The Haven at Gateshead

Visitors will be able to relax at The Haven after walking the miles of pathways on the 200 acre site of the 1990 Gateshead Garden Festival. Information boards will help visitors to recognise their own stress and tell them how to cope with it. The idea of The Haven came from the Newcastle Mental Health Unit and has been supported by local companies. The Unit's General Manager, Lionel Joyce, comments that through The Haven their message is that mental distress is not something to be feared; if the symptoms are spotted early enough it may be possible to prevent it. If not, the Unit can help. Further details: Keith Richardson (telephone 091 213 0320) or Lloyd Denny: 091 285 0151 or the Festival Press Office.

Forum on Mental Retardation

The Forum on Mental Retardation was set up by the Royal Society of Medicine in 1984. The purpose of this multi-disciplinary Forum is to provide more opportunities for contact between those doing research in specific fields and those working with and for people with mental handicap. The Forum holds at least four meetings annually to discuss new and controversial issues, to advance both scientific research and services by exchanging ideas, and to make
