NEW AND SUSPENDED PERIODICALS

The American Musical Digest appeared for the first time in October, 1969. Besides having a discussion of various musical subjects, it carries news of musical happenings around the world, book and record sections, and reports on how people from other parts of the world view our musical endeavors. The annual subscription rate for eleven issues is $10.00 a year. Address: MIT Press, 50 Ames Street, Cambridge, Mass. 02142.

The Boletín informativo de antropología changed hands. Beginning with the issue of June, 1970 (No. 7), it will be published under the auspices of the Asociación Venezolana de Sociología (AVS), Caracas, Venezuela. Beginning in 1971 the Boletín, which has appeared irregularly, will appear twice a year. An annual subscription costs $2.00. All correspondence to be sent to Maria Matilde Suarez, Apartado 1827, Departamento de Antropología (IVIC), Caracas, Venezuela.

The Instituto de Investigaciones Bibliográficas of the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México has begun to publish the Boletín del Instituto de Investigaciones Bibliográficas. Volume I, No. 1 (January–June 1969) appeared in December 1969. The issue is devoted to literary figures and themes and bibliographical subjects. There are also book-review and news sections. Inquiries are to be addressed to the Instituto de Investigaciones Bibliográficas, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Ciudad Universitaria, México 20, D.F.

A Cuban Newsletter will be published biannually by the Center for Latin American Studies at the University of Pittsburgh. The first issue was scheduled to appear in the fall of 1970, to be followed by another in the spring. The newsletter is a response to the recommendation of the International Conference on Cuban Bibliography and Acquisitions (viz. Meetings section). The publication is distributed free and aims for rapid and comprehensive communication among those interested in Cuban studies. It has four sections: current bibliography; research in progress and travel; programs, symposia, seminars, and cultural events; and scholarly resource acquisitions. For information write to the Center for Latin American Studies, the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

The Instituto Boliviano de Estudio y Acción Social has begun publication of a new journal: Estudios andinos. The IBEAS disseminates information regarding the formation of local level groups, leaders, and middle and high level organs participating in the development process. This new journal has the purpose of increasing communication among people and institutions interested in the Andean region. The editorial board consists of C. Richard Bath, Cole Blasier, Hans Buechler, Judith Buechler, Melvin Burke, Alberto del Castillo Crespo, Joseph Casa-Grande, Ronald J. Clark, Lambros Comitas, Julio Cotler, Jorge Gumucio Granier, Rugo Robero Bedregal, Marcelo Sanjinez Uriarte, Mario Vásquez, Herbert A. Klein, William Foote Whyte. The second issue contains a number of articles dealing with various aspects of the Bolivian social system. An annual subscription costs $6.00. Requests should be addressed to: IBEAS, 1909 S. Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60608.

Letras puertorriqueñas began publication in January 1969. The journal appears monthly and carries news of artistic and literary developments, and a bibliographical section. The editor is Vicente Geigel Polaneo. Address: Apartado Postal 4029, San Juan Puerto Rico 00905.

The first issue of the Revista de ciencias de la educación appeared in April, 1970. The new periodical seeks to develop studies in the field of education and maintain an open dialogue on educational matters. The first issue contains articles on the educational sciences in Argentina and the current educational reform in that country. The Revista, which appears tri-annually, is associated with the Instituto Latinoamericano de Relaciones Internacionales. The editor is Juan Carlos Tedesco. Annual subscriptions are $3.00. Checks, money orders, or correspondence should be addressed to Juan Carlos Tedesco, Montevideo 666, primer piso, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The Instituto de Pesquisas Econômicas of the University of São Paulo has begun publishing the Revista de Teoria de Pesquisa Econômica. The trimestral publication appears in Portuguese in April, August, and December. In addition, at the end of every year, a special supplementary issue appears in English containing articles which the editorial committee believes should be brought to the attention of the English speaker. The RTPE publishes articles of both a theoretical and an empirical nature. Special attention is paid to the analysis of problems of economic development in Latin America and elsewhere. The annual subscription rate for the four issues is $8.00. Inquiries should be addressed to: Revista de Teoria e Pesquisa Econômicas, Rua Dr. Vila Nova 285, São Paulo, Brazil.

The first issue of Storia Contemporanea, a trimestral journal of historical studies, appeared in March 1970. It is published in Bologna by the editorial society il Mulino. In addition to the three regular issues, there appears an additional fourth, 1,000 page issue dedicated to a special theme. A subscription outside of Italy costs £8,000 a year. A lifetime subscription costs £25,000. Subscribers to the journal enjoy an automatic 10% discount on all books published by il Mulino. The three articles featured in the first issue are (in Italian): Rosario Romero: Historical Aspects of the Development of the Press in Italy; Franco Sbarberi: Party and Class during the first Marxist Experience of Antonio Labriola (1890–1895); and Juan J. Linz: The Opposition in an Authoritarian Regime: The Case of Spain. Requests for subscriptions should be addressed to Storia Contemporanea, Via A. Cesari 8, Rome (00152), Italy.

The Facultad de Derecho, Ciencias Políticas, y Sociales (Sección de Sociología), of the Universidad Mayor de San Andrés, La Paz, Bolivia, began publishing in September 1968 Temas sociales. An annual subscription is $8.00. Temas sociales, c/o Mario Diez de Medina G., Casilla 1925, La Paz, Bolivia.

CORRECTION: In Vol. V., No. 2, p. 183, Trade and Privateering in Spanish Florida 1732–1763 by Joyce Elizabeth Harman was listed as obtainable from the Historic St. Augustine Preservation Board (P.O.
