Hawthorne, Melville and the American Character

A Looking-Glass Business

JOHN P. McWILLIAMS

'Books like (this) serve usefully to remind us that American literature is historical in not one but several ways: rooted in particular moments and places, dramatising a series of historically shaped and culturally representative problems and possibilities, it also ventures to give us an idea of the processes of history – a sense, that is, of all our lives in time.'

Hart Crane: the Contexts of The Bridge

PAUL GILES

In this analysis of Hart Crane's The Bridge Paul Giles shows that Crane was consciously constructing his poem out of a huge number of puns and paradoxes, most of which have until now never been noticed. In particular he investigates the extent of James Joyce's influence, Einstein and relativity, Freud and psychoanalysis, bootlegging, burlesque theatre and Hollywood cinema.

For Bread With Butter

The Life-Worlds of East Central Europeans in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, 1890-1940

EWA MORAWSKA

This book examines in detail the lives of the East Central Europeans who came to Johnstown, Pennsylvania, in the mass peasant migrations of the late nineteenth century. It provides a rich and detailed account of their perceptions and expectations of America and their place there, and how they organised their everyday lives in pursuit of their goals.

The American Newness

Culture and Politics in the Age of Emerson

IRVING HOWE

'To confront American culture is to feel oneself encircled by a thin but strong presence. I Call it Emersonian, an imprecise term but one that directs us to a dominant spirit in the national experience.' Thus Irving Howe, one of America's most distinguished social critics, begins his illuminating discussion of Emerson and his disciples and doubters. What is the Emersonian spirit? What inspired it? What does it mean to Americans today?

Fighting Poverty

What Works and What Doesn't

Edited by SHELDON H. DANZIGER & DANIEL H. WEINBERGER

Two decades after President Johnson initiated the War on Poverty, this book makes an unbiased assessment of its effects. A distinguished group of economists, sociologists, political scientists and policy analysts address such questions as: How do economic growth, social movements and changes in the welfare system affect the poor? What economic and political factors influence anti-poverty programmes?

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer, Brighton, BN1 9QN, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to The Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition, 1982) or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.

Books for review should be sent as follows: History, Political Science and Social Studies to Dr Michael Heale, Department of History, Furness College, University of Lancaster, Bailrigg, Lancaster LA1 4YG. Literature, the Fine Arts and other books to Professor Stephen Fender, School of English and American Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer,
