NEW FROM

Research Handbook in International Economic Law

Edited by Andrew T. Guzman, University of California, Berkeley and Alan O. Sykes, Stanford University, US

'Undertaking a Research Handbook in International Economic Law is an enormous challenge, and I believe the scholars mobilized for this project have fully met that challenge. The selection of topics is comprehensive, the footnotes and bibliographies are careful and copious, and the writing is lucid, understandable by beginners as well as experts. As I go about revising my own treatise on international economic law, the Handbook will be my constant guide.'

– Andreas F. Lowenfeld, New York University School of Law, US

'This book is an absolute gem. It takes the term international economic law seriously. Unlike any other book that I know of, this Handbook transcends the traditional, narrow focus on public trade law to include private commercial law, investment, competition, tax, IP, finance and international environmental law. In 14 comprehensive chapters, the law, policy and economics of 14 different issue areas are covered. Written by absolute leaders in their field, the Handbook offers an entry point for newcomers in each of those subject matters, yet does so at a level of sophistication, insight and comprehensiveness that should equally delight and enrich specialists.'

– Joost Pauwelyn, Duke University School of Law, US

This major new work consists of carefully commissioned original and incisive contributions from leading scholars in the field of international economic law. Covering a full range of topics, the Handbook provides an accessible treatment of the law in each area, as well as a thoughtful synthesis and discussion of related public policy issues from a broadly social science perspective.

International Law and Armed Conflict: Exploring the Faultlines

Essays in Honour of Yoram Dinstein

Edited by Michael Schmitt and Jelena Pejic

- June 2007
- ISBN 978 9004154 28 5
- International Humanitarian Law Series, 15
- Hardback (600 pp.)
- List price EUR 155.- / US$ 209.-

The intent of this collection of essays in honor of Professor Yoram Dinstein on the occasion of his 70th birthday is to explore fault lines, first by identifying them and then by assessing their consequences. In a sense, then, the essays, contributed by the top minds in the field, will serve to assist academics and practitioners to anticipate pressure on the law governing armed conflict and, to the extent possible, react accordingly. Paralleling Professor Dinstein's classic works – War Aggression, and Self Defense and The Conduct of Hostilities Under the Law of International Armed Conflict – the book addresses both jus ad bellum and jus in bello topics.

Human Rights and Policing

Second Revised Edition

Ralph Crawshaw, Stuart Cullen and Tom Williamson

- December 2006
- ISBN 978 9004154 37 7
- The Raoul Wallenberg Institute Professional Guides to Human Rights, 5
- Paperback (xx, 516 pp.)
- List price EUR 145.- / US$ 196.-

This is a second, thoroughly revised and expanded edition of a book that has four clear objectives: to provide a concise account and analysis of international human rights and humanitarian law standards relevant to policing; to set out arguments for compliance with those standards; to show how they may be met in two key areas of policing, interviewing suspects of crime, and policing in times of armed conflict, disturbance and tension; and to make practical recommendations on the management of police agencies.

The Anatomy of Torture: A Documentary History of Filartiga V. Pena-Irala

William J. Aceves

- April 2007
- ISBN 978 15 7105352 7
- Hardback (425 pp.)
- List price EUR 125.- / US$ 125.-

In recent years, victims of human rights abuses have filed civil lawsuits in U.S. courts to seek redress for their injuries. This litigation provides a voice to victims of human rights abuses and a court to hear their claims. More broadly, it seeks to promote accountability for violations of international law. This book tells the story of Filartiga v. Pena-Irala, one of the most significant examples of human rights litigation in the United States. It presents Filartiga as a documentary history – an approach to legal scholarship that has become increasingly popular in recent years.

Essays on International Litigation et al.

Shabtai Rosenne

- April 2007
- ISBN 978 9004155 36 7
- Hardback (640 pp.)
- List price EUR 149.- / US$ 201.-

This volume collects papers written by Shabtai Rosenne in the course of his distinguished career on various topics, primarily in the areas in which he is best known for his expertise: international litigation and courts, the law of treaties, the law of the sea and state responsibility. The collection is accompanied by a table of cases, a table of treaties and an index for easy reference.

La jurisprudence de l'OMC/ The Case-Law of the WTO

1999-I

Edited by Brigitte Stern and H el ene Ruiz Fabri

- March 2007
- ISBN 978 9004154 00 1
- Hardback (600 pp.)
- List price EUR 229.- / US$ 309.-
- La jurisprudence de l'OMC / The Case-Law of the WTO, 4

This bilingual volume is only the fourth volume in a series, which has the ambition to present the "jurisprudence" of this new mechanism, in a simple, coherent and systematic fashion. It is the result of intense cooperation between the two editors, and it is hoped to become a major reference work for all interested in the jurisprudence of the WTO and more generally in the regulation of economic relations with respect to international trade and all its multiple implications on the daily life of everyone.

Time, History and International Law

Edited by Matthew Craven, Malgosia Fitzmaurice and Maria Vogiatzi

- October 2006
- ISBN 978 9004154 81 0
- Hardback (viii, 256 pp.)
- List price EUR 99.- / US$ 134.-
- Developments in International Law, 58

This book examines theoretical and practical issues concerning the relationship between international law, time and history. The essays in this collection make clear that each type of engagement with history and international law interweaves various different types of historical narrative, pointing to the typically multi-layered nature of international lawyers' engagement with the past and its importance in shaping the present and future of international law.

Does God Believe in Human Rights? Essays on Religion and Human Rights

Edited by Nazila Ghanea, Alan Stephens and Raphael Walden

- February 2007
- ISBN 978 9004152 54 0
- Hardback (xxii, 274 pp.)
- List price EUR 75.- / US$ 97.-
- Studies in Religion, Secular Beliefs and Human Rights, 5

Where can religions find sources of legitimacy for human rights? How do, and how should, religious leaders and communities respond to human rights as defined in modern International Law? In this volume, academics and lawyers tackle these and other difficult questions head-on, with candour and creativity, and the collection is rendered unique by the further contributions of a remarkable range of other professionals, including senior religious leaders and representatives, journalists, diplomats and civil servants, both national and international. Most notably, the contributors do not shy away from the boldest question of all - summed up in the book's title.

The Failure to Prevent Genocide in Rwanda The Role of Bystanders

Fred Grünfeld and Anke Huijboom

- April 2007
- ISBN 978 9004157 81 1
- Hardback (250 pp.)
- List price EUR 75.- / US$ 75.-
- International and Comparative Criminal Law Series, 23

This volume is about the failure to prevent genocide in Rwanda in 1994. In particular, the research focuses on why the early warnings of an emerging genocide were not translated into early preventative action. This book makes clear that this genocide could have been prevented.

Reflections on the Law of War Collected Essays

Frits Kalshoven

- April 2007
- ISBN 978 9004158 25 2
- Hardback (1100 pp.)
- List price EUR 300.- / US$ 420.-
- International Humanitarian Law Series, 17

The papers collected in this volume span a 35-year period of active involvement in the 'reaffirmation and development of international humanitarian law'. Throughout the period, the author's activities ranged from participation in lawmaking and law interpreting exercises, through attempts at explaining the law of armed conflict in its historical context and making propaganda for its faithful implementation, to critical or even bewildered observance of actual events. The papers brought together here reflect these diverse angles.

The Institutional Veil in Public International Law International Organisations and the Law of Treaties

Catherine Brölmann

This book deals with the nature of international organisations and the tension between their legal nature and the system of classic, state-based international law. This tension is important in theory and practice, particularly when organisations are brought under the rule of international law and thus have to be designated as legal subjects. The position is complicated by what the author terms 'the institutional veil', comparable to the corporate veil found in corporate law. The book focuses on the law of treaties, as this pre-eminently 'horizontal' branch of international law brings out the problem particularly clearly. This book will be an important source of reference for anyone interested in the future role of organisations in the international legal system.

Security and Human Rights

Edited by Ben Gould and Liora Lazarus

In the wake of the events of September 11th 2001, the task of balancing issues of security with a respect for fundamental human rights has emerged as one of the key challenges facing governments throughout the world. Although the issues raised by the rise of security have been the subject of considerable academic interest, to date much of the debate surrounding the impact of security on human rights has taken place within particular disciplinary confines. In contrast, this collection of essays from leading academics and practitioners in the fields of criminal justice, public law, international law, international relations and legal philosophy offers a genuinely multidisciplinary perspective on the relationship between security and human rights.

Transnational Law and Local Struggles

Mining, Communities and the World Bank

David Szablowski

The global spread of transnational mining investment, which has been taking place since the 1990s, has led to volatile conflicts with local communities. This book examines the regulation of these conflicts through national, transnational and local legal processes. It examines how legal authority is being redistributed among public and private actors, as a result of globalizing forces. In doing so, it examines how legal authority is being redistributed among public and private actors, as well as national and transnational actors, as a result of globalizing forces.

Globalisation and Labour Rights

The Conflict Between Core Labour Rights and International Economic Law

Christine Kaufmann

In a world of work that has changed dramatically over the last few years, states see themselves confronted with new actors and conflicting international legal obligations. This book examines the tensions between core labour rights as defined by the International Labour Organisation, and the interests of international economic institutions (e.g. WTO, IMF, World Bank, OECD).
