The Iliad: A Commentary

Volume II Books 5–8

G. S. KIRK

This is the second volume in the major six-volume commentary on The Iliad now being prepared under the general editorship of Professor Kirk. As before, the volume consists of four introductory essays followed by the commentary itself. The Greek text is not included.

The Noose of Words

Readings of Desire, Violence and Language in Euripides' Hippolytos

BARBARA GOFF

This book is a new reading of Euripides' Hippolytos, a central play for the study of Euripides and of Greek tragedy. Dr Goff approaches the play through the techniques of modern literary criticism, including deconstruction and feminism, and is able to bring new light to this influential text through her analysis of the language of the play.

Athletes and Oracles

The Transformation of Olympia and Delphi in the Eighth Century BC

CATHERINE MORGAN

A study of the origins and development of cult practice at Olympia and Delphi which challenges many assumptions about the nature and role of the archaeological data. Dr Morgan considers the economics of dedication, technology, and the organisation of craft production, as well as the sites in their contemporary local contexts. She concludes with the first detailed study of the wider roles of Olympia and Delphi as major sanctuaries in Archaic Greece.

Alien Wisdom

The Limits of Hellenization

ARNALDO MOMIGLIANO

Professor Momigliano looks at the attitude of the Greeks to four different civilizations – the Roman, Celtic, Jewish and Persian – and analyses their cultural and intellectual interactions from the fourth to the first centuries BC.

'... few men have the energy and mental power to travel on as many different intellectual passports as Professor Momigliano.'

Athenian Officials 684–321 BC

ROBERT DEVELIN

This work provides a basic reference, of a kind that has been lacking up to now, for the study of Athenian magistracies and official life, and should be a fundamental tool for future research.

Famine and Food Supply in the Graeco-Roman World

Responses to Risk and Crisis

PETER GARNSEY

This, the first full-length study of famine in antiquity, examines the systems of food supply and their breakdown in the ancient Mediterranean (c. 600 BC–AD 500).

'Garnsey presents extremely complex, and interrelated, issues and problems, and advances hypotheses, with exemplary clarity, coolness, and good sense.'

The Cambridge History of Judaism

Volume 2: The Hellenistic Age

Edited by W. D. DAVIES and LOUIS FINKELSTEIN

This is the second of four volumes covering the history of Judaism from 540 BCE to 250 CE. It deals with the encounter of Judaism with the Hellenistic culture spread throughout the Mediterranean world and beyond by Alexander the Great and his successors.

A History of Greek Philosophy

Volume VI: Aristotle: An Encounter

W. K. C. GUTHRIE

The completion of Professor Guthrie's six-volume History.

'The earlier volumes of Professor Guthrie's great History of Greek Philosophy won their due acclaim, and the series is now crowned by this massive volume, the record of which the author, with characteristic dry wit, calls an "Encounter"

The Shade of Homer

A Study in Modern Greek Poetry

DAVID RICKS

In exploring the significance of Homer for the poetry of modern Greece, Dr Ricks is tackling a theme that has implications for the study of poetic influence in general, giving this work a larger significance of which the author never loses sight. All Greek is translated and the reader need not be a Greek specialist to find this study absorbing and instructive.

Aeschylus, Eumenides

Edited by ALAN H. SOMMERSTEIN

Professor Sommerstein presents a freshly constituted text, with introduction and commentary, of the final play in the Oresteia, showing how Aeschylus shaped to his purpose the legends he inherited, ending the tragic story in a celebration of Athenian civic unity and justice.

KOMMOS

An Excavation on the South Coast of Crete
Joseph W. and Maria C. Shaw, Editors

Volume II: The Final Neolithic through Middle Minoan III Pottery

Philip P. Betancourt

This book is the first to be published in a series of volumes that will bring the expertise of archaeologists and other scholars to bear on the interpretation of the Minoan and Greek site at Kommos. A seaside town, Kommos provides rich information on domestic architecture, the daily life and economy of a coastal people, and ceramic sequences, which, thanks to the long and undisturbed stratigraphy, are already playing a fundamental role in defining ceramic chronology here and elsewhere in Crete.

NEAR EASTERN ROYALTY
AND ROME, 100 - 30 BC

RICHARD D. SULLIVAN

Sullivan offers a guide to the central role of royalty during this period. He provides, through narrative and citations, a context for the frequent references to Eastern kings and queens by Caesar, Cicero, Strabo, Josephus, Tacitus, Appian, Dio, and others. He also discusses related inscriptions, coins, and papyri.
