

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The RELIGIOUS LIFE series, the English translations of the famous French works on the Religious Life, have been welcomed by priests and religious all over the world. We list below the titles at present available. The 11th title, THE PRIEST AND VOCATIONS, will be published later this year.

- No. 2. VOCATION (4th impression) deals with all aspects of a Religious Vocation, its recognition (both by the superiors of communities and by would-be postulants themselves) and its implications and effects. 10s. 6d.
- No. 4. POVERTY is a symposium on the vow of Poverty—its evangelical foundation and the history of the vow as well as its canonical and economic consequences. 15s. 0d.
- No. 5. CHASTITY considers the theology and history of the vow and the teachings of the Old and New Testaments. It then deals with the medical and psychological aspects of the vow and with practical problems arising from it. 16s. 0d.
- No. 6. THE DOCTRINAL INSTRUCTION OF RELIGIOUS SISTERS is particularly valuable for priests and superiors responsible for directing the doctrinal and theological studies of nuns. It deals with the need for adaptations and modifications necessary in the conditions of the modern world. 13s. 6d.
- No. 8. COMMUNAL LIFE deals with the history and theology of life in common, with the relation of the religious communal life to the general life of the Church and with the practical problems of communal living. 19s. 6d.
- No. 9. A MANUAL FOR NOVICE MISTRESSES is, as its title indicates, a handbook for the use of the Mistress of Novices, defining her responsibilities and duties and containing much valuable practical advice. 13s. 6d.
- No. 10. APOSTOLIC LIFE, the most recent title in the series, deals with the responsibility of the Religious to the Apostolate. It has been welcomed by both active and contemplative Orders for its fresh, stimulating and eminently practical approach. 21s. 0d.

Moral Problems Now

G. HAGMEIER and R. GLEASON

Immense damage is caused by the line that moral delinquents must be compelled to pull themselves together. The two authors of this book deal with common moral problems in terms of moral law and modern psychology.

The Search for Values

RUSSELL COLEBURT

Camus, Becket, Osborne, and many others illustrate in their work the sense of disintegration which follows from a failure to find central 'values'. The author of this book examines the form of the present-day search in art and literature.

LENTEN READING

Lent is the traditional time for self-examination, self-denial and self-sacrifice. But the Church reminds us constantly that no denial or sacrifice has merit unless it comes from love of God and of our neighbour. Two books which help to make this very clear and indicate what Lent ought to mean are:

LOVE OF OUR NEIGHBOUR, ed. P. Plé, O.P.

Shows how charity is both God's love for us and our love for our neighbour and is the foundation of all Christian living.

12s. 6d.

SACRAMENTAL PRAYER, Conrad Pepler, O.P.

Stresses that prayer comes from the same source and that fasting and penance can only serve towards holiness in so far as they are inspired by love.
