New Community

EDITOR

Malcolm Cross, European Research Centre on Migration and Ethnic Relations (ERCOMER), University of Utrecht, The Netherlands

From 1971-94 New Community was the leading UK journal in the field of ethnic and racial studies. In 1995 New Community was relaunched to extend its coverage to the rest of Europe when it was taken over by the European Research Centre on Migration and Ethnic Relations at the University of Utrecht.

New Community is set to become the leading European journal on migration and ethnic relations. It is committed to publishing the results of the finest research on all forms of migration, whether for work, family reunion or the search for asylum, and on issues of ethnic conflict, nationalism, discrimination, racism and policies of integration.

New Community is especially interested in the results of comparative research from any branch of the social sciences (including law).

The geographical focus is not confined to Europe, and the latter is defined to include the countries of Central and Eastern Europe.

Journal of Political Ideologies

EDITOR

Michael Freeden, Mansfield College, Oxford, UK

Supported by an International Editorial Board

The Journal of Political Ideologies is dedicated to the analysis of political ideology both in its theoretical and conceptual aspects, and with reference to the nature and roles of concrete ideological manifestations.

The Journal promotes research into political ideologies which are indispensable to the understanding of political thought within social, temporal and spatial contexts. It emphasizes both the general phenomenon of ideologies and their particular instances. The indeterminacy of the notion of ideology is recognized and significant attention is also given to analyzing ideologies in terms of their actual histories, geographical and cultural manifestations, and to interpreting the idea-patterns of particular ideological variants.

The Journal of Political Ideologies serves as an international meeting point of political theorists, historians of political thought and of political movements, experts in area studies, policy studies, and quantitative research as well as scholars in the fields of sociology, international relations, cultural studies and political psychology.

Journal of Muslim Minority Affairs

EDITOR

Saleha S. Mahmood

Journal of Muslim Minority Affairs is a biannual research journal produced by the Institute of Muslim Minority Affairs as part of its publication programme. Published since 1979, the journal has firmly established itself as a highly respected and widely acclaimed academic scholarly publication providing accurate, reliable and objective information.

Journal of Muslim Minority Affairs provides a forum for frank but responsible discussion of issues relating to the life of Muslims in non-Muslim societies. The journal has become increasingly influential as the subject of Muslim minorities has acquired added significance. About 400 million Muslims, fully one third of the world Muslim population of 1.2 billion, live as minorities in 149 countries around the globe. Even as minorities they form significant communities within their countries of residence.

Journal of Muslim Minority Affairs is the only scholarly journal studying Muslim communities in non-Muslim societies. It provides a wealth of information that cannot be found anywhere else in documented form. The journal has opened up a new area of specialisation in minority studies with original articles addressing the minority condition from the historical, demographic, social and economic perspective. Our research interests extend to non-Muslim minorities living in Muslim societies, interfaith dialogue to promote understanding and the study of Muslim minority women, the minorities' minority. The journal has indeed pioneered the way in examining theoretical and conceptual issues that define and explain the minority experience.

NATIONALITIES PAPERS is the only journal in the world which deals exclusively with all nationalities of the former USSR, and also with national minorities in Eastern and Central European countries. The problems and importance of over 140 million people are treated with the disciplinary and methodological contexts of Post-Soviet and Europe-Asia studies. Of central concern is the fate of the Balts, Ukrainians, Jews and the peoples of Central Asia and the Caucasus. Nationalities Papers is an international and multidisciplinary journal with contributors and readers throughout North America, Western and Eastern Europe, the Far East, Japan and the People's Republic of China. Included in each general issue are in-depth analyses from the historical view, updates on latest developments, some original documents, and book reviews; some issues concentrate on a region or nationality as a special topic, which exclusive focus allows for more extensive and detailed information.

Submission of manuscripts. For information on submitting manuscripts, write to: Professor Henry R. Huttenbach, Editor-in-Chief, Nationalities Papers, Department of History, The City College of New York, 138th Street and Convent Avenue, New York, NY 10031, USA.
