Freedom from skin burns, and simplicity of operation are the main features of the new Ediswan Shock Therapy Machine, Model R.1135.

The machine is light weight, self-contained, mains operated and highly reliable. Special electrodes with a push-button switch mounted in the handle of one of them enable the operator personally to have complete control of the electrode position and pressure during a shock and to administer the shock without removing his hands from the electrodes.

The unit is electronically controlled for shock duration from 0.1 second to 1 second; all shocks being instantly repeatable if desired

No skin burns with this NEW

without moving the hands from the electrodes. Output voltage control is variable from 70 volts to 170 volts, and is independent of mains voltage variations as a visual indicator is supplied on the equipment so that the primary circuit can be adjusted to compensate for difference in mains voltage. The equipment is adequately fused for added safety.

RESERPINE

'SERPILOID' BRAND

Is now available in ampoules, and in tablets of high strengths more suited to administration of the high doses required in the treatment of mental illness.

Tablets of 1 mg. in bottles of 100 and 1,000, tablets of 3 mg. and 5 mg. in bottles of 100, ampoules of 5 mg. in boxes of 6 and 50.

Reserpine—'Serpiloid' brand is also available in 0.25 mg. and 0.5 mg. tablets in bottles of 100 and 1,000 for those clinicians who prefer a single alkaloid for use in hypertension.

Reserpine, an alkaloid of Rauwolfia serpentina, possesses a remarkable calming and relaxing action, and is capable of wide application in mental illness. Its use is rapidly increasing, and if early reports are confirmed, Reserpine will stand as a very real advance in psychotherapeutics.

"The drug (reserpine) provides a far more rational approach to the treatment of the chronically and acutely disturbed patient than any other method we have used to date."

J. Amer. med. Ass. (1954) 156:821

SIDE-EFFECTS

The use of Reserpine in psychiatry is still in the experimental stage, and although no serious side effects have so far been reported, the following conditions may be produced in some patients:

1. Nasal congestion.
2. Weakness and giddiness.
3. A degree of hypotension with bradycardia.
4. A Parkinson-like syndrome following the administration of high doses.

These symptoms will probably disappear in 5/8 days without the need for discontinuing treatment. They will regress if dosage is reduced.

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Strict observation of the following requirements will save intending authors considerable time and worry, and will facilitate the publication of papers submitted.

(1) Authors should consult a current issue to see how a paper should be presented. They should consult General Notes on the Preparation of Scientific Papers, published for the Royal Society by the Cambridge University Press, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W.1 (price 2s. 9d. post free).

(2) The title should be brief and contain no sub-heading. This should be followed by the author's name, his qualifications and his present appointment.

(3) Omit a summary of the literature when this has been adequately summarized elsewhere.

(4) For reasons of economy, case-histories of patients can be published only when they are of exceptional scientific interest.

(5) Diagrams and graphs must be drawn in black ink with properly printed lettering. If they have to be redrawn by the printer, the cost, which may amount to several pounds, will be charged to the author.

(6) Tables and graphs should be kept as few as possible. If they number more than a few, the author must be prepared to pay part of their cost.

(7) Any deviation or difference that might be due to random sampling must, if it is to be discussed in its general, scientific significance, be first shown, by calculation of the appropriate probability, to be significant statistically.

(8) All references should be given at the end of the paper, in alphabetical order, and in the following form:

SMITH, A. B., J. Ment. Sci., 1950, 95, 493.

In the body of the paper they should appear as: Smith (1950).

(9) When the proof arrives from the printer it is for the correction of printer's mistakes only. Larger alterations can be made only with the Editor's permission and if the author is willing to defray the cost.

(10) The author will receive 10 reprints of his paper free of charge. If further reprints are required the order should be sent direct to Messrs. Headley Brothers, Ltd., The Invicta Press, Ashford, Kent.

(11) A paper sent to the Editor-in-Chief is, as a rule, sent to one of the panel of Referees set out on the cover of the Journal for his opinion. Papers are as a rule not rejected until a second or further opinion has been received.
