Refuge from Inhumanity? War Refugees and Inter-national Humanitarian Law

Edited by David James Cantor and Jean-François Durieux

This book contributes to a long-standing but ever topical debate about whether persons fleeing war to seek asylum in another country – 'war refugees' – are protected by international law. It seeks to add to this debate by bringing together a detailed set of analyses examining the extent to which the application of international humanitarian law (IHL) may usefully advance the legal protection of such persons.

Failure to Prevent Gross Human Rights Violations in Darfur

Warnings to and Responses by International Decision Makers (2003 - 2005)

Fred Grünfeld and Wessel N. Vermeulen in cooperation with Jasper Krommendijk

The book looks at the role of states and international organizations in their attempts to prevent the genocide in Darfur (2003-2005); from early warning to limited action in the field of humanitarian assistance, mediation, sanctions and peace-keeping. The book uses several theories to explain how decision-making led to the (absence) of international responses.

The Development in International Law of Articles 23 and 24 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights: The Labor Rights Articles

Lee Swebston

The human rights enunciated in Articles 23 and 24 of the UDHR concern aspects of rights related to work. This part of international human rights law is often neglected in human rights textbooks and teaching, and indeed is often omitted from the work done by national human rights institutes and by NGOs concerned with human rights, as though it were a separate discipline that did not fall properly into the human rights field. This volume addresses this commonly held, but erroneous, misconception.

ASIL Insights

ASIL Insights are a wonderful way for me to learn quickly from people who are knowledgeable and authoritative about recent and ongoing developments in international law, particularly in areas that are a little outside my own area of expertise, so they help me stay abreast, and they make me more effective in my teaching.

Allen Weiner
Senior Lecturer at Stanford University Law School and Director of Stanford's Program in International and Comparative Law

ASIL Insights, the “international law behind the headlines,” provide brief, balanced accounts of the international law issues raised by newsworthy late-breaking events. They cover the gamut of international legal topics, with past articles covering topics such as the legality of intervention in Syria, the United States’ implementation of adverse WTO rulings, and the International Court of Justice’s ruling on Antarctic whaling. ASIL Insights are distributed to subscribers and posted on the ASIL website approximately two times a month.

To receive ASIL Insights, simply create a guest account at asil.org. To view past Insights or propose a new one, visit www.asil.org/Insights.
