fellows themselves, and their placements are decided by the Fellows and the offices in which they will work. Fellows begin work in House or Senate offices in early December, and serve in their initial assignments for about four and a half months. In April they are encouraged to look for new assignments on the other side of the legislature so that each Fellow has an opportunity to experience both the House and Senate during the Fellowship year. Weekly seminars for the Fellows are held throughout the year to supplement the orientation period, and each Fellow also makes one trip with a Senator or Representative to the member's home state or district to observe constituent work and campaign activities.

Kay Sterling is Administrative Director of the Congressional Fellowship Program. Christopher J. Deering, Associate Professor of Political Science at The George Washington University, has recently joined the program as Director for Academic Planning and Development. An Advisory Committee, whose members are listed below, provides overall policy guidance for the Program.
