

News and Notes

Activities

Frederick A. Bergerson, Whittier College, received the Teaching Excellence Award which is given annually to the best teacher.

Trudy H. Bers, associate professor of political science, Oakton Community College, has been selected as a 1979-80 American Council on Education Fellow in Academic Administration.

Robert C. Cleary, professor of government and public administration and interim dean of the College of Public and International Affairs, American University, was elected Vice-President and President-Elect of the Society for College and University Planning.

Wayne A. Cornelius and Ann L. Craig, University of California, San Diego, have received a joint fellowship from the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C., for six months of research beginning in September 1979. They will be completing a study of the political economy of Mexican migration to the United States, 1880-present.

Thomas I. Dickson, professor, Department of Political Science, Auburn University, sponsored and directed the second Robert A. Taft Institute of Government Seminar which was held at Auburn University, June 12-29, 1979.

Kent E. Eklund, St. Olaf College, has received a two-year leave of absence to assume the position of Assistant Commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Economic Development.

Lloyd Etheredge received an award for outstanding dedication and excellence in graduate teaching from the M.I.T. Graduate Student Association.

Werner J. Feld, University of New Orleans, has been designated as a Distinguished Faculty Fellow by the LSU system for 1979-80. This award primarily recognizes research and is regarded as the most prestigious award in the LSU system.

Patricia S. Florestano, University of Maryland, was among the recipients of the first Outstanding Teaching Award presented by students on the College Park campus. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council, the student awards recognize faculty members who devote their efforts to outstanding performance in the classroom.

Martin O. Heister, University of Maryland, spent the 1978-79 year as Visiting Fulbright Professor, University of Aarhus, Denmark. During that year he lectured at several European universities, including Oslo, Bergen, Strathclyde and Louvain-La-Neuve.

Donald L. Horowitz of the Smithsonian Institution's Research Institute on Immigration and Ethnic Studies, has been invited to deliver the 1979-80 McDonald-Currie Memorial Lectures at McGill University.

Hong N. Kim, West Virginia University, was awarded a Fulbright-Hays Research Fellowship to carry out a research project entitled, "The LDP Government and the Politics of the Sino-Japanese Peace Treaty, 1974-78" in Japan during the summer of 1979. He was a Visiting Fellow at Keio University, Tokyo, Japan during the summer of 1979.

Charles H. Levine, University of Maryland, College Park, Acting Director, Institute for Urban Studies, was selected for the William E. Mosher Award by the American Society for Public Administration. The Mosher Award, named for the first president of APSA, was awarded to Levine for the outstanding Public Administration Review article written by an academician during 1978.

Herbert M. Levine, University of Southwestern Louisiana, has received one of two Amoco Foundation Outstanding Teacher Awards given to USL in 1979. Each award, which is established "to recognize excellence in teaching performance in the undergraduate program by the senior staff at the University," carries a $1,000 stipend.

Yogendra K. Malik, University of Akron, was invited by Warsaw University, Poland, to participate in the International Round Table Conference on Political Socialization, May 28-June 3, 1979. He presented a paper entitled, "Sub-Cultural Variations and Political Socialization: The Case of North Indian Youth."

Emily Melson, professor, Department of Political Science, Auburn University, was the associate director of the second Robert A. Taft Institute of Government Seminar held June 12-29, 1979.

Emile A. Nakhleh, Mount Saint Mary's College, has published a book, The West Bank and Gaza: Toward the Making of a Palestinian State. Professor Nakhleh will also spend his 1979-80 sabbatical year as a Guest Scholar at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars and as a Resident Fellow at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, both in Washington, D.C.

Daniel J. Nelson, associate professor, Auburn University, is serving during the calendar year 1979 as visiting associate professor of International Relations in the Overseas Graduate Program at Boston University. Professor Nelson's assignments are in Berlin and Heidelberg, and in Venice, Italy.

Samuel C. Patterson, University of Iowa, has received the University's 1979 M.L. Huit Faculty Award for teaching and service to students; he was also elected President-Elect of the Midwest Political Science Association at the April annual meeting in Chicago.

Bryan Pfaffenberger, assistant professor of anthropology, has been awarded a 12-month research fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Ruth A. Schwartz, New York University, has been appointed as a Research Assistant at the Housing Preservation and Development, New York City. Abstracts of her research will appear in a Trend Report on Sex Roles in Modern Society, to be published by Current Sociology.

Robert Steamer has returned to full-time teaching in the Department of Political Science at the University of Massachusetts at Boston.

Lane Sunderland, associate professor of political science, Knox College, has been awarded 12-month research fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Robert W. Sutherland, Jr., Cornell College, received an Occasional Fellowship from the University of Chicago for the fall and winter terms during 1978-79 and was selected as one of 20 participants in the 1979 N.E.H. Summer Institute on "Extending Theoretical Foundations: Applications of Theoretical Subfields of Political Science."

James M. Taitt, West Virginia University, has been awarded a $6,000 fellowship by the Mining and Minerals Research Institute.

Michael L. Updike has joined the Michigan law firm of Davidson, Gotshall, Kohl, Secrest, Wardle, Lynch and Clark.

Margaret Jane Wyszomirski, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, has received a National Endowment for the Arts Intern-Fellowship for the summer of 1979. She is working in the Evaluation Division doing policy and program analyses of some of the NEA's 120 different programs.

Garth Youngberg, chairman, Department of Political Science, Southeast Missouri State University, will be on leave to be with the Program Development Staff, Science and Education Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture from June, 1979 until June, 1980.

Shawky S. Zeidan served as assistant professor of political science with the University of Colorado's Semester at Sea Program during the Spring, 1979 term. The voyage included India, Morocco, Egypt, Greece and Singapore.

New Appointments

Kennette Benedict, assistant professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

James J. Callan, assistant professor, University of Minnesota, Duluth; formerly of University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Joyotpaul Chaudhuri, professor and head, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces.

Steven A. Cohen, assistant professor, West Virginia University; formerly of SUNY, Buffalo.

Wayne A. Cornelius, professor, University of California, San Diego; formerly of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Ann L. Craig, assistant, University of California, San Diego; formerly of Clark University.

Uday Desai, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale; formerly of the Administrative Staff College of India.

David J. Danelski, professor, Stanford University.

Douglas Feig, associate professor, Mississippi State University.

Shigeko N. Fukai, acting assistant professor, Auburn University.

Leonard E. Goodall, president, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Peter A. Gourevitch, associate professor, University of California, San Diego; formerly of McGill University.

David M. Hedge, assistant professor, West Virginia University; formerly of University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Daniel C. Hellinger, assistant professor, Webster College.

Lauren Holland, assistant professor, University of Utah.

Gary Jacobson, associate professor, University of California, San Diego; formerly of Trinity College.

Gerald R. Johnson, acting head, Department of Political Science, Auburn University.

Scott Keeter, assistant professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Joseph Koshansky, Jr., professor, Centenary College of Louisiana.

Howard H. Lentner, executive officer, Baruch College.

Robert S. Montjoy, associate professor, Auburn University; formerly of University of Virginia.

Carol Nackenoff, assistant professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Joseph Navarro, assistant professor, University of Utah.

Charles Noble, assistant professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Douglas C. Nord, professor, University of Minnesota, Duluth; formerly of Duke University.

Mary Karen O'Brien, assistant professor, University of Texas, San Antonio.

Laurence J. O'Toole, associate professor, Auburn University; formerly of University of Virginia.

Glenn R. Parker, associate professor, Florida

State University; formerly of Miami University, Ohio.

James Seroka, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University-Carbondale; formerly of Appalachian State University.

Stephen Shaffer, assistant professor, Mississippi State University.

Nancy Stetson, assistant professor, University of Utah.

Mitchel B. Wallerstein, assistant professor, College of the Holy Cross.

C. Sylvester Whitaker, professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick; formerly of City University of New York.

Margaret Jane Wyszomirski, assistant professor, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Richard P. Young, assistant professor, University of Texas, San Antonio.

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

Douglas E. Asford, visiting professor, Manchester University, England, 1979-80.

William B. Ballis, visiting professor, Bowling Green State University, spring 1979.

Michael L. Baron, visiting instructor, Franklin & Marshall College; formerly of Columbia University.

Akousa Barthwell, visiting professor, University of Michigan.

Samuel H. Beer, visiting professor, Harvard University; formerly of University of California, San Diego.

Roger Brooks, visiting lecturer, Augsburg College, fall 1979.

Lloyd Etheredge, visiting associate professor, Berkeley School of Public Policy, spring 1980.

Richard Fralin, visiting assistant professor, University of Texas, San Antonio.

John Armando Garcia, visiting associate professor, University of Michigan.

David Gordon, visiting lecturer, University of Michigan.

James Kurth, visiting professor, Swarthmore College; formerly of University of California, San Diego.

Albert Melone, visiting associate professor, Southern Illinois University-Carbondale; formerly of North Dakota State University.

Richard Rose, visiting scholar, American Enterprise Institute, January-March, 1980.

Edward Sidlow, visiting assistant professor, Arizona State University, 1979-80.

Sheldon Simon, visiting professor, University of British Columbia, 1979-80.

Douglas A. Wertman, visiting assistant professor, Franklin & Marshall; formerly of Dickinson College.

Tinsley E. Yarbrough, visiting professor, University of Virginia, 1978-79.

Administrative Appointments

Howard Ball, chairman, Department of Political Science, Mississippi State University.

Richard J. Collins, acting chairperson, Department of Political Science, Southeast Missouri State University, 1979-80.

Stephen Cooney, director of trade, International Affairs, National Association of Manufacturers; formerly of Centenary College of Louisiana.

Wayne A. Cornelius, director, Center for United States-Mexican Studies, University of California, San Diego.

Joseph N. Crowley, president, University of Nevada, Reno.

David H. Everson, director, Illinois Legislative Studies Center, Sangamon State University.

David A. Frolick, chairman, Department of Political Science, North Central College.

Warren H. Fox, associate dean, College of Arts and Science, University of Nevada, Reno.

Thomas Halper, chairman, Department of Political Science, City University of New York, Baruch.

Joseph J. Karlesky, chairman, Department of Government, Franklin & Marshall College.

Fred O. Lawson, chairman, Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences, North Central College.

M. Harry Lease, Jr., chairman, University of Minnesota, Duluth.

Howard L. Letner, executive officer, Ph.D. Program in Political Science, City University of New York, Baruch.

William S. Livingston, acting vice president and acting dean of graduate studies, University of Texas, Austin.

Leo Y. Lui, chairman, Department of Political Science, Brandon University.

Patrick McGowan, chairperson, Department of Political Science, Arizona State University; formerly of University of Southern California.

Richard G. Niemi, chairperson, Department of Political Science, University of Rochester.

Marian Lief Palley, chairperson, Department of Political Science, University of Delaware.

Alvin T. Schexnider, associate dean, School of Community Services, Virginia Commonwealth University.

Farouk Umar, chairman, Department of Political Science, Murray State University.

Leonard B. Weinberg, chairman, Department of Political Science, University of Nevada, Reno.

Promotions

Larry L. Adams, City University of New York, Baruch: associate professor.

Frederic A. Bergerson, Whittier College: associate professor.

Fran Burke, Suffolk University: professor.

Michael Cohen, University of Michigan: associate professor.

Joseph N. Crowley, University of Nevada, Reno: professor.

Paul A. Dawson, Oberlin College: professor.

James D. Fairbanks, University of Houston: associate professor.

John L. Foster, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale: associate professor.

Warren H. Fox, University of Nevada, Reno: associate professor.

David A. Frolick, North Central College: associate professor.

Zvi Gitelman, University of Michigan: professor.

Roger Handberg, University of Central Florida: professor.

Thomas Handy, Mississippi State University: associate professor.

Harry Harding, Jr., Stanford University: associate professor.

Milton Heumann, University of Michigan: associate professor.

Dale Krane, Mississippi State University: associate professor.

Ron Kahn, Oberlin College: associate professor.

Fred O. Lawson, North Central College: associate professor.

Roy E. Miller, southern Illinois University at Carbondale: associate professor.

Miroslav Nincic, University of Michigan: assistant professor.

Dale W. Olsen, University of Minnesota, Duluth: professor.

Sophia Peterson, West Virginia University: professor.

Monte Piliawsky, Dillard University: associate professor.

Stephen Salmore, Rutgers University, New Brunswick: professor.

Jerrold E. Schneider, University of Delaware: associate professor.

William Schwartz, University of Michigan: assistant professor.

William Pang-yu Ting, University of Michigan: assistant professor.

Stephen Walker, Arizona State University: associate professor.

Allen R. Wilcox, University of Nevada, Reno: professor.

David G. Williams, West Virginia University: professor.

David Vogel, University of California, Berkeley: associate professor.

Retirements

Charles N. Fortenberry, professor and head, Department of Political Science, Auburn University.

Thomas I. Dickson, professor, Department of Political Science, Auburn University.

Gerhard von Glahn, professor and chairman, University of Minnesota, Duluth.

Dwight Waldo, Albert Schweitzer Professor, Maxwell School, Syracuse University.

Corrections

In the memorial to Arthur Holcombe, in the Spring PS, page 278, the first sentence under the heading "Holcombe and Harvard" should read as follows: "Holcombe graduated from Harvard College in 1906, summa cum laude in Economics, completed his Ph.D. in 1909, joined the faculty in that. . . ."

In Memoriam

Jack Fein Isakoff

Dr. Jack Fein Isakoff died March 3, 1979, of a liver ailment probably acquired while serving in the Army Air Force in India during World War II. He was born in New York City on September 23, 1910, and grew up in Cleveland, but his professional career was largely in Illinois. His Ph.D. was from the University of Illinois, and he taught there on two occasions. His longest academic stint was at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, where he served as professor from 1962 until he retired in 1973.

Covering the longest period of his professional career was his assignment as Director of Research for the Illinois Legislative Council. In fact he was associated with the Council from its creation in 1938, becoming its Director in 1939. He left Springfield in 1960 to become Chairman of the Department of Political Science at Western Reserve, his alma mater.

Professor Isakoff was referred to in separate resolutions passed by the Illinois Senate and House of Representatives as having had "one of the most distinguished careers in Illinois State Government," and this evaluation is certainly correct. He knew the institutions and processes of Illinois government as did few others, and on numerous occasions made his talents available