

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF PSYCHIATRISTS

Handbook for Inceptors and Trainees in Psychiatry

Edited by

Thomas Bewley (Dean) and Sasi Mahapatra (Sub-Dean)

The second edition (1980) of the Handbook has been designed to bring together in one place essential and useful information for trainees in psychiatry. It is hoped that psychiatric tutors will ensure that all trainees possess a copy. It also provides information of interest to senior medical students and other doctors thinking of a career in psychiatry.

This enlarged, second edition has new sections on training for examinations, clinical responsibility and journals and is half as long again as the first edition.

Contents

Information about inceptorship / careers in psychiatry / part-time training, re-training and retainer schemes / report of the working party on women in psychiatry / useful hints on job hunting / The Royal Medico-Psychological Association; The Royal College of Psychiatrists (foundations and objects, Honorary Officers, Council, Court of Electors, Standing Committees, Collegiate Trainees Committee, Specialist Sections and Group, Regional Divisions) / requirements of general professional training and higher psychiatric training (JCHPT) / College medals and prizes, GMC regulations / the Approval exercise / the role of the psychiatric tutor / the Membership Examination and the Preliminary Test / case presentation at examinations, regulations for the M.R.C.Psych. examination / diagnostic formulation / MCQ and sample membership examination papers / problems of language in examinations / in service training and clinical responsibility; presentation of papers at meetings / psychiatric textbooks and special publications.

Price £2.00 (including postage) Pp 99

Please order from Headley Brothers Ltd, Ashford, Kent TN24 8HH, England

Printed in Great Britain by Headley Brothers Ltd The Invicta Press Ashford Kent and London