Christian Unity

edited by Archbishop Heenan

10/6

This book contains the texts of the talks given at Heythrop during the conference organised by Archbishop Heenan in preparation for the Council. Archbishop Heenan, Cardinal Bea, Father Henry St John are among the contributors. There are many other leading priests who have contributed to this important discussion on the prospects for Christian unity.

Christianity Divided

BARTH, KÜNG, SCHILLEBEECKX & OTHERS

12/6

For the first time essays by really great living writers of both the Protestant and Catholic traditions have been brought together in this book to discuss the central questions which divide us. This book does not seek for facile agreement but is out to make intelligent and charitable conversation possible.

... and, of course, the amazing best-seller -

The Council and Reunion

HANS KÜNG

11/6

"This book, bold and exciting yet balanced and judicious, is a needed antidote to chronic immaturity frightened of change and criticism and an encouragement to those who have inarticulately felt that spiritual childhood is not the same as childishness."

Charles Davis in the Catholic Gazette

"... if ever there was a 'must' for every educated Catholic, it is this. ... This book, in all its sweep and detail, rises incomparably to the heights of the Pope's challenge and the world's need."

Anthony Stephenson, S.J., in the Clergy Review
