KANDINSKY IN MUNICH
The Formative
Jugendstil Years

PEG WEISS

It was in Munich shortly after the turn of the century that Wassily Kandinsky made his historic breakthrough to abstract painting. At that time, Munich was an international art center and the home of Germany's Art Nouveau movement, Jugendstil, which was still the vitalizing art force of the day. Peg Weiss examines the effect of the Jugendstil atmosphere on Kandinsky's development. 167 illus., 8 in color. 8½ x 8¾". $30.00

GERMAN REARMAMENT
AND THE WEST,
1932-1933

EDWARD W. BENNETT

This probing examination of the period just before and after Hitler came to power corrects many misconceptions about German rearmament. Drawing on previously unexploited sources, Edward Bennett unravels German military plans and shows their implications, undermining the notion that Hitler's accession represented a radical break with Germany's past. He also lays bare the fears and rivalries that hindered the West's response, particularly at the 1932-1933 World Disarmament Conference. $35.00

POLISH SOCIETY UNDER
GERMAN OCCUPATION
The Generalgouvernement,
1939-1944

JAN TOMASZ GROSS

By combining historical and political analysis with a sophisticated sociological approach, Jan Gross offers a new interpretation of the German occupation of Poland during World War II. Based on his hypothesis that a society cannot be destroyed by coercion short of the physical annihilation of its members, his work has a twofold aim: to examine the model of German occupation in theory and in practice, and to identify the patterns of collective behavior that emerged among the Polish people in response to the social control exercised over them. $20.00
