

THE QUARTERLY INDEX ISLAMICUS

Current books, articles and papers on
Islamic studies

EDITED BY J. D. PEARSON

As from 1977, Index Islamicus will appear four times a year in January, April, July and November under the title of The Quarterly Index Islamicus to replace the former annual paperback compilations. There will also be several important changes in content and arrangement: books will be indexed for the first time; there will be additional emphasis on the social sciences; and the classification scheme will be amended as described below.

The arrangement will be by region, country and language to cover the whole of Islam, including those areas for the periods during which they formed part of the Muslim world. There will be a section for Islam in general divided by subject, while all countries will be similarly divided when the number of titles listed justifies it. The following represents the list of broad subject headings used:

General (History of studies, Bibliography, Libraries)	Epigraphy
Religion, Theology	Numismatics
Law	Papyrology
Philosophy, History of Science	Heraldry, Genealogy
Music, Theatre, Broadcasting	History
Useful arts (Manual crafts, Sports and pastimes, Cookery, Archery, Horsemanship, Falconry, Military art and science)	Social sciences (general)
Geography, Travel	Sociology, Anthropology
Archaeology	Psychology
Palaeography, Diplomatic, Archives	Economics
	Political Science
	Education
	Language
	Literature
	Art

Each issue will contain some 750 entries, although the first issue will be far larger since it will contain as much material collected up to the end of October 1976 as possible. Books and articles will appear in separate sequence within each region and subject heading. The fourth issue of each year will contain an author index.

The appropriate issues of the quarterly will be cumulated in a quinquennial supplement, Index Islamicus, Fifth Supplement, 1976-1980, where the entries will be classified in a manner similar to previous supplements in this series.

Annual subscription: U.K. £9.50; U.S. $19.00; Elsewhere £9.50
