

Hospital Histories in the College Library

Members may be interested to know that the College Library holds a small collection of histories of individual hospitals. They range from short, privately produced pamphlets to comprehensive studies and cover a variety of institutions, some long since closed. As most of these works are now out of print (many were originally produced in limited numbers), members may care to consult them in the Library. In some cases duplicate copies are available for loan.

It is hoped to add to this collection and I should be very pleased to know of any other hospital histories available.
