

People in Political Science

New Appointments

Rickert Althaus, instructor, Southeast Missouri State University.

Douglas E. Ashford, Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Political Science, University of Pittsburgh.

Frank Baber, assistant professor, Texas Tech University; formerly of Illinois State University.

Carolyn Ban, assistant professor, Department of Public Administration, Rockefeller College, SUNY at Albany; formerly of Office of Personnel Management.

Robert Bartlett, assistant professor, Texas Tech University; formerly of Indiana University.

Richard M. Battistoni, assistant professor, Baylor University.

Lawton E. Bennett, associate professor, University of Texas at Tyler.

Dean Birch, assistant professor, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Michael K. Brown is joining the Board of Studies in Politics, University of California, Santa Cruz; formerly of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

Carol A. Cassel, formerly at the University of Houston, has been appointed assistant professor at The University of Alabama.

Roger A. Coate, assistant professor, University of South Carolina; formerly of Arizona State University.

Dan A. Cothran, assistant professor, Northern Arizona University; formerly of the Faculty of Commerce of the University of British Columbia.

Charles E. Davis, associate professor,

University of Wyoming; formerly of Suffolk University in Boston.

David Easton, Distinguished Professor, University of California, Irvine; formerly of the University of Chicago.

Cheryl Eavey, assistant professor, Florida State University; formerly of Michigan State University.

Robert England, assistant professor, Oklahoma State University; formerly a graduate student at Oklahoma University.

Jan Feldman, assistant professor, University of Vermont.

Joseph Fewsmith, assistant professor, Kent State University.

Susan Fino, assistant professor of political science, Wayne State University; formerly graduate student at Rutgers University.

Dennis J. Gayle, formerly of the University of California in Los Angeles, has been appointed assistant professor at the University of Alabama.

Gerard S. Gryski, assistant professor, Auburn University, effective September, 1982.

Roberta Herzberg, assistant professor, Indiana University; presently Ph.D. candidate, Washington University.

Eric B. Herzik, assistant professor, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale; formerly of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Michael Hoyman, assistant professor, University of Missouri-St. Louis; formerly of University of Illinois.

Peter M. Lange, associate professor, Duke University; formerly of Harvard University.

Michael A. Magliotto, assistant professon, University of South Carolina; formerly of the University of Florida.

William Lee Miller, professor, University of Virginia.

James Morone, assistant professor, Brown University; formerly of the University of Chicago.

Hoyt Purvis, associate professor of political science and journalism, University of Arkansas; formerly with the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs, University of Texas.

Lyn Ragsdale, now completing her doctoral work at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will be an assistant professor of political science at the University of Arizona beginning in August, 1982.

Gary R. Rassel, formerly at Pembroke State University, has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of political science at the University of North Carolina-Charlotte. His appointment begins in August, 1982.

Jeremy J. Richardson, professor of politics, University of Strathclyde, England; formerly of the University of Keele.

Harold V. Sare, resigned as head, Department of Political Science, Oklahoma State University. He will assume full-time status as professor of political science.

Anne L. Schneider, assistant professor, Oklahoma State University; formerly with The Institute of Policy Analysis, Eugene, Oregon.

Jeanie R. Stanley, assistant professor, University of Texas at Tyler.

Michael E. Urban, assistant professor, Auburn University, effective September, 1982.

Albert Vannucci, assistant professor, University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown; formerly of Spring Hill College.

John J. Weltman, professor of strategy, United States Naval War College; formerly of the Australian National University.

Darrell M. West, assistant professor, Brown University; formerly of the University of Pennsylvania.

Allen S. Whiting, formerly of the University of Michigan, will become professor of political science at the University of Arizona beginning in August, 1982.

Van R. Whiting, Jr., assistant professor, Brown University; formerly of the University of California, Berkeley.

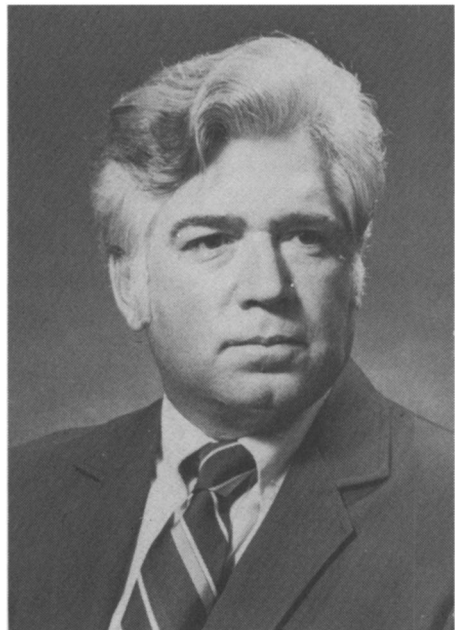

Neil Wintfeld, assistant professor, Brown University; formerly of Georgetown University.

Thomas Yantek, assistant professor, Kent State University.

Activities

P. Bai Akridge, University of Missouri-St. Louis, has received a fellowship for 1982-83 from the National Research Council to study business and public policy.

George I. Balch has resigned his tenured appointment at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle to continue his position as research supervisor at Needham, Harper and Steers Advertising, Inc. He will also continue to serve at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle part-time as associate professor.

Ellis Sandoz has been appointed to serve on the National Council on the Humanities.

People in Political Science

Twiley Barker, on sabbatical leave during the winter quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

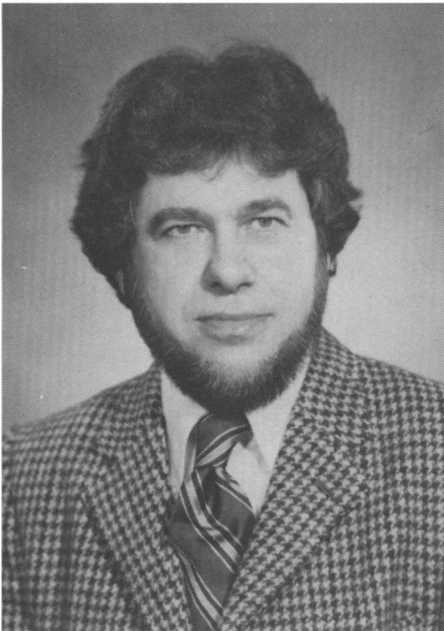

George Beam, on sabbatical leave during the spring quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Ellnor R. Bowen has taken partial leave from the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle to serve as research analyst of the life style study conducted by the Leo Burnett Advertising Agency.

Ralph Bralbanti, James B. Duke professor, Duke University, has been appointed to the Advisory Board of the Moroccan-American Foundation.

William R. Campbell, Miami University, will be on research assignment, spring semester 1982-83.

H. Paul Castleberry has been elected to a three-year term as a member of the Commission on Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

M. Kent Jennings of the University of California, Santa Barbara, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Martha Derthick, director of governmental studies, The Brookings Institution, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Richard C. Elling, granted continuing tenure, Wayne State University.

John Gardiner, on sabbatical leave during the spring quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Doris Graber, on sabbatical leave during the winter quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

M. Kent Jennings, University of Michigan, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

B. C. Koh, on sabbatical leave during the spring quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Warren L. Mason, Miami University, returns to full-time faculty status on the Oxford Campus after serving two years as director of Miami University's European Center in Luxembourg.

Marvin Maurer, chairman of the Political Science Department at Monmouth College, has been appointed to serve a three-year term as an associate in the Columbia University Seminar on The Changing Metropolis in America.

David L. Paletz, Duke University, has been appointed chairman of the NATO Research Fellowship Review Committee of the Council for the International Exchange of Scholars for 1982-83. He has been appointed a member of the Nomination Committee of the American Association for Public Opinion Research, of which he is president for 1981-82. In addition, he is chairman of the Advisory Screening Committee in Political Science, Council for International Exchange of Scholars (Fulbright Program) for 1981-82.

David E. Price, Duke University, served as staff director for the Democratic National Committee's Commission on Presidential Nominations.

Nelson W. Polsby, University of California, Berkeley, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Ellis Sandoz, professor, Louisiana State

University, has been appointed by President Reagan to serve on the National Council for the Humanities, an organization that promotes and supports the production and dissemination of knowledge in the humanities.

Gerald Strom, on sabbatical leave during the fall quarter 1982, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Phillippa Strum recently spent two weeks in Israel and the West Bank on a lecture tour sponsored by the United States International Communication Agency and by the Fulbright Commission. She lectured at the Tel Aviv University School of Law and its Department of Labor Studies, at the American Cultural Centers in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, and under the aegis of the Hebrew University Program on Sex Differences in Society and of the Association for Civil Rights in Israel. As president of the American-Israeli Civil Liberties Coalition, she also advised the civil liberties groups in Israel supported by the Coalition.

Frank Tachau, on sabbatical leave during the spring quarter 1983, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Herbert Waltzer, Miami University, will be on faculty development leave, spring semester 1982-83, having completed 12 years as chair of the department and having returned to full-time faculty status.

Alan Ward, professor, College of William and Mary, has been elected to a two-year term as president of the American Committee for Irish Studies, an independent association for more than 600 scholars with interests in Irish studies.

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

Edward G. Carmines, visiting scholar, Nuffield College, Oxford University, England.

Roberto de la Ossa has been appointed visiting Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence in Martha Derthick of the Brookings Institution is one of three political scientists recently elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Political Science and Latin American Studies, University of Arkansas; he is director of the Institute of International Affairs, National Autonomous University, Costa Rica.

David Easton, of the University of Chicago, served as Distinguished Visiting Professor of Political Science at the University of Arizona during the spring semester 1982-83.

Robert Harkavy, Pennsylvania State University, will be on research leave during the academic year 1982-83 as visiting research professor, Strategic Studies Institute, U.S. Army War College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and during the summers of 1983 and 1984 at the Christian-Albrechts Universität, Kiel, West Germany on an Alexander von Humboldt fellowship.

G. John Ikenberry served as lecturer at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle during the spring quarter 1982.

Janice Love, visiting assistant professor, University of South Carolina; formerly of Denison University.

Max Mark, professor emeritus, Wayne State University, to teach at University of Vienna, Austria, spring term.

Felix Oppenheim, on leave from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst during the fall term 1981, taught at the Graduate School of International Politics of the University of Florence, and gave lectures at the Bologna Center of Johns Hopkins University, and at the Universities of Manchester, York, and Warwick.

Karen Rosenblum-Cale of Storrs, Connecticut, served as visiting assistant professor at the University of Arizona during the academic year 1982-83.

John R. Schmidhauser of the Department of Political Science, University of Southern California, will spend the academic year 1982-83 as Talbot Visiting Professor in the Department of Government, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia. Schmidhauser just completed a year as president of the Western Political Science Association, and was a recipient of a major Project '87 grant in 1980-81. He will conduct research in Charlottesville on two major projects: the Transformation of Judicial Values in the U.S. Supreme Court, 1979-1980 and Comparative Judicial Systems and Legal Elites.

James I. Spainhower, visiting professor, University of Missouri-St. Louis; formerly treasurer of the State of Missouri and president, School of the Ozarks.

Robert G. Thompson, visiting professor, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, 1982-83.

William R. Thompson, of Florida State University, served as visiting professor of political science at the University of Arizona during the spring semester 1982-83.

Ilter Turan, of the Faculty of Economics, University of Istanbul, served as visiting professor of political science at the University of Arizona for the academic year 1982-83. He will hold the same position in the spring semester 1982-83.

Alan S. Zuckerman, of Brown University, will be at Tel Aviv University, Israel, from July, 1982, to January, 1983.

John R. Schmidhauser of the University of Southern California will spend the academic year 1982-83 as Talbot Visiting Professor at the University of Virginia.

Administrative Appointments

David Adamany, president, Wayne State University and professor of political science with tenure; formerly vice president, academic affairs, University of Maryland.

Howard Ball, professor and chairperson, University of Utah; formerly at Mississippi State University.

Dan Caldwell has been appointed associate director of the Center for Foreign Policy Development at Brown University; formerly associate professor at Pepperdine University, Malibu, California.

Randal L. Crulkshanks, professor to head, Department of Political Science, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

Charles D. Dunn, director of governmental relations, University of Central Arkansas; formerly chairman, Department of Political Science.

Roy B. Flemming named departmental graduate adviser at Wayne State University.

Richard M. Fontera has been named president of Metropolitan State College in Denver; formerly dean of faculty at Southeastern Massachusetts University.

Norman Furniss, director, West European Center, Indiana University.

Lela Garner, associate academic vice president for faculty affairs, San Jose State University. She is a tenured professor of political science.

William R. Garner, director of graduate studies, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Joyce Gelb will become chairperson of the Department of Political Science, CCNY, effective September, 1982.

Bertil L. Hanson, acting head, Department of Political Science, Oklahoma State University.

Edwin L. Harper has been appointed as chief domestic policy adviser to President Ronald Reagan.

Thomas Karls will become executive officer of the Political Science Department at the Graduate Center, CUNY, effective September, 1982.

John W. Kingdon chair, Political Science Department, University of Michigan, beginning July 1, 1982.

Allan W. Lerner has been appointed director of the Master's Program in Public Agency Administration in the Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago, and as associate director of graduate studies in the Department of Political Science.

David S. McLellan, Miami University, acting chair of the department for 1982-83.

Robert W. Miller has been named departmental undergraduate adviser at Wayne State University.

Political scientist David Adamany is the new president of Wayne State University.

Digambar Mishra, associate professor of political science and chairman, Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Miles College.

John Orman has been granted tenure as an associate professor and chair of politics department, Fairfield University.

William D. Pederson has been appointed political science and public administration coordinator, Louisiana University in Shreveport.

Paul E. Peterson has been appointed chairman of the Committee on Public Policy Studies on September 1, 1981, University of Chicago.

Roger B. Porter has been appointed director, Office of Policy Development, and will continue to serve as the executive secretary of the Cabinet council on economic affairs.

Don Racheter, chairman, Department of Political Science, Central College, Pella, Iowa.

T. Ramakrishna Reddy, chairman, Department of Political Science and Philosophy, Weber State College, Ogden.

People in Political Science

Richard Rose, director, Centre for the Study of Public Policy, University of Strathclyde.

Barry S. Rundquist has been re-appointed director of graduate studies in the Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle for 1982-83. He will also serve as chairman of the coordinating committee of the Ph.D. Program in Public Policy Analysis.

Robert L. Spurrier, assistant director of Arts and Sciences and Extension, Oklahoma State University.

Harvey Starr, acting director, Graduate Studies, Indiana University.

Michael J. Stevens, chairperson, Department of Political Science, Allegheny College.

John G. Stewart, former director of APSA's Congressional Fellowship Program, has been named assistant general manager of administration, Tennessee Valley Authority.

James L. Walker, appointed chairman of the Political Science Department, Wright State University.

John A. Wanat has been appointed chairperson of the Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago for the term 1982-85, effective September 1, 1982.

Gunnar Wikstrom, Jr., chairperson, Division of Social Science, Buena Vista College, for a three-year term.

Allen R. Wilcox, chair, Department of Political Science, University of Nevada-Reno.

Promotions

William Ansberry, professor, Southeast Missouri State University.

Nelson W. Polsby of the University of California, Berkeley, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and has two appointments in Washington, D.C. for the 1982-83 academic year, one at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars and another at the Roosevelt Center for American Policy Studies.

Photo by Emily Polsby

Jacob Bielasiak, associate professor, Indiana University.

Jon Bond, associate professor, Texas A&M University.

Wilber A. Chaffee, Jr., associate professor with tenure, Saint Mary's College of California.

Clarke Cochran, professor, Texas Tech University.

Kenneth Dahlberg, professor, Western Michigan University.

Russell J. Dalton, associate professor (with tenure), Florida State University.

James N. Danziger, professor, University of California, Irvine.

Dwight Davis, associate professor, Texas A&M University.

Osbin Ervin, associate professor, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Norman Furniss, professor, Indiana University.

Thomas R. Hensley, professor, Kent State University.

David Hill, associate professor, Texas A&M University.

Francis W. Hoole, professor, Indiana University.

Gerald Houseman, professor, Indiana University at Fort Wayne.

Alan Isaak, professor, Western Michigan University.

James E. Jacob, associate professor, Wright State University.

W. Michael Johnston, associate professor, University of Pittsburgh.

Richard C. Kearney, associate professor (with tenure), University of South Carolina.

Barbara Kellerman, associate professor, Institute for Leadership Studies, Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Kent A. Kirwan, department chair, was promoted to the rank of professor.

Margaret Latimer, associate professor, Auburn University.

Lance LeLoup, professor, University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Michael S. Lewis-Beck, professor, University of Iowa.

John Logue has received tenure and has been promoted to associate professor, Kent State University.

Chih Lu, professor, Miles College.

Ronald M. Mason, associate professor with tenure, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Albert P. Melone, tenure granted, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Michael E. Milakovich has been awarded tenure in the Department of Politics and Public Affairs, School of Business Administration, University of Miami, Coral Gables.

Kenneth Mladenka, associate professor, Texas A&M University.

David Myers, professor, University of West Florida.

Pietro S. Nivola, associate professor, University of Vermont.

Glenn R. Parker, professor (with tenure), Florida State University.

Bert A. Rockman, professor, University of Pittsburgh.

Ernest Rossel, professor, Western Michigan University.

Phillip A. Russo, Jr., associate professor, Miami University.

Robert L. Savage, professor, University of Arkansas.

William R. Schonfeld, professor, University of California, Irvine.

Gary L. Scott, associate professor, Portland State University.

Timothy M. Shaw, professor, Dalhousie University.

Barbara B. Stallings, associate professor, University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Dina Titus, associate professor, University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Charles R. White, associate professor, Portland State University.

Chau T. Phan has been promoted to professor, Rider College, Lawrenceville, New Jersey. His World Politics 82/83, third edition, was published in April,

People in Political Science

1982 by the Dushkin Publishing Group.

David P. Rebovich has been promoted to assistant professor II, Rider College, Lawrenceville, New Jersey.

Frank Rusclano, ABD, University of Chicago, joins the faculty of Rider College, Lawrenceville, New Jersey, as assistant professor, as of September, 1982.

Retirements

Victor Alba, professor, Kent State University.

Kenneth Colton, associate professor, Kent State University.

George G. Clucas, professor, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

Peter J. Fless, professor, University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Jack B. Gabbert, professor emeritus, Washington State University.

John H. Hallowell, James B. Duke professor, Duke University.

Henry Hart, Department of Political Science, University of Wisconsin-Madison, has retired with emeritus status.

John W. Lederle, Joseph B. Ely Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, Jr., professor, Brown University.

Grant McConnell retired from the Board of Studies in Politics, University of California, Santa Cruz. A conference honoring McConnell entitled, "Private Power and Public Values" was held on the Santa Cruz campus on May 8-9.

Jacob Walkin, professor emeritus of political science, Auburn University, effective August 1982.

Award Recipients

Guggenheim Fellowships

The following political scientists will receive Guggenheim Fellowships:

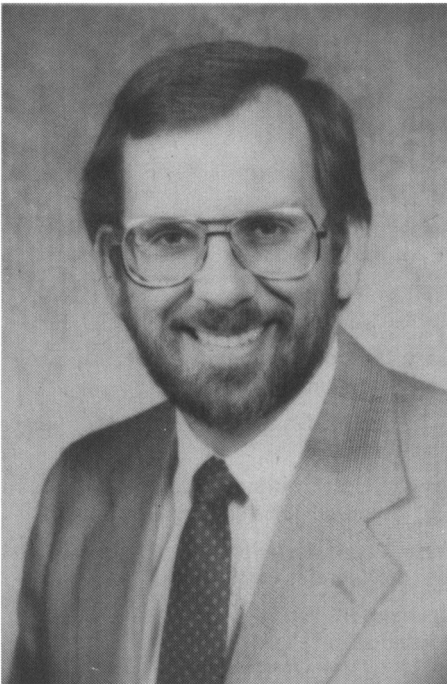

Benedict R. O'G. Anderson, professor of government and Asian studies, Cornell University: State and society in the making of modern Indonesia.

Douglas E. Ashford, professor of government, Cornell University: The political development of the European welfare state.

Jack Dennis, professor of political science, University of Wisconsin at Madison: A study of partisanship.

Morris P. Fiorina, professor of political science, California Institute of Technology: Studies in the politics of regulatory origin.

Michael Harrington, professor of political science, Queens College and Graduate Center of the City University of New York: The political and social consequences of religious belief and disbelief.

James S. Fleming has been awarded the Thomas Jefferson Award at Rochester Institute of Technology.