Industrial and Organizational Psychology
Perspectives on Science and Practice

The novel format of the journal focuses on an interactive exchanges on topics of importance to science and practice in the field of industrial and organizational psychology. The journal takes a focal article–peer commentary format.

A focal article is a position paper on an important issue for the field (or potentially a pair of papers taking opposite sides in a debate). Such a focal article might summarize evidence on an issue and take a position as to implications for science, practice, or public policy. The paper might focus on a basic science issue, an applied science issue, a practice issue, or a public policy issue; many would be a blend. The focal article is then followed by a series of peer commentaries. These could challenge or critique the original article, expand on issues not addressed in the focal article, or draw out implications not developed in the focal article. The goal is to include commentaries from various perspectives, including science, practice, and international perspectives.

CONTENTS

Foreword 1

Introduction 2
- Statement of Purpose 2
  - Principles as guidance 3
- Selection Procedures Defined 4

Overview of the Validation Process 5
- Sources of Evidence 7
  - Evidence based on the relationship between scores on predictors and other variables 7
  - Content-related evidence 7
  - Evidence based on the internal structure of the test 7
  - Evidence based on response processes 8
  - Evidence for validity and consequences of personnel decisions 8
- Planning the Validation Effort 9
  - Existing evidence 10
  - Proposed uses 10
  - Requirements of sound inference 11
  - Feasibility 11
- Analysis of Work 11
  - Purposes for conducting an analysis of work 12
  - Level of detail 12

Sources of Validity Evidence 14
- Evidence of Validity Based on Relationships with Measures of Other Variables 14
- Criterion-Related Evidence of Validity 14
  - Feasibility of a criterion-related validation study 15
  - Design and conduct of criterion-related studies 16
  - Criterion development 17
  - Choice of predictor 20
  - Choice of participants 22
  - Data analysis for criterion-related validity 23
- Evidence for Validity Based on Content 26
  - Feasibility of a content-based validation study 27
  - Design and conduct of content-based strategies 28
  - Defining the content domain 28
  - Developing or choosing the selection procedure 30
  - Procedural considerations 31
  - Evaluating content-related evidence 32
- Evidence of Validity Based on Internal Structure 32

Generalizing Validity Evidence 33
- Transportability 33
- Synthetic Validity/Job Component Validity 34
- Meta-Analysis 34

Fairness and Bias 38
