International Decisions

Edited by Olabisi D. Akinkugbe

Declaratory Action of Constitutionality N. 39 of Brazilian Supreme Court

(Lucas Carlos Lima)

704

This decision of the Brazilian Supreme Court sets an important precedent for Brazil's internal practice for withdrawal from treaties. While the decision is from a national court, it contributes to a broader regional discussion with regard to withdrawal from treaties and democratic participation on international acts, a debate which has also taken place in other national jurisdictions and at the Inter-American Court of Human Rights.

Ligue Ivoirienne Des Droit De L'Homme and Others v. Cote D'Ivoire

(Yusra Suedi and Marie Fall)

710

This decision of the African Human Rights Court on Human and People's Rights highlights the courts role in holding corporate corporations accountable for environment and associated human rights violations. This dispute arose out of a highly toxic waste dumped in several sites in Abidjan, Ivory Coast by independent petroleum marketers. This is the first decision that the court has rendered regarding the obligation of states parties in connection with corporate activities.

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The American Journal of International Law (AJIL) has been published quarterly since 1907. It features articles, essays, and editorial comments by pre-eminent scholars on developments in international law and international relations. AJIL contains summaries and analyses of decisions by national and international courts and arbitral or other tribunals, and of contemporary U.S. practice in international law. Each issue lists recent publications in English and other languages, many of which are reviewed in depth. The AJIL is indispensable for all professionals working in international law, economics, trade, and foreign affairs.

AJIL (ISSN: 0002-9300) is published quarterly (January, April, July, October) in print and digitally by Cambridge University Press (One Liberty Plaza, 20th floor, New York, NY 10006) on behalf of the American Society of International Law. As a nonpartisan organization whose members hold a diversity of views, the Society refrains from taking positions on policy matters, except in accordance with the formal process set forth in the ASIL Constitution and Regulations. The views expressed in the articles, editorial comments, book reviews, and all other contributions to AJIL are those of the individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the Board of Editors or the Society.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The American Society of International Law (ASIL) is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, educational membership organization founded in 1906 and chartered by Congress in 1950. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., its mission is “to foster the study of international law and to promote the establishment and maintenance of international relations on the basis of law and justice.” ASIL holds Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations and is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies.

ASIL’s 3,500 members come from more than one hundred nations with nearly 40 percent residing outside the United States. Its members include scholars, jurists, practitioners, government officials, leaders in international and nongovernmental organizations, students, and others interested in international law. Through its many publications, conferences, briefings, and educational events, ASIL seeks to serve the needs of its diverse membership and to advance understanding of international law among policymakers and the public.

ASIL is a volunteer-led organization governed by an elected Executive Council and administered by an executive director and professional staff.

JOURNAL INFORMATION

AJIL is published in print and digitally by Cambridge University Press on behalf of the American Society of International Law. To reduce time between acceptance and publication, contributions may appear online as FirstView publications in advance of their scheduled publication in an issue. Discover the entire AJIL back archive at www.cambridge.org/ajil/issues.

Subscriptions

The electronic version of AJIL is available to all members of the American Society of International Law by login to the ASIL website www.asil.org. Print copies are also supplied to all members.

To subscribe as a non-member or recommend a subscription to your librarian go to www.cambridge.org/ajil.

Submission of Manuscripts

AJIL invites submission of manuscripts on international law subjects. AJIL's coverage extends beyond public international law to closely related issues of global governance, transnational law, and national or sub-state law. It generally does not publish manuscripts focused on purely private or commercial law or on comparative or foreign law, including the internal law of the European Union. AJIL will not consider submissions whose content has been, or will be, published before it appears in this journal.

AJIL welcomes submissions for Articles, Essays, and Current Developments via AJIL's electronic submission website mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ajil or through Scholastica at ajil.scholasticahq.com/.

Editorial Comments are written by members of the Board of Editors. Content for the Contemporary Practice of the United States Relating to International Law section of AJIL is generated by the editor of that section, Jacob Katz Cogan, and outside submissions are not accepted. The Recent Books on International Law section contains book reviews that are solicited by invitation of the editor, Jeffrey L. Dunoff.

The International Decisions section, edited by Olabisi Akinkugbe, focuses on final decisions (not subject to further appeal) of international courts or national courts on international law issues. It consists of contributions that are mostly proposed to the editor by readers of the AJIL. Proposals for International Decisions should be sent to Olabisi.Akinkugbe@dal.ca.

AJIL Unbound, an online initiative to supplement AJIL by publishing short, original essays, periodically issues open calls for short contributions on specified topics.

AJIL is committed to publishing a diversity of authors, whether based in the United States or abroad, and to covering a wide range of subjects and approaches. Suggestions for topics for AJIL* symposia or Agora should be sent to admin_ajil@columbia.edu.

All submissions must follow the AJIL Style Guide. Full instructions on how to prepare and submit your paper may be found here:
