

Recusant History is the journal of the Catholic Record Society and is published in May and October each year. The journal publishes a wide range of descriptive and interpretative articles on the political, scientific, cultural and sociological history of the British Catholics to place them in their national context during the centuries from the Reformation to the recent past.

The Society also publishes a series of Records volumes in which many kinds of primary source material relating to individuals and institutions in the British Isles are made available to a general readership. These volumes are indispensable to all those with an interest in the history of Catholic parishes, dioceses, religious communities, schools and colleges.

Subscriptions run from 1 April to 31 March annually. The present annual subscription is £30 which covers both editions of Recusant History together with any Records volume published during the period of paid-up membership.

CATHOLIC RECORD SOCIETY

The Catholic Record Society was founded in 1904 to make available the material necessary for the study of the Roman Catholic history of England and Wales since the Reformation. The Records series comprises transcripts of a wide variety of original documents, e.g., diaries, letters and biographies; legal, court and official papers; and records of old Catholic missions, seminaries, colleges and convents. In the Monograph series, well-known scholars present original historical analyses of Catholic recusancy over a prolonged period in a particular place. The unique collection of primary source material contained in these publications is indispensable to those engaged in political, diplomatic and social history. There are now some eighty-five volumes of Records and Monographs. The Society holds an annual conference to which all members are invited. The Society's annual report accompanies the May edition of Recusant History.

General correspondence, membership applications, subscriptions and changes of address should be sent to the Hon. Secretary Dr. L. Gooch, 12 Melbourne Place, Wolsingham, Co. Durham DL13 3EH.
