The British Journal of Political Science (BJPoS) is a broadly based journal aiming to cover developments across a wide range of countries and specialisms. Contributions are drawn from all fields of political science (including political theory, political behaviour, public policy and international relations), and articles from scholars in related disciplines (sociology, social psychology, economics and philosophy) appear frequently. With a reputation established over 40 years of publication, the BJPoS is widely recognised as one of the premier journals in its field.

Politics & Gender

Published for the Women and Politics Research Section of the American Political Science Association

Editor

Jill A. Irvine, University of Oklahoma, USA

Cindy Simon Rosenthal, University of Oklahoma, USA

Politics & Gender is an agenda-setting journal that publishes the highest quality scholarship on gender and politics and on women and politics. It aims to represent the full range of questions, issues, and approaches concerning gender and women across the major subfields of political science, including comparative politics, international relations, political theory, and U.S. politics. The Editor welcomes studies that address fundamental questions about women in politics and political science from the perspective of gender, as well as those that interrogate and challenge standard theoretical approaches, methodologies, and analytical categories.
